When School Bonds Become Binding: The act of delivery is essential to the very existence of public bonds as obligations binding on their issuers. Therefore, school bonds become binding upon taxpayers on the date the bonds are delivered, not on the date of issuance. 45 A.G. Op. 8 (1993).

Transfer of School District Property to Another District — Distribution of Flat Tax Proceeds: In 1989, the method of taxing coal gross proceeds with a property tax was replaced with a flat tax of 5% on production. The final clause of 15-23-703(4)(b) (1991) directs that the flat tax be distributed in accord with the property tax distribution scheme of 1990. The Decker school district was transferred from Lodge Grass to Hardin in 1991. Thus, under the 1990 property tax scheme, Hardin would have been entitled to property tax revenue from the Decker district after that territory was transferred to Hardin. When read in conjunction with this section, 15-23-703(4)(b) (1991) entitled Hardin to distribution of the Decker district coal tax revenue under the flat tax distribution scheme. Abandoned Elementary School District Not Allowed to Petition to Reopen School: An elementary school district that has not operated a school for 3 consecutive school years is considered permanently abandoned pursuant to 20-6-209, and the abandoned district may not petition to reopen a school in the district pursuant to this section. However, 20-6-209 also requires the County Superintendent to attach the territory of the abandoned district to another district, and nothing in that section precludes the revised district from petitioning to reopen a school. 49 A.G. Attendance Unit on Hutterite Colony Premises — Establishment — Closure — Finance: A school district board of trustees may establish a separate attendance unit on the premises of a Hutterite colony located in the district. Closure of an attendance unit on the premises of a Hutterite colony is a matter within the discretion of the board of trustees of the school district involved, and the trustees have no authority to make an agreement to the contrary. The colony may effectively close an attendance unit by failing to renew the lease agreement if no similar space is available for its continued operation. Operational costs of an attendance unit must be budgeted and financed in the manner provided by law. Any agreement between the school district and the colony for private financing would be unenforceable. 38 A.G. Op. 26 (1979).

20-6-509. School closure.

Case Notes

Dissemination of Incomplete Document Used to Make Decision — Right to Participate Entails Complying With Right to Know: A school district assembled a group of people to research and advise the district on the closure of schools, and a member of the group summarized the closure research information on a computer-generated spreadsheet and delivered various versions of the spreadsheet to various people and groups. The version given the school district contained a system rating the schools and explaining the rating system, but the group of parents that plaintiff belonged to was given a version not containing the rating system when a member of the group requested a copy. The school district told the group that a spreadsheet comparing the schools did not exist. The spreadsheet was a document of a public body subject to public inspection prior to the time that the school district's board met and used the spreadsheet to help determine which schools to close. The school district violated plaintiff's right to examine public documents. At a minimum, the "reasonable opportunity" standard articulated in Art. II, sec. 8, Mont. Const., and 2-3-111 for the right to participate demands compliance with the right to know contained in Art. II, sec. 9, Mont. Const. When the school district violated plaintiff's right to know, it reduced what should have been a genuine interchange into a mere formality. Bryan could and did voice her opinion to the school district, but did so without the ratings information contained on the version of the spreadsheet used by the school district. Therefore, the school district also violated her Art. II, sec. 8, Mont. Const., right of participation. The Supreme Court stated that this violation tainted the entire process from start to finish and ruled that the school district's closure decision was void. The court stated that on remand, the school district should allow plaintiff an opportunity to rebut the closure decision and should then reexamine the decision and affirm or modify it. Bryan v. Yellowstone County Elementary School District No. 2, 2002 MT 264, 312 M 257, 60 P3d 381 (2002).

School District Advisory Group as Public or Governmental Body: A school district assembled a group of people to research and advise the district on the closure of schools. The Legislature has given a school district the power to close schools. Therefore, the advisory group assumed the identity of the district with respect to the closure question and performed a legislatively designated governmental function that served a clear public and governmental purpose, and the advisory group was a public or governmental body subject to Art. II, sec. 9, Mont. Const. Bryan v. Yellowstone County Elementary School District No. 2, 2002 MT 264, 312 M 257, 60 P3d 381 (2002).

Standing of Parent When Information on Proposed School Closure Requested by Another: School district parents, including Bryan, worked in concert to rebut a school closure recommendation, delegating duties among themselves. Schroeder, but not Bryan, requested information from the school authorities, which was not received. Bryan sued as a result of the school closure. That Bryan did not personally request the information did not prevent her from having standing to claim a violation of Art. II, sec. 9, Mont. Const. Bryan v. Yellowstone County Elementary School District No. 2, 2002 MT 264, 312 M 257, 60 P3d 381 (2002), distinguished in Fleenor v. Darby School District, 2006 MT 31, 331 M 124, 128 P3d 1048 (2006). Fleenor was overruled in Schoof v. Nesbit, 2014 MT 6, 373 Mont. 226, 316 P.3d 831, to the extent Fleenor requires a plaintiff in a right to know or right to participate case to allege an injury beyond failure to receive notice or to allege a personal stake in a particular governmental decision for purposes of establishing standing to pursue a claim.

Mandamus Not Applicable: The matter of maintaining or closing of any particular school or schools, being addressed to the discretion of the board, cannot be controlled by mandamus. State ex rel. Robinson v. Desonia, 67 M 201, 215 P 220 (1923).

Authority of Board of Trustees to Proceed With School Construction Without Voter Approval — Use of Insurance Proceeds — Contiguous Property: A citizens' group contended that a school district Board of Trustees lacked the authority to construct a new middle school without first getting approval from the voters for the purchase of the property. The District Court correctly found that the Board had authority to proceed with construction: (1) without an election if the cost could be financed without exceeding the maximum-general-fund-budget-without-a-vote amount, as set out in this section; (2) using insurance proceeds to credit the district building fund under 20-9-508; and (3) without a site approval election if the property was contiguous to an existing site that was in use for school purposes under 20-6-621. School District Not Considered Person Engaged in Business Subject to Liability Under Montana Unfair Trade Practices Act: The Great Falls school district entered exclusive agreements with Coke and Pepsi to provide soft drinks in school facilities in exchange for $500,000 over a 10-year period. Plaintiff, which had supplied soft drinks to the district for almost 20 years, sued the school district for violation of the Montana Unfair Trade Practices and Consumer Protection Act of 1973. The school district contended that it was not subject to suit under the Act because by definition, it was not a person engaged in business, and the Supreme Court agreed. The plain meaning of person in 30-14-202 does not include a school district. To conclude otherwise would infringe on a school district's statutory power to raise revenue for funding education. A school district is also not a business as defined in the Act because a business is a person, which does not include a school district. Further, in accordance with the purpose set out in 30-14-201, the Act was created to apply to competitive businesses, not government, which generally acts as a market regulator and not a competitor. Case Notes

Repealed Statute Regarding Sale or Lease of School Trust Lands to School Districts — No Justiciable Controversy or Action Upon Which Relief Could Be Granted: Former subsection (4)

of this section allowed the Board of Land Commissioners to sell, for appraised value, or to lease, for $1 a year, school trust lands to a school district. The Department of Natural Resources and Conservation stipulated that the provision was unconstitutional because it made state lands available for less than full market value. The District Court agreed, noting that leasing school trust lands to some school districts would favor only some of the beneficiaries and not the school trust as a whole. The Legislature concurred and repealed the subsection in 1999. Plaintiff subsequently sued the Department, the Board, and the state, contending that the Department unlawfully determined that the provision was unconstitutional and failed to defend the constitutionality of the provision. The state moved to dismiss the complaint on grounds that no justiciable controversy existed and that the complaint alleged no cause of action upon which relief could be granted. The District Court granted summary judgment for the state, and on appeal, the Supreme Court affirmed. Any determination that the Department exceeded its authority would have had no bearing on the existing rights or interests at issue, and a judgment granting the relief sought would not have effectively operated to resolve any issue in the case. Thus, there was no justiciable case or controversy, and the claim was properly dismissed. Advocates for Educ., Inc. v. Dept. of Natural Resources and Conservation, 2004 MT 230, 322 M 429, 97 P3d 553 (2004), following Mont.-Dak. Util. Co. v. Billings, 2003 MT 332, 318 M 862, 80 P3d 1247 (2003).

Authority of Board of Trustees to Proceed With School Construction Without Voter Approval — Use of Insurance Proceeds — Contiguous Property: A citizens' group contended that a school district Board of Trustees lacked the authority to construct a new middle school without first getting approval from the voters for the purchase of the property. The District Court correctly found that the Board had authority to proceed with construction: (1) without an election if the cost could be financed without exceeding the maximum-general-fund-budget-without-a-vote amount, as set out in 20-6-603; (2) using insurance proceeds to credit the district building fund under 20-9-508; and (3) without a site approval election if the property was contiguous to an existing site that was in use for school purposes under this section. The Awareness Group v. Bd. of Trustees, 243 M 469, 795 P2d 447, 47 St. Rep. 1333 (1990).

Contiguity of Land Separated by Public Road: The Supreme Court held that a site approval election was unnecessary for the purchase of a tract of land that would border a present school site for 800 feet but for a county road running between the parcels. The parcels were found to be contiguous within the meaning of this section. The fact that each parcel would be owned by a different school district did not necessitate an election because the purchase met the intent of this section by promoting the building of schools within the same general area of a city, thereby easing transportation and administration procedures. The Awareness Group v. Bd. of Trustees, 243 M 469, 795 P2d 447, 47 St. Rep. 1333 (1990).

School District Power Regarding Property — Applicability to Community College Trustees: The authority to lease and/or lease/purchase property for school purposes and to sell unused school property granted by 20-6-603, 20-6-604, 20-6-609, and 20-6-625 is extended to a community college board of trustees under 20-15-102. 41 A.G. Op. 72 (1986).

Attendance Unit on Hutterite Colony Premises — Establishment — Closure — Finance: A school district board of trustees may establish a separate attendance unit on the premises of a Hutterite colony located in the district. Closure of an attendance unit on the premises of a Hutterite colony is a matter within the discretion of the board of trustees of the school district involved, and the trustees have no authority to make an agreement to the contrary. The colony may effectively close an attendance unit by failing to renew the lease agreement if no similar space is available for its continued operation. Operational costs of an attendance unit must be budgeted and financed in the manner provided by law. Any agreement between the school district and the colony for private financing would be unenforceable. 38 A.G. Op. 26 (1979).

Short-Term Lease — Voter Approval Unnecessary: School district trustees may lease, for a term of 3 years or less, a mobile building to be used as a school and may relocate it on land already owned by the district without voter approval. 37 A.G. Op. 97 (1977).

Case Notes

Sufficiency of Single Petition to Transfer Territory From One K-12 District to Another K-12 District: Residents of Upper Nine Mile Valley petitioned the Missoula County School Superintendent to be transferred from Alberton K-12 district to Frenchtown K-12 district. The superintendent determined that the petition was valid and scheduled a hearing, but prior to the hearing, the Alberton Board of Trustees requested that the hearing be canceled because two separate petitions were not filed—one for elementary students and one for high school students. The superintendent denied the request, and on appeal to District Court, summary judgment was granted in favor of the superintendent. The Alberton Board of Trustees then appealed to the Supreme Court, asserting that two petitions were required under either 20-6-213 or 20-6-320 (both now repealed) in order to transfer both elementary and high school territories from one K-12 district to another K-12 district. Conversely, the superintendent maintained that because the request was for the transfer of combined elementary and high school territory from one K-12 district, as defined in this section, to another, only one petition was necessary. In order to give meaning to all the applicable statutes, the Supreme Court concluded that a K-12 school district is a high school district upon which an elementary district has been attached and remains a high school district for purposes of the governing statutes. Therefore, 20-6-320 (now repealed) applied to the petition in question because it concerned transfer of territory from one high school district to another. The question then became not whether a formal, second petition was required to address the elementary district, but whether under 20-6-320(8) (now repealed) the petition in question was "accompanied" by an elementary "petition" that satisfied the corollary requirements of 20-6-213 (now repealed). The Alberton trustees argued that a distinct, second elementary petition, also signed by a majority of registered electors, was required or else the entire transfer process was invalid. The Supreme Court refused to abide by such a strict, formalistic approach, noting that the law respects form less than substance. The petition clearly identified that the territory was K-12, meaning that any attached elementary territory would also be transferred, thus the petition to transfer high school territory was unquestionably "accompanied" by a petition to transfer elementary territory as well, and it was not fatal that both petitions appeared on a single sheet of paper. The court held that it would be unreasonable and far too formalistic to require that two separate petitions be submitted when one petition, clearly identifying the intent to transfer both high school and elementary territory, served the same function. The District Court was affirmed. McKirdy v. Vielleux, 2000 MT 264, 302 M 18, 19 P3d 207, 57 St. Rep. 1101 (2000).

Case Notes

Failure of Legislature to Define Quality Education — Inability of Court to Determine That Education System Adequately Funded: The District Court held that the state system of funding public education was unconstitutional under Art. X, sec. 1(3), Mont. Const., but did not violate the equal protection clause in Art. II, sec. 4, Mont. Const. On appeal, the Supreme Court held that because the Legislature has not defined what "quality" means, it was not possible to conclude that the current funding system was designed to provide a quality education. Although deferring to the Legislature to provide a definition of a quality education, given the unchallenged findings of the District Court regarding Art. X, sec. 1(3), Mont. Const., the Supreme Court nevertheless concluded that whatever definition the Legislature devises, the current system was not sufficiently grounded in principles of quality to be considered constitutional. Because the unconstitutionality of the present funding system was affirmed, the Supreme Court held that the District Court need not have addressed the equal protection issue, so the District Court was directed to vacate its conclusion that the present system did not violate equal protection.

Columbia Falls Elementary School District No. 6 v. St., 2005 MT 69, 326 M 304, 109 P3d 257 (2005). In Stroebe v. St., 2006 MT 19, 331 M 23, 127 P3d 1051 (2006), plaintiffs also challenged the constitutionality of Montana's system of funding public schools. The District Court granted the state's motion for summary dismissal on grounds that the equitable funding challenge was not currently justiciable. On appeal, the Supreme Court noted that plaintiffs' issues had been previously addressed in Columbia Falls, id., and that the circumstances under which plaintiffs brought the present case had sufficiently changed under Columbia Falls, so that rendering another decision while the funding system was undergoing legislative reform would not only interfere with the Columbia Falls decision but would decide a question that was essentially moot. The equitable funding challenge was therefore not currently justiciable, and the appeal was dismissed.

Compiler's Comments

Statement of Intent: The statement of intent attached to SB 149 (Ch. 94, L. 1983) provided: "A statement of intent is required for this bill because it delegates rulemaking authority to the Board of Public Education to adopt rules for issuance of documents certifying equivalency of completion of secondary education.

While the Board has clearly delineated rulemaking authority to adopt standards of accreditation and establish the accreditation status of every school, its rulemaking authority has only been implied in the area of setting standards for documents which state that an eligible applicant has satisfied requirements for equivalency of completion of secondary education.

At the recommendation of the Administrative Code Committee [now Administrative Rule Review Committee], the Board requested legislation specifically providing the Board with the authority to adopt policies for the issuance of high school equivalency certificates and to direct the Superintendent of Public Instruction to issue those certificates.

The bill gives the Board the express rulemaking authority to adopt rules in the area of high school equivalency certificates. It is contemplated that:

(1) the Board's current rules in this area will be amended to show proper authority and implementation;

(2) the Board may adopt rules required for other types of programs of similar nature."

WHEREAS, courts have also ruled that a student who refuses to participate in the pledge of allegiance cannot be compelled to take any particular action, such as standing, remaining seated, or leaving the room during group recitation of the pledge; and

WHEREAS, in an effort to educate students in the American values of patriotism and love of country and to pass on the feelings of civic pride and commitment to America, the Board of Public Education, as one small step in increasing Montana students' awareness of their heritage as Americans, enacted a policy on January 26, 1989, recommending that teachers in every public school classroom begin the day with recitation of the pledge of allegiance while allowing an excuse from participation for any student or teacher who objects for any reason; and

WHEREAS, in 1980 the United States Supreme Court let stand the decision in Palmer v. Board of Education of City of Chicago, 603 F.2d 1271 (7th Cir. 1979), certiorari denied, 444 U.S. 1026 (1980), which held that while a teacher may not be required to participate in the pledge of allegiance, the teacher, despite any personal convictions, may be required to teach subjects related to the flag or other patriotic matters in the prescribed curriculum; and

WHEREAS, section 20-4-301, MCA, requires a teacher to provide moral and civic instruction by endeavoring to impress students with the principles of morality, truth, justice, and patriotism; to instruct students in the principles of free government; and to train them to comprehend the rights, responsibilities, and dignity of American citizenship."

Exhaustion of Remedies Under Individuals With Disabilities Act Not Required Upon Claim of Discrimination in Public Education Under Human Rights Act: Amanda Johnson suffered from Campomelic Syndrome and as a result was confined to a wheelchair. Prior to Amanda's enrollment at Great Falls High School, her family brought Amanda's access issues to the attention of the Great Falls School District. There was no elevator in the school, which precluded Amanda's access to second-floor classrooms and science labs. There were numerous other physical barriers as well, such as parking problems, snow-covered sidewalks, cafeteria restrictions, heavy doors, office countertops that were too high, and inaccessibility to restrooms, water fountains, vending machines, and public telephones. The district determined that it could not build an elevator and continue to provide educational services to the rest of the student body; however, the district did prepare individualized education programs for Amanda each year that attempted to accommodate her by scheduling her classes on the first floor, transporting her to another high school for science labs, fitting desks for her and providing special seating, making minor physical adjustments to the building, providing a parking space for her in the faculty lot, attempting to coordinate snow removal with her arrival, and assigning a staff member to help her use the cafeteria. Nevertheless, her family was dissatisfied with the district's efforts and brought an education discrimination claim, alleging that the district illegally discriminated against Amanda by failing to provide an accessible building in violation of Title 49, ch. 2, commonly known as the Montana Human Rights Act (MHRA), and specifically 49-2-307 and 49-2-308. A hearings examiner found that Amanda did have far less access to the school than her classmates, but concluded that the district had provided reasonable access in light of the resources available to meet Amanda's needs. The hearings examiner ordered the district to proactively monitor accommodations provided to students with physical disabilities and to take a number of steps to minimize the likelihood of future violations of the MHRA. The Commission for Human Rights adopted the hearings examiner's findings and conclusions, and the district filed for judicial review, arguing to the District Court that: (1) the Commission lacked jurisdiction to consider the complaint until Amanda exhausted the administrative remedies under the Individuals With Disabilities Education Act (IDEA) through the Office of Public Instruction; and (2) the relief granted exceeded the Commission's statutory authority. The District Court agreed and overruled the Commission's order, and the issues were appealed to the Supreme Court. On the first issue, the Supreme Court found that the gravamen of Amanda's claim was grounded in discrimination under the MHRA, not the right to a free appropriate public education under the IDEA. Disabled students can receive an appropriate education, as attested by Amanda's 3.7 grade point average, and still suffer discrimination when the physical premises of a school deprive them of basic human dignities. When claims involve the simple application of the IDEA exhaustion doctrine in the absence of a parallel state statutory remedy, the logic of the IDEA exhaustion may apply, but when, as here, state human rights laws provide an administrative remedy through the Commission for Human Rights, there is no compelling reason to preclude the MHRA claim by first requiring the IDEA exhaustion. The court found no legal basis for determining that the IDEA was intended to limit applicable state human rights discrimination claims. Thus, Amanda's claim could proceed prior to exhaustion of or without ever invoking the IDEA administrative remedies, and the District Court erred in holding otherwise. On the second issue, the Supreme Court found that the remedy ordered by the Commission—requiring the district to formalize its policy and procedure for addressing the special needs of disabled students—fell within the authority of 49-2-506 and was reasonable in light of the relief requested. The District Court was reversed, and the Commission's order was reinstated. Great Falls Pub. Schools v. Johnson, 2001 MT 95, 305 M 200, 26 P3d 734 (2001), following Harrison v. Freemont County School District No. 1, 911 P2d 1049 (Wyo. 1996).

IDEA Complaint Held Subject to Exhaustion of Administrative Remedies: The Shieldses brought a civil action under 42 U.S.C. 1983 to enforce the rights of their son under the Individuals With Disabilities Education Act (IDEA) after the son was excluded from a ski trip. The Shieldses had previously filed a grievance with the school, appealed the result of the grievance to the Superintendent of the Helena School District, and appealed the Superintendent's decision to the trustees of the school district. The District Court dismissed the section 1983 action, holding that the Shieldses failed to appeal the decision of the trustees to the Superintendent of Public Instruction and thereby failed to exhaust their administrative remedies. The Shieldses argued that the doctrine of exhaustion of administrative remedies should not apply to them because they are seeking damages and because they were excused by futility and due process. The Supreme Court affirmed the dismissal, citing: (1) the exhaustion requirement contained in IDEA, 20 U.S.C. 1415(f); (2) the exhaustion requirement contained in the state rules, ARM 10.16.2417(5) (transferred to 10.16.3523); and (3) the case of Koopman v. Freemont City School District No. 1, 911 P2d 1049 (Wyo. 1996), in which the Wyoming Supreme Court held that the doctrine of exhaustion of administrative remedies applied in a case nearly identical to the case brought by the Shieldses. Shields v. Helena School District No. 1, 284 M 138, 943 P2d 999, 54 St. Rep. 815 (1997).

IDEA Complaint Held Subject to Exhaustion of Administrative Remedies Under Montana Human Rights Act: The Shieldses brought a civil action under 42 U.S.C. 1983 to enforce the rights of their son under the Individuals With Disabilities Education Act (IDEA) after he was excluded from a ski trip. The Shieldses had previously filed a grievance with the school, appealed the result of the grievance to the Superintendent of the Helena School District, and appealed the Superintendent's decision to the trustees of the School District. The District Court dismissed the section 1983 action, holding that the Shieldses failed to first file a complaint with the Human Rights Commission and thereby failed to exhaust their administrative remedies. The Shieldses argued that their case was a state tort action and did not fall within the jurisdiction of the Commission under Title 49, ch. 2, commonly known as the Montana Human Rights Act. Citing Harrison v. Chance, 244 M 215, 797 P2d 200 (1990), the Supreme Court held that because the gravamen of the complaint was discrimination, the complaint fell under the Montana Human Rights Act and that the Shieldses were therefore required to file a written, verified complaint with the Commission. The Supreme Court held that only after exhausting that procedure could they then bring a complaint in District Court. Shields v. Helena School District No. 1, 284 M 138, 943 P2d 999, 54 St. Rep. 815 (1997).

Failure to Follow Procedural Requirements of Individuals With Disabilities Education Act Held Not to Deny Free Appropriate Public Education — Independent Cause of Action for Misdiagnosis and Misplacement Dismissed as Barred by Res Judicata: Brian Parini was diagnosed with a learning disability and was placed in special education pursuant to the requirements of the Individuals With Disabilities Education Act (IDEA), 20 U.S.C. 1400, et seq. Subsequently,

Brian's mother filed a petition with the Office of Public Instruction (OPI), alleging that Brian's condition had not been subjected to a 3-year reevaluation as required by IDEA and that Brian was therefore denied his right under IDEA to a free appropriate public education (FAPE). OPI found that while IDEA may not have been complied with as to certain procedural requirements, Brian was not denied a FAPE. Brian then filed a complaint with the District Court in which he alleged that OPI had erred and also asserted an independent cause of action for damages, claiming that school employees had negligently misdiagnosed and misplaced him, denying him a FAPE. Relying extensively upon federal case law interpreting and applying IDEA, the Supreme Court held that the absence of a reevaluation did not deny Brian an educational opportunity because there was no causal linkage between the absence of the reevaluation and the educational opportunity afforded to Brian. The Supreme Court also concluded, in reliance upon its opinion in B.M. v. St., 200 M 58, 649 P2d 425 (1982), and Art. X, sec. 1, Mont. Const., that Brian was entitled to bring an independent tort action for negligent misdiagnosis and misplacement. However, the Supreme Court held that because a nearly identical claim had been brought before OPI and the District Court and decided against Brian, his independent tort action was barred by the doctrine of res judicata. Parini v. Missoula County High School District No. 1, 284 M 14, 944 P2d 199, 54 St. Rep. 711 (1997).

High School Association Enforcement of Sports Eligibility Rules — Learning Disabled Student Lacking Individualized Education Program — Injunction Improper: The Montana High School Association (MHSA) ruled that J.M., an alleged learning disabled student, was ineligible for participation in interscholastic sports activities during his senior year because he had already participated in four seasons of sports. The District Court, relying on T.H. v. Mont. High School Ass'n, CV-92-150-BLG-JFB (D.C. Mont. Sept. 24, 1992), enjoined MHSA from enforcing the four-season rule because J.M. had a federally protected right under the federal Individuals With Disabilities Education Act (IDEA), 20 U.S.C. 1400, et seq. On appeal, the Supreme Court found that it was improper to elevate J.M.'s privilege of participation in interscholastic sports to the level of a federally protected right under IDEA and to afford him individualized inquiry when J.M. had not followed the statutorily and administratively mandated mechanism for identification and qualification under IDEA and for developing a formal, written individualized education program. Because MHSA was not a state or local education agency, as defined in IDEA, MHSA had no obligation to identify or evaluate J.M.'s special education needs. The District Court's reliance on T.H. was in error, and the injunction was inappropriate absent evidence that J.M. was actually qualified for IDEA benefits. J.M. v. Mont. High School Ass'n, 265 M 230, 875 P2d 1026, 51 St. Rep. 401 (1994), followed in M.H. v. Mont. High School Ass'n, 280 M 123, 929 P2d 239, 53 St. Rep. 1328 (1996).

Procedural Flaws in Individualized Education Program — Parents Entitled to Reimbursement for Private Tutoring: The parents of a handicapped student filed suit seeking reimbursement for the costs of private tutoring elected by the parents when the school district failed to comply with procedures under federal law in the preparation of an individualized education program (IEP). Affirming the District Court decision, the Ninth Circuit Court ruled that the district's failure to comply with procedures in preparing the IEP deprived the student of free appropriate public education and that the parents were entitled to reimbursement for private tutoring until the IEP was properly prepared. W.G. v. Bd. of Trustees of Target Range School District No. 23, 960 F2d 1479 (9th Cir. 1992).

Wrongful Placement of Special Education Child — Duty Owed by School District — Sovereign Immunity No Bar to Claim for Damages: The plaintiff, a minor child, was diagnosed as needing special education and was to be educated in a class with other "normal" children but was later removed to a class of retarded children and as a result regressed in development. The school district's action of placement of the child was subject to judicial review and was not barred from review by the doctrine of sovereign immunity merely because it was discretionary. The school authorities owed the child a duty of reasonable care in testing and placing her in an appropriate special education program, and the District Court therefore erred in dismissing the child's action for damages. B.M. v. St., 200 M 58, 649 P2d 425, 39 St. Rep. 1285 (1982). B.M. was followed in Parini v. Missoula County High School District No. 1, 284 M 14, 944 P2d 199, 54 St. Rep. 711 (1997).

In a letter dated April 11, 2005, the Office of Public Instruction informed the Code Commissioner that July 1, 2005, is "the date by which Congress, in the reauthorization of the Individuals With Disabilities Education Act, requires states to implement the changes required by reauthorization".

1999 Amendment: Pursuant to sec. 99(4), Ch. 51, L. 1999, throughout section the code commissioner changed references to children with disabilities and child with disabilities to references to child with a disability. Amendment effective March 15, 1999.

The school district's action of placement of the child was subject to judicial review and was not barred from review by the doctrine of sovereign immunity merely because it was discretionary. State/Federal Law Conflict — Role of Superintendent of Public Instruction: When state regulations conflict with federal regulations, state regulations yield to federal regulations. A Montana statute on out-of-state special education (20-7-422) implies that discretion is vested in the Superintendent of Public Instruction to grant or withhold approval for an out-of-state special education program. This implication runs counter to the language of the federal statutes which require that the decision of the hearing officer in the appeal to the Superintendent of Public Instruction is final. However, a position by the Superintendent that a decision of the District Court would be binding upon her and would be approved with no further claim of right of rejection is in harmony with the federal statutes and regulations. Therefore, there is no dual procedure arising out of the state regulations for special education programs as long as the Superintendent maintains that she is bound by the findings of the hearing officer and by the court if an appeal is taken from the hearing officer's findings. The hearing officer was therefore correct in dismissing the Superintendent as a party to the controversy, and the Superintendent is not a proper party in a court appeal as long as she claims no discretion once the court has acted. Attorney General's Opinions

Obligation to Provide Special Education: School districts are not entitled to deny special education services to children in need thereof who live within the district on the basis of the fact that the legal residence of child's parent or guardian is elsewhere. 37 A.G. Op. 148 (1978), clarifying 37 A.G. Op. 98 (1977).

Special Education — Funding and Services: A school district may not establish a special education policy wholly independent of state funding. A special education program established by a district is not required to serve children in group homes within the district who are not legal residents but may do so cooperatively or by contract. 37 A.G. Op. 98 (1977).

2005 Amendment: Chapter 255 substituted (5) concerning appropriate technical assistance documents for "recommending to districts the type of special education class or program needed to serve the child with a disability of the districts and preparing appropriate guides for developing individualized education programs"; in (6) near middle substituted "identifying" for "diagnosing"; deleted former (8) that read: "(8) approving, as they are proposed and annually after approval, those special education classes or programs that comply with the laws of the state of Montana, policies of the board of public education, and the regulations of the superintendent of public instruction"; in (11) near beginning after "child with a disability" inserted "including a homeless child with a disability"; and made minor changes in style. Amendment effective July 1, 2005.

1999 Amendment: Pursuant to sec. 99(4), Ch. 51, L. 1999, in (4), (5), and (7) and in (12) in two places the code commissioner changed references to children with disabilities to references to a child with a disability. Amendment effective March 15, 1999.

1997 Amendment: Chapter 529 in (14), at beginning, inserted exception clause and at end substituted "placed in an in-state residential facility or children's psychiatric hospital" for "when a state agency places a child with disabilities who is in need of special education in:

(a) an in-state residential facility or children's psychiatric hospital; or

(b) an out-of-state public school or private residential facility". Amendment effective July 1, 1997.

Coordination: Section 8, Ch. 529, L. 1997, provided: "If House Bill No. 2 does not include appropriations to the department of corrections and to the department of public health and human services to pay for the education costs associated with out-of-state education placements, then [this act] is void." House Bill No. 2 included appropriations to the affected Departments to pay for the education costs associated with out-of-state education placements; therefore, the amendments to this section by Ch. 529, L. 1997, apply.

1993 Amendment: Chapter 356 at beginning of (11) substituted "ensuring" for "preparing"; at beginning of (12) substituted "ensuring that the requirements of the Individuals With Disabilities Education Act are met and that each educational program for children with disabilities administered within the state, including each program administered by any other agency, is under the general supervision of the superintendent of public instruction, meets the education standards of the board of public education, and meets the requirements of the superintendent of public instruction" for "acting as the coordinating agency with federal agencies, other state agencies, political subdivisions of the state, and private bodies on matters concerning special education" and at end inserted "or for providing or paying for some or all of the costs of a free appropriate public education to children with disabilities within the state"; deleted former (13) that read: "administering regional special education services for children in need of special education in accordance with policies of the board of public education"; and made minor changes in style. Amendment effective July 1, 1993.

1991 Amendment — Name Change — Code Commissioner Instruction: Changed term "handicapped child" to "child with disabilities" or "handicapped children" to "children with disabilities", pursuant to sec. 10, Ch. 249, L. 1991, which directed the Code Commissioner to change the terms wherever they appear in Title 20 and in all law enacted by the 52nd Legislature.

Chapter 765 throughout section substituted reference to child with disabilities for reference to handicapped child; inserted (15) requiring Superintendent to contract for the provision of a free appropriate public education for certain children with disabilities placed by a state agency; and made minor changes in style. Amendment effective July 1, 1991.

1985 Amendment: Inserted (11) relating to surrogate parents.

Statement of Intent — Surrogate Parent: The statement of intent attached to Ch. 618, L. 1985, section 3 of which is codified as 20-7-403(11), provided: "A statement of intent is required for this bill because it delegates rulemaking authority to the superintendent of public instruction. In preparing instructional and training material to be given to a person appointed as a surrogate parent, the superintendent should look to the material used in the state of Connecticut, which developed the surrogate parent concept. The superintendent should tailor the material to carefully delineate the procedure used in Montana for evaluating and placing handicapped children [now children with disabilities] and devising educational programs for them. The material should specifically delineate the role of the surrogate in working with the child study team as early as possible.

Rules adopted by the superintendent concerning reimbursement of the surrogate parent should be aimed at fully reimbursing the surrogate while not creating a financial hardship to the school district. The rules should be such that people will not be financially discouraged from accepting appointment as a surrogate parent."

1981 Amendment: Substituted language of (13) relating to contracting for audiological services for former language of (13) to remove the requirement that the superintendent of public instruction contract directly with local school districts or cooperative service organizations for audiological services.

Method of Establishing Regional Service Centers for Special Education: House Bill 145 (1977) (an uncodified appropriations bill) requires the Superintendent of Public Instruction to establish the regional special education services referred to in 20-7-403 (see 1993 amendment) and 20-7-415 (repealed 1993) by negotiating contracts with local school districts whereby the contracting local districts agree to furnish regional special education services to be compensated from the regional service centers' appropriation. 37 A.G. Amendment effective October 1, 2011.

2005 Amendment: Chapter 255 in (1) in first sentence at end substituted "environment" for "alternative setting"; inserted (4) allowing the board to establish a special education program for a child with a disability; and made minor changes in style. Amendment effective July 1, 2005.

1987 Amendment: Inserted (3) relating to special education for handicapped preschool children (now preschool children with disabilities).

Case Notes

Procedural Flaws in Individualized Education Program — Parents Entitled to Reimbursement for Private Tutoring: The parents of a handicapped student filed suit seeking reimbursement for the costs of private tutoring elected by the parents when the school district failed to comply with procedures under federal law in the preparation of an individualized education program (IEP). Affirming the District Court decision, the Ninth Circuit Court ruled that the district's failure to comply with procedures in preparing the IEP deprived the student of free appropriate public education and that the parents were entitled to reimbursement for private tutoring until the IEP was properly prepared. W.G. v. Bd. of Trustees of Target Range School District No. 23, 960 F2d 1479 (9th Cir. 1992).

Determination of Child's Condition and Needs — Necessary Evidence: Once the District Court found from the evidence that child A had not been making substantial progress as a participant in the mildly mentally retarded special education program and might be retrogressing and had also found that the child was severely emotionally disturbed, it was necessary that the child be placed in a special out-of-state school. The evidence supported no other choice, and substantial evidence supported the finding. In re the "A" Family, 184 M 145, 602 P2d 157, 36 St. Rep. 1898 (1979).

Reasonableness of Interpretative Regulation: An administrative regulation by the Superintendent of Public Instruction which restricted the use of special education funds to educational costs and provided that services such as psychiatric therapy or medical assistance must be deleted from those costs was reasonable and consistent with the carrying out of the legislative direction, and a school district could not use the funds to provide psychiatric-medical treatment outside of the state. Doe v. Colburg, 171 M 97, 555 P2d 753 (1976).

Attorney General's Opinions

Obligation to Provide Special Education: School districts are not entitled to deny special education services to children in need thereof who live within the district on the basis of the fact that the legal residence of child's parent or guardian is elsewhere. 37 A.G. Op. 148 (1978), clarifying 37 A.G. Op. 98 (1977).

Special Education — Funding and Services: A school district may not establish a special education policy wholly independent of state funding. A special education program established by a district is not required to serve children in group homes within the district who are not legal residents but may do so cooperatively or by contract. 37 A.G. 2005 Amendment: Chapter 255 in (1) in second sentence near middle inserted "in accordance with 20-7-411"; and substituted (2) requiring procedures for special education that are consistent with the federal act and state law and rules for former (2) that read: "(2) Whenever the trustees of a district intend to establish a special education class or program, they shall apply for approval and funding of the class or program by the superintendent of public instruction. The superintendent of public instruction shall approve or disapprove the application for the special education class or program on the basis of its compliance with the laws of the state of Montana, the special education policies adopted by the board of public education, and the rules of the superintendent of public instruction. A special education class may not be operated by the trustees without the approval of the superintendent of public instruction. Each special education class or program must be approved annually to be funded as part of the allowable cost payment for special education." Amendment effective July 1, 2005.

1993 Amendment: Chapter 356 near middle of first sentence of (1) substituted "school district" for "trustees" and substituted second sentence regarding availability of free appropriate public education for former second and third sentences that read: "Whenever the trustees of a school district or the governing authority of an institution learn of a child with disabilities in their jurisdiction who is in need of special education, they shall determine that the child is in need of a surrogate parent if the parents or guardian cannot be identified or, after reasonable efforts, the whereabouts of the parents cannot be discovered or if the child is a ward of the state. The determination must be made within 10 days of the date on which the trustees of a school district or the governing authority of an institution learned of the presence of the child in the district.

If the child is in need of a surrogate parent, the trustees of a school district or the governing authority of an institution shall nominate a surrogate parent for the child as provided in 20-7-461." Amendment effective July 1, 1993.

1991 Amendment: In (1), near middle, substituted reference to child with disabilities for reference to handicapped child and after "guardian" substituted "cannot be identified or, after reasonable efforts, the whereabouts of the parents cannot be discovered" for "is unknown or unavailable"; and made minor changes in style. Failure to Follow Procedural Requirements of Individuals With Disabilities Education Act Held Not to Deny Free Appropriate Public Education — Independent Cause of Action for Misdiagnosis and Misplacement Dismissed as Barred by Res Judicata: Brian Parini was diagnosed with a learning disability and was placed in special education pursuant to the requirements of the Individuals With Disabilities Education Act (IDEA), 20 U.S.C. 1400, et seq. Subsequently, Brian's mother filed a petition with the Office of Public Instruction (OPI), alleging that Brian's condition had not been subjected to a 3-year reevaluation as required by IDEA and that Brian was therefore denied his right under IDEA to a free appropriate public education (FAPE). OPI found that while IDEA may not have been complied with as to certain procedural requirements, Brian was not denied a FAPE. Brian then filed a complaint with the District Court in which he alleged that OPI had erred and also asserted an independent cause of action for damages, claiming that school employees had negligently misdiagnosed and misplaced him, denying him a FAPE. Relying extensively upon federal case law interpreting and applying IDEA, the Supreme Court held that the absence of a reevaluation did not deny Brian an educational opportunity because there was no causal linkage between the absence of the reevaluation and the educational opportunity afforded to Brian. The Supreme Court also concluded, in reliance upon its opinion in B.M. v. St., 200 M 58, 649 P2d 425 (1982), and Art. X, sec. 1, Mont. Const., that Brian was entitled to bring an independent tort action for negligent misdiagnosis and misplacement. However, the Supreme Court held that because a nearly identical claim had been brought before OPI and the District Court and decided against Brian, his independent tort action was barred by the doctrine of res judicata. Parini v. Missoula County High School District No. 1, 284 M 14, 944 P2d 199, 54 St. Rep. 711 (1997).

High School Association Enforcement of Sports Eligibility Rules — Learning Disabled Student Lacking Individualized Education Program — Injunction Improper: The Montana High School Association (MHSA) ruled that J.M., an alleged learning disabled student, was ineligible for participation in interscholastic sports activities during his senior year because he had already participated in four seasons of sports. The District Court, relying on T.H. v. Mont. High School Ass'n, CV-92-150-BLG-JFB (D.C. Mont. Sept. 24, 1992), enjoined MHSA from enforcing the four-season rule because J.M. had a federally protected right under the federal Individuals With Disabilities Education Act (IDEA), 20 U.S.C. 1400, et seq. On appeal, the Supreme Court found that it was improper to elevate J.M.'s privilege of participation in interscholastic sports to the level of a federally protected right under IDEA and to afford him individualized inquiry when J.M. had not followed the statutorily and administratively mandated mechanism for identification and qualification under IDEA and for developing a formal, written individualized education program. Because MHSA was not a state or local education agency, as defined in IDEA, MHSA had no obligation to identify or evaluate J.M.'s special education needs. The District Court's reliance on T.H. was in error, and the injunction was inappropriate absent evidence that J.M. was actually qualified for IDEA benefits. J.M. v. Mont. High School Ass'n, 265 M 230, 875 P2d 1026, 51 St. Rep. 401 (1994).

Federal Law Compelling Exception to Hearsay Rule — Administrative Psychological Assessment Report Admitted: When an assessment of a child's psychologic and mental condition is made as part of administrative proceedings, the report is part of the administrative record and accordingly it is a part of the evidence that the District Court had to consider. Federal law requires this, and it overrides any other consideration with respect to the reception into evidence of the report, including the inherent evil in accepting hearsay evidence not subject to cross-examination. In re the "A" Family, 184 M 145, 602 P2d 157, 36 St. Rep. 1898 (1979).

1997 Amendment: Chapter 529 in (2), in second sentence after "child", deleted "with disabilities"; deleted former (4) that read: "(4) Under the provisions of 20-7-422(3), the superintendent of public instruction shall provide funds for the education fees required to provide a free appropriate public education for a child with disabilities who is in need of special education and related services and is placed by a state agency in an out-of-state private residential facility or out-of-state public school, provided that, in determining the special education services needed for the child with disabilities, the district of residence has complied with the rules promulgated under 20-7-402"; in (4) inserted second sentence requiring the placing state agency to pay education fees of a child with disabilities who is placed out of state; and made minor changes in style. Amendment effective July 1, 1997.

Coordination: Section 8, Ch. 529, L. 1997, provided: "If House Bill No. 2 does not include appropriations to the department of corrections and to the department of public health and human services to pay for the education costs associated with out-of-state education placements, then [this act] is void." House Bill No. 2 included appropriations to the affected Departments to pay for the education costs associated with out-of-state education placements; therefore, the amendments to this section by Ch. 529, L. 1997, apply.

1995 Amendment: Chapter 509 in (3), at end of third sentence and in fourth sentence substituted "available funds" for "the state equalization aid account"; and made minor changes in style. Amendment effective July 1, 1995.

1993 Amendments: Chapter 375 in first sentence of (1), after "guardian", inserted "if the parents are deceased"; at beginning of first sentence of (3) substituted "If an eligible child, as defined in 20-7-436, is receiving inpatient treatment" for "If a child with disabilities who is in need of special education is placed", near middle substituted "educational services are provided by a public school district under the provisions of 20-7-411 or 20-7-435" for "educational placement is in a public school district", and at end substituted "the superintendent of public instruction shall reimburse the district providing the services for the negotiated amount, as established pursuant to 20-7-435(5), that represents the district's costs of providing education and related services. Payments must be made from funds appropriated for this purpose. If the negotiated amount exceeds the daily membership rate under 20-7-435(3) and any per-ANB amount of direct state aid, the superintendent of public instruction shall pay the remaining balance from the state equalization aid account. However, the amount spent from the state equalization aid account for this purpose may not exceed $500,000 during any biennium" for former text that read: "the district of residence is responsible for tuition for the proportion of time the child is served in the public school district unless the public school district is operated primarily for the purpose of providing education to children who attend the residential facility or hospital"; near middle of (4), after "special education", inserted "and related services"; in (5), before "room", inserted "financial costs of"; and made minor changes in style. Code Commissioner Correction: In (3) the Code Commissioner substituted "of direct state aid" for "paid on the foundation program schedules as provided in 20-9-318 through 20-9-320". Sections 20-9-318 through 20-9-320 were repealed by Ch. 633, L. 1993. 1991 Amendment: In (2), at end of first sentence, substituted "a child with disabilities, as defined in 20-7-401, including a child who has been placed by a state agency in a foster care or group home licensed by the state" for "special education students" and inserted second sentence regarding lack of district financial responsibility for certain disabled children placed by a state agency; inserted (3) establishing tuition responsibility of district of residence for disabled child; inserted (4) requiring Superintendent of Public Instruction to provide funds for education fees required to provide free appropriate public education for certain children with disabilities placed by a state agency; and inserted (5) establishing state agency responsibility for a placed disabled child's room, board, and treatment. Amendment effective July 1, 1991.

Residency of Special Education Student Following Termination of Parental Rights But Before Permanent Placement: For special education purposes, the school district of residence of a child for whom the Department of Family Services (now Department of Public Health and Human Services) has legal custody following termination of parental rights and before a permanent placement is accomplished is the same as that of the physical location of the District Court that ordered the termination. 43 A.G. Op. 36 (1989), overruling 40 A.G. Op. 69 (1984).

Residency of Special Education Student in Temporary Custody of Department: For special education purposes, the school district of residence of a child for whom the Department of Family Services (now Department of Public Health and Human Services) has temporary legal custody is the district of residence of the child's parents, regardless of whether the child is placed in a foster home in a separate school district. 43 A.G. Op. 36 (1989).

Residency of Special Education Student When Custodial Parent Imprisoned — District of Residence Responsible for Tuition: The school district of residence of a special education student whose custodial parent is imprisoned is the school district where the custodial parent resided prior to imprisonment. If a special education student is admitted to a school district that is not his district of residence, his district of residence is responsible for the student's tuition. 43 A.G. Op. 35 (1989).

Composite Section: This section was amended by Ch. 470, Ch. 481, and Ch. 661, L. 1979, and a composite section was prepared by the Code Commissioner, 1979. All three chapters incorporated the same concept into this section. Since Ch. 470 was the most comprehensive, its language, with a few minor changes, was chosen.

Case Notes

State/Federal Law Conflict — Role of Superintendent of Public Instruction: When state regulations conflict with federal regulations, state regulations yield to federal regulations. A Montana statute on out-of-state special education (20-7-422) implies that discretion is vested in the Superintendent of Public Instruction to grant or withhold approval for an out-of-state special education program (see 1991 amendment). This implication runs counter to the language of the federal statutes which require that the decision of the hearing officer in the appeal to the Superintendent of Public Instruction is final. However, a position by the Superintendent that a decision of the District Court would be binding upon her and would be approved with no further claim of right of rejection is in harmony with the federal statutes and regulations. Therefore, there is no dual procedure arising out of the state regulations for special education programs as long as the Superintendent maintains that she is bound by the findings of the hearing officer and by the court if an appeal is taken from the hearing officer's findings. The hearing officer was therefore correct in dismissing the Superintendent as a party to the controversy, and the Superintendent is not a proper party in a court appeal as long as she claims no discretion once the court has acted. In re the "A" Family, 184 M 145, 602 P2d 157, 36 St. Rep. 1898 (1979).

(b) the state agency that makes the placement for the portion of the placement costs that represents the child's education program"; and substituted (4) regarding placement with a facility that will provide the child with a free appropriate public education for former language that read: "Payments for a child with disabilities as negotiated in subsection (3) must be paid by the superintendent of public instruction from the state special education appropriation." Amendment effective July 1, 1997.

1991 Amendment: In (1), at beginning of first sentence, substituted "In accordance with a placement made by persons determining an individualized education program for a child with disabilities, the trustees of a district may arrange for the attendance of the child" for "If the trustees of any district recommend to the superintendent of public instruction the attendance of a child in need of special education" and in second sentence, after "provisions", substituted "in 20-5-301 and 20-5-311" for "of the laws governing the attendance of pupils in schools outside the state of Montana"; substituted present (2) regarding amount and manner of payment of costs associated with placement for former (2) that read: "(2) Whenever the attendance of a child at an out-of-state special education program is approved by the superintendent of public instruction, the superintendent of public instruction shall, in cooperation with the department of family services, negotiate the program for the child and the amount and manner of payment of tuition. 1987 Amendment: In middle of (2) deleted references to Department of Social and Rehabilitation Services and Department of Institutions and inserted reference to Department of Family Services.

Correction: In sec. 3, Ch. 661, L. 1979, the reference in subsection (2) was to 20-7-431(1)(b)(iii)(A) (nonexistent). The Code Commissioner changed the reference to "20-7-431(1)(a)(iii)(A)" to correct the error, which arose through amendments made by the Legislature in the course of enacting Ch. 661.

Case Notes

Determination of Child's Condition and Needs — Necessary Evidence: Once the District Court found from the evidence that child A had not been making substantial progress as a participant in the mildly mentally retarded special education program and might be retrogressing and had also found that the child was severely emotionally disturbed, it was necessary that the child be placed in a special out-of-state school. The evidence supported no other choice, and substantial evidence supported the finding. In re the "A" Family, 184 M 145, 602 P2d 157, 36 St. Rep. 1898 (1979).

Federal Law Compelling Exception to Hearsay Rule — Administrative Psychological Assessment Report Admitted: When an assessment of a child's psychologic and mental condition is made as part of administrative proceedings, the report is part of the administrative record and accordingly it is a part of the evidence that the District Court had to consider. Federal law requires this, and it overrides any other consideration with respect to the reception into evidence of the report, including the inherent evil in accepting hearsay evidence not subject to cross-examination. In re the "A" Family, 184 M 145, 602 P2d 157, 36 St. Rep. 1898 (1979).

State/Federal Law Conflict — Role of Superintendent of Public Instruction: When state regulations conflict with federal regulations, state regulations yield to federal regulations. A Montana statute on out-of-state special education (20-7-422) implies that discretion is vested in the Superintendent of Public Instruction to grant or withhold approval for an out-of-state special education program (see 1991 amendment). This implication runs counter to the language of the federal statutes which require that the decision of the hearing officer in the appeal to the Superintendent of Public Instruction is final. However, a position by the Superintendent that a decision of the District Court would be binding upon her and would be approved with no further claim of right of rejection is in harmony with the federal statutes and regulations. Therefore, there is no dual procedure arising out of the state regulations for special education programs as long as the Superintendent maintains that she is bound by the findings of the hearing officer and by the court if an appeal is taken from the hearing officer's findings. The hearing officer was therefore correct in dismissing the Superintendent as a party to the controversy, and the Superintendent is not a proper party in a court appeal as long as she claims no discretion once the court has acted. In re the "A" Family, 184 M 145, 602 P2d 157, 36 St. Rep. 1898 (1979).

Attorney General's Opinions

Special Education — Funding and Services: A school district may not establish a special education policy wholly independent of state funding. A special education program established by a district is not required to serve children in group homes within the district who are not legal residents but may do so cooperatively or by contract. 37 A.G. Op. 98 (1977).

2005 Amendment: Chapter 255 in (1)(a)(vi) and (1)(b)(vi) substituted "evaluation team" for "child study team". Amendment effective July 1, 2005.

2001 Amendment: Chapter 145 deleted former (5)(b) that read: "(b) If the total special education allowable cost payment, as determined in 20-9-321, exceeds legislative appropriations available for special education, each district shall receive a pro rata share of the available appropriations"; and made minor changes in style. Amendment effective July 1, 2001.

Preamble: The preamble attached to Ch. 145, L. 2001, provided: "WHEREAS, state funding for special education has not kept pace with school districts' required special education expenditures, which has caused a financial shift under the formula from providing districts with block grants to reimbursing districts for disproportionate special education costs; and

WHEREAS, this financial shift has made a school district's funding level less predictable, and those districts receiving reimbursements for disproportionate costs have not been adequately compensated for extraordinarily high special education costs; and

WHEREAS, a revision of the current special education funding formula is necessary to stabilize the proportion of the state appropriation for special education that is distributed through block grants and for special education cooperative administration and travel."

Effective Date — Applicability: Section 3, Ch. 145, L. 2001, provided: "[This act] is effective July 1, 2001, and applies to school budgets for fiscal school years beginning on or after July 1, 2001."

on the same mileage rate used by the district for other travel reimbursement purposes"; in (1)(b) substituted "related" for "supportive"; in (1)(b)(i), at beginning, inserted "the cost of", substituted "corresponding to the working time that each person devotes to the special program. Professional supportive personnel may include special education supervisors, speech-language pathologists, audiologists" for "the entire cost if employed full time in the special program; if the personnel are shared between special and regular programs—a portion of the entire cost corresponding to the entire working time which each person devotes to the special program. Professional supportive personnel may include"; in (1)(b)(ii), at beginning, inserted "the cost of" and at end substituted "corresponding to the working time that each person devotes to the special program" for "the entire cost if employed full time in the special program; if the personnel are shared between special and regular programs—a portion of the entire cost corresponding to the entire working time which each person devotes to the special program"; deleted (1)(c) that read: "(c) equipment:

(iii) special equipment for school buses contracted to transport special students—that portion of the contract price attributable to the cost of special equipment or personnel required to accommodate special students—the actual special cost;

(iv) repair and maintenance of equipment—the actual total cost"; inserted (1)(b)(iii) concerning supplies, (1)(b)(iv) concerning prereferral interventions, (1)(b)(v) concerning contracted services, (1)(b)(vi) concerning transportation costs, (1)(b)(vii) concerning equipment, and (1)(b)(viii) concerning cooperatives; deleted (2)(b) and (2)(c) that read: "(b) defining the total special program caseload that must be assigned to specific support persons and the kinds of professional specialties to be considered relevant to the program before the district may count an allowable cost under subsection (1)(b) of this section; and

(c) defining the kinds or types of equipment whose costs may be counted under subsection (1)(c)(i) of this section"; deleted former (4) that read: "(4) If a board of trustees chooses to exceed the budget approved by the superintendent of public instruction, costs in excess of the approved budget may not be reimbursed under the foundation program for special education"; in (5)(b), near beginning, substituted "special education allowable cost payment, as determined in 20-9-321" for "allowable cost of the special education budgets" and at end, after "appropriations", deleted "based upon prioritized budget items as established by the superintendent of public instruction. The amount of the approved budgets in excess of the available appropriations may not be reimbursed under the foundation program for special education and is the responsibility of the school district"; and made minor changes in style. Amendment effective July 1, 1994.

1993 Statement of Intent: The statement of intent attached to Ch. 466, L. 1993, provided: "A statement of intent is required for this bill because 20-7-431 gives the superintendent of public instruction rulemaking authority to implement changes in special education funding distribution.

It is the intent of the legislature to enhance student and taxpayer equity by revising the method of distributing special education state funding to school districts and special education cooperatives. A revision in funding distribution methods may necessitate transitional steps to minimize disruption of program services to students. It is intended that the superintendent of public instruction implement the changes in the funding provisions of this bill to assist a smoother transition and to minimize the impact of the changes to students and districts."

Name Change — Short Form Amendment: Section 55(2), Ch. 633, L. 1993, directed the Code Commissioner to change the term "foundation program", when it refers specifically to state funding for special education, to "allowable cost payment" in this section.

1991 Amendment: Deleted (1)(d) that read: "(d) room and board costs when the special pupil has to attend a program at such a distance from his home that commuting is undesirable as determined by the superintendent of public instruction". Amendment effective July 1, 1991.

1989 Special Session Amendment: Throughout section substituted "foundation program" or "foundation program amount" for "maximum-budget-without-a-vote"; in (1)(b)(ii), after "clerical personnel", substituted "who assist" for "for"; in (2) substituted "adopt rules" for "prior to September 1, 1977, revise the rules"; and made minor changes in phraseology. Amendment effective July 1, 1990.

1987 Amendment: Inserted (1)(c)(iv) relating to repair and maintenance of equipment.

1985 Amendment: In (6)(a) after "legislative appropriations", inserted "however, any unexpended balance from the first year of a biennial appropriation may be spent in the second year of the biennium in addition to the second year appropriation"; and near beginning of (6)(b) after "budgets", deleted "approved by the superintendent of public instruction".

1983 Amendment: In (6)(b), in first sentence after "If" inserted "the total allowable cost of the" and after "based upon" substituted "prioritized budget items as established by the superintendent of public instruction" for "its budget as a percent of all approved special education budgets".

Statement of Intent: The statement of intent attached to HB 444 (Ch. 548, L. 1983) provided: "A statement of intent is required of this bill because it grants authority to the Superintendent of Public Instruction to prioritize budget items to determine total amounts to be distributed to districts for special education.

It is intended that the prioritization be aimed at providing maximum funding for basic required or mandated services and least funding for other allowable services. The priorities must be structured to provide the most services to the greatest number of students within the limitations of local conditions. The priorities should be established by a combination of mandated services, student/teacher ratios, and local conditions that affect costs of providing services. The district's share of the funding is not intended to be line-itemed by the Office of Public Instruction; the bill provides a manner for determining the funding to be received by the districts. The manner in which the funds are to [be] used by the district is to be done within the allowable cost schedule provided in 20-7-431."

1981 Amendment: Inserted "or to in-state child study team meetings or in-state individualized education program meetings" after "must travel on an itinerant basis from school to school or district to district" in (1)(a)(iii)(B).

Composite Section: This section was amended by Ch. 481 and Ch. 661, L. 1979, and a composite section was prepared by the Code Commissioner, 1979. Subsections (6)(a) and (6)(b) represent apparently conflicting provisions enacted by the above chapters.

Correction: In sec. 1, Ch. 661, L. 1979, the reference in subsection (2)(b) was to subsection (1)(c), and the reference in subsection (2)(c) was to subsection (1)(d)(i) (nonexistent). The Code Commissioner changed the references to "subsection (1)(b)" and "subsection (1)(c)(i)", respectively, to correct the errors which arose through amendments made by the Legislature in the course of enacting Ch. 661.

[Section 5] [20-7-458, repealed 1994] requires the superintendent to adopt rules to determine eligibility for funding reduced caseloads for itinerant personnel of a full service special education cooperative or a joint board formed under 20-3-361 for special education purposes. In adopting the rules, the superintendent shall consider the factors related to the cooperative or the joint board that are listed for the rulemaking authority provided in [section 4] [20-7-457]. In determining funding under the rules for formation of a cooperative or a joint board, the superintendent shall also consider the length of commitment of the districts forming the cooperative joint board."

Compiler's Comments

2005 Amendment: Chapter 255 in (1) at end substituted requirement that a surrogate parent be nominated and the documentation be given the youth court within 10 days of determining that a child is in need of a surrogate parent for: "The determination of need for a surrogate parent must be made within 10 days of the date on which the school district or its designee or the governing authority of an institution or its designee learns of the presence of the child in the district. If the child is in need of a surrogate parent, the trustees of a school district or their designee or the governing authority of an institution or its designee shall nominate a surrogate for the child within 30 days of that determination"; and in (3) in second sentence near end decreased the time period from 45 to 20 days and inserted last sentence providing that the nominated person is the surrogate parent if the court does not act within 20 days. Amendment effective July 1, 2005.

2003 Amendment: Chapter 16 in (2) at end of first sentence after "agency" inserted "that is providing educational services to the child". Amendment effective February 11, 2003.

1999 Amendment: Pursuant to sec. 99(4), Ch. 51, L. 1999, in (1) in first sentence in two places the code commissioner changed "child with disabilities" to "child with a disability". Amendment effective March 15, 1999.

1993 Amendment: Chapter 356 substituted present (1) regarding assignment of surrogate parent for former subsection that read: "Any person may advise the trustees of a school district or the governing authority of an institution of a child with disabilities within the district who may be in need of a surrogate parent. The trustees of a school district or the governing authority of an institution shall determine whether the child is in need of a surrogate parent as provided in 20-7-414. If the trustees of a school district or the governing authority of an institution determine that the child is in need of a surrogate parent, they shall nominate a surrogate parent for the child within 30 days of that determination"; in (3), in two places after "district", inserted "or their designee" and in two places, after "institution", inserted "or its designee"; and made minor changes in style. Amendment effective July 1, 1993.

Amendment effective July 1, 1991.

Statement of Intent: The statement of intent attached to Ch. 618, L. 1985, provided: "A statement of intent is required for this bill because it delegates rulemaking authority to the superintendent of public instruction. In preparing instructional and training material to be given to a person appointed as a surrogate parent, the superintendent should look to the material used in the state of Connecticut, which developed the surrogate parent concept. The superintendent should tailor the material to carefully delineate the procedure used in Montana for evaluating and placing handicapped children (now children with disabilities) and devising educational programs for them. The material should specifically delineate the role of the surrogate in working with the child study team as early as possible.

Rules adopted by the superintendent concerning reimbursement of the surrogate parent should be aimed at fully reimbursing the surrogate while not creating a financial hardship to the school district. The rules should be such that people will not be financially discouraged from accepting appointment as a surrogate parent."

Case Notes

Appointment of Surrogate Parent — Issue Not Moot: An adult with disabilities who received special education services appealed a decision of the District Court that had appointed a third party in lieu of a foster father as a surrogate parent. The school district argued that the disabled student's issue was moot because the student had aged out of the school system and was no longer eligible for education services. However, the student was pursuing a separate due process claim against the school district under the federal Individuals with Disabilities Education Act. Because the due process claim could result in education services for the disabled student, the surrogate had broad powers that could impact the student's future education possibilities, rendering the issue not moot. In re C.S., 2014 MT 74, 374 Mont. 289, 320 P.3d 981.

Foster Parent as "Parent" in Appointment of Surrogate Parent: An adult with disabilities who received special education services was placed with a foster father. Under the federal Individuals with Disabilities Education Act (IDEA), Butte-Silver Bow County requested that the District Court appoint a surrogate parent for the disabled adult. The court appointed a third party as the surrogate parent and denied a request by the disabled adult to remove the third party and appoint the foster father as the surrogate parent for purposes of making educational decisions. The Supreme Court reversed, finding that although Montana statutes do not specifically address a foster parent's priority for appointment as a surrogate parent, Montana is bound by IDEA regulations through both the acceptance of federal funding and Montana's administrative law, which requires procedures for the appointment of a surrogate parent to comply with federal law. IDEA requires an available parent, including a foster parent, to be appointed as the surrogate parent for an adult student. Therefore, the District Court had erroneously appointed a third party in lieu of the eligible foster father. In re C.S., 2014 MT 74, 374 Mont. 289, 320 P.3d 981.

WHEREAS, according to an article in a 1998 edition of Star Student, a preliminary study evaluating the correlation between adult literacy skills and employment conducted by Dr. Ruby Ryles, the founding coordinator of the master's program in orientation and mobility at the Louisiana Tech University, found that in a study of 74 adults who were born legally blind and were patrons of the Library for the Blind, 44% of the participants who had learned to read in Braille were unemployed, while those who had learned to read using print had a 77% unemployment rate; and

WHEREAS, the preliminary unemployment results prompted Dr. Ryles to conduct a study to establish the correlations between present literacy rates and the early reading education by comparing the results of 45 legally blind high school students from 45 cities, towns, and rural communities in 11 eastern and southern states with those of 15 sighted students attending the same schools as the legally blind students; and

WHEREAS, Dr. Ryles discovered that early Braille readers outperformed sighted students in vocabulary by a 5% margin on the comprehension, vocabulary, and other subtests of the Stanford achievement test and nearly matched their sighted classmates on the Woodcock Johnson R (revised) test; and

WHEREAS, in the capitalization and punctuation portion of the Woodcock Johnson R (revised) test, early Braille reading students who received Braille instruction 4 to 5 days each week in the 1st through 3rd grades produced a mean score that was 7 percentage points higher than their sighted classmates, 25 percentage points higher than students who received Braille instruction fewer than 4 days each week, and 42 percentage points higher than their legally blind classmates who received no Braille instruction; and

WHEREAS, in the spelling portion of the Woodcock Johnson R (revised) test, early Braille learners averaged 1 percentage point higher than fully sighted readers, 32 percentage points higher than students who received Braille instruction fewer than 4 days each week in 1st through 3rd grades, and 38 percentage points higher than legally blind students who received no instruction in reading Braille; and

Part Attorney General's Opinions

Use of Adult Education and Transportation Funds Prohibited in New School Construction: Under the 2009 version of 20-9-208, the transfer of funds from one budgeted fund to another budgeted fund is restricted, particularly if the funding source is a property tax levy. Property taxes levied to support adult education and transportation funds may be transferred to the school flexibility fund as long as the transfer is within or directly related to the purposes for which the funds were raised, for example, to support adult education or transportation. A transfer of property taxes for any other purpose, such as constructing a new school, is invalid. Transferred funding sources cannot be converted to flex fund revenues or cash balances to cover expenditures authorized for flex fund purposes. A county or school board may demand an accounting to determine how funds were transferred, budgeted, and spent. If liability exists, a county, school board, or citizen with standing may pursue any remedy provided by law. 54 A.G. Op. 6 (2012).

Part 9
Gifted and Talented Children

20-7-902. School district programs to identify and serve the gifted and talented child.

Case Notes

Accreditation Standard Mandating Gifted and Talented Program Within Board's Constitutional Powers of "General Supervision": After the Board of Public Education refused to amend its rule requiring all districts to identify and provide programs for gifted and talented students, the Legislature, claiming the rule conflicted with 20-7-902, which authorized rather than mandated gifted and talented programs, enacted House Bill No. 116 (1991) at the request of the Administrative Code Committee (now appropriate administrative rule review committee) to repeal the rule. In invalidating House Bill No. 116, the District Court held that the Board, pursuant to its exercise of general supervision powers under Art. X, sec. 9(3), of the Montana Constitution, is vested with constitutional rulemaking authority that is self-executing and independent of any power delegated to the Board by the Legislature. Bd. of Pub. Educ. v. Administrative Code Comm., Cause No. BDV-91-1072 (1992), First Judicial District, Lewis & Clark County.

Attorney General's Opinions

Rule Requiring Every School District to Provide Educational Services to Gifted and Talented Children Invalid: The adoption of 20-2-121 did not provide a statutory grant of authority to the Board of Public Education to require the creation of gifted and talented children programs. Rather, this section makes the creation of gifted and talented children programs optional for individual school districts. Therefore, ARM 10.55.804, promulgated pursuant to the Board's statutory authority to adopt accreditation standards and making the creation of such programs mandatory, conflicts with this section and is thus invalid. 44 A.G. Op. 4 (1991). (See case note Bd. of Pub. Educ. v. Administrative Code Comm. at this section.)

Title 10, chapter 61, ARM Montana School for the Deaf and Blind.

Part 1
General Provisions

Part Case Notes

Deaf and Blind School Employee Contracts Not Personal Services Contracts — Employees Entitled to Annual Leave and Holiday Pay Accrued: Employees of the Montana School for the Deaf and Blind signed standard form year-to-year employment contracts that granted them "all holidays and annual leave to which [the employee] is entitled under state law" and "all employee benefits to which [the employee] is entitled under the laws of the State of Montana". The employees were required to work evenings and to be on call much of the time. Nevertheless, the employees were required to complete time cards showing employment for only 8-hour days and were paid for only that time. The employees submitted a claim to the Board of Public Education for annual leave and holiday pay accrued but not paid and sued the Board when it refused to pay them. The Board defended, claiming that the employees' contracts were personal services contracts and that therefore the employees were exempt from the definition of an "employee" under 2-18-601. The Supreme Court held that the District Court properly granted summary judgment for the employees because the employees were not hired on an ad hoc basis because of the highly technical nature of their employment—rather, the employees are year-round employees given the benefit of the state group health plan and given grade and pay increases on state payroll accounting forms. The Supreme Court concluded that to hold otherwise would mean that all state employees are hired under personal services contracts and no state employee is entitled to annual leave and holiday pay, a construction that the Supreme Court determined would be unreasonable. In the interest of economy and increased opportunities for vocational education and training and in order that pupils may be practically taught such trades and vocations, so much of all carpentering, printing, painting, baking, sewing, and other or similar work necessary to be done for and in and about the school, as the superintendent of the school may deem practical, shall be done by such pupils under competent teachers and specialists employed for such purpose, and this requirement shall apply to both male and female pupils"; and made minor changes in phraseology.

Amendment effective March 24, 2005.

The board has already adopted rules in these areas of procedures for admission to the School for the Deaf and Blind (ARM 10.61.201) and of transfers into another educational placement (ARM 10.61.204). The committee would contemplate that the board republish these rules, citing the proper statutory authorities after SB 158 is enacted. The board would, of course, retain the power to amend these rules in the future in such manner as it deemed proper for the governance of the school.

Section 13 [20-8-120] gives the board authority to establish employment criteria in the area of communications skills for school staff who work with deaf children. Rules in this area should recognize that teachers need a high level of skills such as sign language in order to communicate to deaf pupils, while some custodial or administration employees may be able to work well for the school with a lower level of communications skills. The board should establish a relatively informal procedure for establishing compliance with its criteria, such as certification by the superintendent and one deaf adult, and it may reserve the right to grant waivers from its policy."

The board would, of course, retain the power to amend these rules in the future in such manner as it deemed proper for the governance of the school.

Section 13 [20-8-120] gives the board authority to establish employment criteria in the area of communications skills for school staff who work with deaf children. Rules in this area should recognize that teachers need a high level of skills such as sign language in order to communicate to deaf pupils, while some custodial or administration employees may be able to work well for the school with a lower level of communications skills. The board should establish a relatively informal procedure for establishing compliance with its criteria, such as certification by the superintendent and one deaf adult, and it may reserve the right to grant waivers from its policy."

1989 Amendment: Near middle of (1), after "residential", deleted "and boarding"; near beginning of (4), after "residential", deleted "and boarding", after "limited to" substituted "the number of round trips to the student's residence as specified in the school calendar approved by the board of public education" for "one round trip to the student's residence each month during such times as the school is in session", and near end of second sentence, after "provided", substituted "for travel in excess of the total number of trips approved" for "more than nine times"; and made minor changes in phraseology.

1987 Statement of Intent: The statement of intent attached to Ch. 396, L. 1987, provided: "A statement of intent is required for this bill because section 1 [20-8-121] provides for rulemaking by the board of public education with regard to the method of and reimbursement for transportation of residential and boarding students at the Montana school for the deaf and blind to and from the student's residence during the school year.

It is the intent of the legislature that the board of public education adopt rules that consider the most cost-effective and convenient method of providing for the transportation of each residential student at the school, within the limitations of the act."

State Guaranteed Tax Base Aid Adjustments for Protested Valuation: Section 1, Ch. 540, L. 2005, provided: "For any school district that has taxable valuation that was protested for tax year 2002 through 2004 that exceeds 10% of the district's taxable valuation in each respective year, upon resolution of the protest, the superintendent of public instruction shall compare the amount that the school district would have been eligible to receive, using the revised valuation, to the amount of guaranteed tax base aid that the district general fund actually received. If the calculation exceeds the amount of guaranteed tax base aid paid to the school district's general fund, the superintendent of public instruction shall request an appropriation for the difference."

Effective Date — Retroactive Applicability. Section 2, Ch. 540, L. 2005, provided: "[This act] is effective on passage and approval and applies retroactively, within the meaning of 1-2-109, to school fiscal years beginning after June 30, 2002."

Preamble: The preamble attached to Ch. 633, L. 1993, provided: "WHEREAS, it is the intent of the Legislature to enhance both student equity and taxpayer equity for Montana public K-12 education by restructuring the funding and budget mechanisms for school district general fund budgets; and

WHEREAS, for these purposes, the Legislature determines that the foundation program funding mechanism of the past 4 decades be replaced with a public school funding system designed to yield greater equalization of both district general fund budgets per-ANB and district taxpayer efforts within a reasonable number of years; the Legislature has structured the base amount for school equity (BASE) funding program to contain components that can be modified to meet a number of state and school district objectives and economic realities but that will still maintain the essential elements of equalization as required by the Montana Constitution; and

WHEREAS, it is the intent of the Legislature that for the year of implementation of [this act], the Office of the Superintendent of Public Instruction focus first on implementing procedures and processes within [this act] and on assisting school districts to calculate and adopt adequate general fund budgets in compliance with [this act] and that, as soon as practical after the adoption of district final budgets, the Office of the Superintendent of Public Instruction implement essential rulemaking procedures; and

WHEREAS, the Legislature recognizes that school districts and the Office of the Superintendent of Public Instruction will need assistance in order to implement [this act] before the school fiscal year beginning July 1993 and intends that the Office of the Legislative Auditor provide available computer models and consultation, as necessary and as approved by the Legislative Audit Committee, to the Office of Public Instruction to ensure that a transition to the provisions of [this act] is accomplished with a minimum of delay and inconvenience to the districts; and

WHEREAS, the Legislature intends that the implementation of [this act] be accomplished with a minimum of additional reporting workload at the district and state level and that the Office of the Superintendent of Public Instruction, school districts, and county superintendents be strongly encouraged to implement electronic reporting and transmitting of data and information as soon as practical, using existing telecommunications networks, computer diskettes, or any other standardized means practicable; and

WHEREAS, in developing any request for proposals for software and data processing development, the superintendent of public instruction shall solicit input from school officials and organizations to accomplish the intent of [this act]."

Preamble: The preamble attached to Ch. 11, Sp. L. June 1989, provided: "WHEREAS, it is the intent of the Legislature to enhance equality of educational opportunity for students in the elementary schools and secondary schools of Montana by revising the school funding laws to provide greater equalization of the funding available to school districts and to promote equalization of school district expenditures per student. It is the further intent of the Legislature to preserve local control of the public school system, as guaranteed by Montana's Constitution.

For these purposes, the Legislature determines to equalize funding aid to the school districts through the foundation program [renamed 1993] for the school fiscal year ending June 30, 1991, in an amount equal to the following percentages of the total costs incurred by all the districts in the state in school fiscal year 1988: 90% of comprehensive insurance and 90% of general fund expenditures. The Legislature also determines to equalize funding for retirement costs by providing a guaranteed property tax mill value for those counties with a mill value per ANB less than the statewide mill value per ANB. The superintendent of public instruction is required to adopt rules to implement distribution of guaranteed tax base aid as provided in [sections 60 through 63] [20-9-366 through 20-9-369]. It is intended that the rules adopted ensure the eligibility of the requesting school districts and the accountability of the districts for the guaranteed tax base aid payments they receive.

The Legislature recognizes its responsibility to devise an equalized system of school funding and recognizes that measures in addition to the provisions in this bill are necessary to fully address equalization of funding and expenditures for transportation, retirement, capital improvements, and other needs of the districts. Because it is necessary to identify those factors that affect disparate expenditure patterns, to determine whether those factors are educationally relevant, and to develop data not currently available to devise methods of equitably funding those needs, the Legislature determines that a study should be conducted, as provided in [sections 53 through 59] [not codified], and that equitable funding methods for these needs should be addressed by the 52nd Legislature. It is not intended by the Legislature that the individual income tax surtax provide a long-term solution to the school equalization funding problems of Montana.

The Legislature acknowledges the constitutional guarantee of equal educational opportunity for each public school pupil in Montana. The Legislature also acknowledges the sound policy considerations for empowering local trustees to supervise and control the schools in the district, as required by the Montana Constitution. Therefore, to guarantee more equal expenditures per student in similarly sized schools throughout Montana, while also providing each district board of trustees the power to determine and meet the unique and individual needs of students and schools in the district, the Legislature determines that it is reasonable and necessary to establish a maximum general fund budget limitation for each district, except as provided in 20-9-315 [repealed 1993], of 135% of the district's foundation program [renamed 1993] amount. Because of different circumstances that exist from district to district, the Legislature finds that it is reasonable and necessary to permit that range of disparity in expenditures by similarly sized districts throughout the state.

The Legislature intends that the current system of funding county equalization with elementary and high school levies and other revenue sources be maintained without change in order to preserve the current method of providing equalized local support of schools. The statutory appropriation of all revenue earmarked to fund county equalization does not affect the manner in which that revenue is collected, controlled, and distributed to districts by the county. It is intended that a district eligible for federal funds under Title I of Public Law 81-874 will be able to maintain the local contribution rate as required by 20 U.S.C. 238(d)(3)(C) for continuing eligibility.

It is intended that while school districts may conduct more than 180 days of instruction, a school district may not receive foundation program [renamed 1993] support for more than 180 days of pupil instruction.

Under 20-3-106, 20-9-102, 20-9-201, 20-9-211, and 20-9-213, the Superintendent of Public Instruction is authorized to supervise school financial administration and to adopt rules establishing requirements for budgeting and financial administration of public school districts, including accounting and reporting requirements. Under 20-9-344, the Board of Public Education has authority to require any reports it considers necessary. It is intended that school districts be required to maintain accounting systems based on generally accepted accounting principles and that the Superintendent of Public Instruction adopt rules necessary to implement the requirement. The Superintendent of Public Instruction shall provide training and assistance to the districts as necessary to enable the districts to comply.

It is intended that the districts be required to file accurate and timely reports with the Superintendent of Public Instruction. Districts must be required to provide student and school district data as may be required by the Superintendent of Public Instruction concerning the condition of education in Montana, including personnel information, student and school district demographics, assessment of student and school district achievement, and other appropriate educational factors necessary to enable the Legislature to assess the equality of educational opportunity being provided by the public school districts and to determine the amount of state aid to be distributed to school districts. Districts shall also provide data to meet grant requirements and other national reporting needs.

It is intended that the Superintendent of Public Instruction conduct training and provide forms for the personnel responsible for completing reports. Whenever possible, the Superintendent of Public Instruction shall develop methods for collecting educational data electronically, using formats consistent with school district data processing capabilities. The educational data must be maintained in an electronic format easily accessible by other state agencies and the Legislature.

State equalization aid and county equalization money may be withheld from school districts, as provided by 20-9-344, that do not comply with accounting and reporting requirements.

It is intended that the Superintendent of Public Instruction employ additional personnel during fiscal year 1990 and fiscal year 1991, not to exceed the appropriation, for the purpose of establishing standard accounting and reporting practices in the public school districts and for implementing the additional provisions of this bill.

The Legislature determines that if county equalization revenue is deficient because of noncollected tax payments, state equalization aid may be provided to offset the delinquency."

Chapter Case Notes

Failure of Legislature to Define Quality Education — Inability of Court to Determine That Education System Adequately Funded: The District Court held that the state system of funding public education was unconstitutional under Art. X, sec. 1(3), Mont. Const., but did not violate the equal protection clause in Art. II, sec. 4, Mont. Const. On appeal, the Supreme Court held that because the Legislature has not defined what "quality" means, it was not possible to conclude that the current funding system was designed to provide a quality education. Although deferring to the Legislature to provide a definition of a quality education, given the unchallenged findings of the District Court regarding Art. X, sec. 1(3), Mont. Const., the Supreme Court nevertheless concluded that whatever definition the Legislature devises, the current system was not sufficiently grounded in principles of quality to be considered constitutional. Because the unconstitutionality of the present funding system was affirmed, the Supreme Court held that the District Court need not have addressed the equal protection issue, so the District Court was directed to vacate its conclusion that the present system did not violate equal protection. Columbia Falls Elementary School District No. 6 v. St., 2005 MT 69, 326 M 304, 109 P3d 257 (2005). In Stroebe v. St., 2006 MT 19, 331 M 23, 127 P3d 1051 (2006), plaintiffs also challenged the constitutionality of Montana's system of funding public schools. The District Court granted the state's motion for summary dismissal on grounds that the equitable funding challenge was not currently justiciable. On appeal, the Supreme Court noted that plaintiffs' issues had been previously addressed in Columbia Falls, id., and that the circumstances under which plaintiffs brought the present case had sufficiently changed under Columbia Falls, so that rendering another decision while the funding system was undergoing legislative reform would not only interfere with the Columbia Falls decision but would decide a question that was essentially moot. The equitable funding challenge was therefore not currently justiciable, and the appeal was dismissed.

Public School Funding System Unconstitutional: The guarantee of equality of educational opportunity applies to each person in the state and is binding on all branches of government, whether at the state, local, or school district level. As a result of the failure to adequately fund the foundation program (renamed 1993), thereby forcing an excessive reliance on permissive levies, the state failed to provide a system of quality public education granting to each student the equality of educational opportunity guaranteed under the Montana Constitution. Spending disparities among Montana school districts further resulted in a denial of equality of educational opportunity. Therefore, the 1985-86 system of funding public elementary and secondary schools was a violation of Art. X, sec. 1, Mont. Const. (See 1989 and 1993 amendments.) School District v. St., 236 M 44, 769 P2d 684, 46 St. Rep. 169 (1989).

Allocation of Proceeds Under Settlement Agreement: Proceeds under a settlement agreement may be allocated in proper portion to any appropriately established building reserve fund of school districts within a county. The proceeds may not be allocated to any building fund of those school districts. 41 A.G. Op. 67 (1986).

Attendance Unit on Hutterite Colony Premises — Establishment — Closure — Finance: A school district board of trustees may establish a separate attendance unit on the premises of a Hutterite colony located in the district. Closure of an attendance unit on the premises of a Hutterite colony is a matter within the discretion of the board of trustees of the school district involved, and the trustees have no authority to make an agreement to the contrary. The colony may effectively close an attendance unit by failing to renew the lease agreement if no similar space is available for its continued operation. Operational costs of an attendance unit must be budgeted and financed in the manner provided by law. Any agreement between the school district and the colony for private financing would be unenforceable. 38 A.G. Op. 26 (1979).

2015 Amendment: (Temporary version) Chapter 405 in (4) at beginning inserted exception clause and inserted "including any portion attributable to a tax increment remitted under 7-15-4291"; in (5) at beginning inserted exception clause; inserted (9) regarding an exception provision concerning a 15% fund balance limit; and made minor changes in style. Amendment effective May 5, 2015.

(Version effective July 1, 2020) In (4) inserted "including any portion attributable to a tax increment remitted under 7-15-4291"; in (5) at beginning inserted exception clause; inserted (9) regarding an exception provision; and made minor changes in style.

Transition: Section 4, Ch. 405, L. 2015, provided: "(1) A school district that has executed an agreement with a local government pursuant to 7-15-4291 on or before [the effective date of this act] [May 5, 2015] shall prepare a transition plan.

(2) (a) The transition plan must be limited to paying contractual obligations that were incurred prior to [the effective date of this act] [May 5, 2015] when the increment was anticipated as a funding source for the contract when the contract was executed. In order to qualify as an obligation, there must be a written signed contract meeting all elements of 28-2-102 between a school district and a third party. Evidence of a contract does not include the listing of a capital project on a list or plan that was created before [the effective date of this act] [May 5, 2015].

(b) (i) If the obligation relates to paying bonded indebtedness, a district may utilize the remittance for the life of the bond issue.

(ii) If the obligation relates to other contracts, a district may utilize the increment to pay for the contracted project until the end of the contract.

(3) For the purpose of subsection (2), a contract does not include the agreement with a local government pursuant to 7-15-4291.

(4) If a portion of the increment does not satisfy the conditions of subsection (2), it must be expended according to the provisions of [sections 1 through 3] [7-15-4251, 20-9-104, and 20-9-141]."

Applicability: Section 6, Ch. 405, L. 2015, provided: "(1) Except as provided in subsection (2), [this act] applies to tax increment financing districts created after December 31, 1979.

(2) A school district that has executed an agreement with a local government pursuant to 7-15-4291 on or before [the effective date of this act] [May 5, 2015] is subject to the provisions of [section 4] [a transition section]."

2013 Amendment: (Temporary version) Chapter 329 deleted former (5) that read: "(5) For fiscal year 2012, any unreserved fund balance in excess of 15% of a school district's maximum general fund budget must be remitted to the state to be deposited in the state general fund"; in (5) at beginning deleted "Beginning in fiscal year 2013"; inserted (5)(b) concerning school facility and technology account; deleted former (6)(b) and (6)(c) that read: "(b) 5% of the excess amount must be remitted to the state to be deposited in the state school oil and natural gas impact account provided for in 20-9-517; and

(c) 25% of the excess amount must be deposited in the county school oil and natural gas impact fund provided for in 20-9-518"; inserted (8) excluding certain amounts from expenditures applied against budget authority; deleted former (9) that read: "(9) Prior to June 30, 2011, a school district may transfer any general fund money in excess of 15% of the fiscal year 2011 general fund budget that is not needed to fund the budget to any budgeted fund considered appropriate by the trustees"; and made minor changes in style. Extension of Termination Date: Section 38, Ch. 400, L. 2013, amended sec. 29, Ch. 418, L. 2011, by extending the termination date imposed by Ch. 418 to June 30, 2020. Effective May 6, 2013.

2011 Amendment — Code Commissioner Correction: Chapter 418 at end of (4) inserted "up to an amount not exceeding 15% of a school district's maximum general fund budget"; inserted (5) and (6) relating to amounts of reserve above 15% going to various accounts and funds; inserted (9) relating to transfers prior to June 30, 2011; and made minor changes in style. Amendment effective May 13, 2011, and terminates June 30, 2016.

Chapter 418 in (6) inserted an erroneous reference to remittance of unreserved fund balance "Beginning in fiscal year 2013". However, the sections creating a state account and county fund to which the remittance would flow are effective July 1, 2013, pursuant to sec. 28(2), Ch. 418, L. 2011. To meet the intent of remitting the unreserved fund balance for the applicable fiscal year, the erroneous reference was changed to "July 1, 2013" pursuant to sec. 49, Ch. 19, L. 2011. In a letter dated April 20, 2012, the code commissioner notified the office of public instruction and the department of revenue that the code commissioner correction made to this section was being retracted, and the language was changed back to "fiscal year 2013".

Applicability: Section 28(1), Ch. 418, L. 2011, provided that this section applies to school fiscal year 2012.

2001 Amendment: Chapter 237 deleted former (5)(b) that read: "(b) a district was entitled to as a general bonus payment prior to July 1, 1994"; and made minor changes in style. 1999 Amendment: Chapter 554 deleted former (5)(a)(iv) that read: "(iv) received as a local government severance tax payment for calendar year 1995 production as provided in 15-36-325"; and made minor changes in style. Amendment effective January 1, 2000.

Saving Clause: Section 16, Ch. 554, L. 1999, was a saving clause.

Applicability: Section 19(1), Ch. 554, L. 1999, provided that this section applies to oil and natural gas produced and sold and to wells drilled after December 31, 1999.

1995 Amendments: Chapter 18 at end of (3) deleted "except that districts with a balance on June 30, 1993, in the excess reserve account for Public Law 81-874 funds shall transfer the June 30, 1993, balance to the impact aid fund established in 20-9-514"; and at beginning of (5) deleted "For fiscal year 1994 and subsequent fiscal years".

Chapter 451 inserted (5)(a)(iv) regarding severance tax payments; and made minor changes in style. Amendment effective January 1, 1996.

Chapter 506 inserted (5)(b) that read: "(b) any amount a district was entitled to as a general bonus payment prior to July 1, 1994"; and made minor changes in style. Amendment effective April 15, 1995.

Applicability: Section 55, Ch. 451, L. 1995, provided: "(1) [This act] applies to oil and natural gas produced and sold on or after January 1, 1996.

(2) (a) [Sections 21 through 26] [7-1-2111, 7-7-2101, 7-7-2203, 7-14-2524, 7-14-2525, and 7-16-2327] apply to county fiscal years beginning after June 30, 1996.

(3) (a) An operator is subject to provisions of Title 15, chapter 23, parts 1 and 6 [part 6 now repealed]; Title 15, chapter 36; Title 15, chapter 38; and Title 82, chapter 11, part 1, as those laws read on December 31, 1995, for all oil and natural gas produced and sold by the operator before January 1, 1996. [On December 31, 1995, Title 15, ch. 36, contained only part 1, now repealed. Part 3 of that chapter became effective January 1, 1996.]

(b) Except as provided in subsection (3)(c), the payment, collection, and distribution of taxes on oil and natural gas production occurring before January 1, 1996, must be made according to the provisions of the laws referred to in subsection (3)(a) governing the tax in effect on the last day of the tax period in which the activity, enterprise, or product being taxed was engaged in, took place, or was produced and sold.

(c) [Section 19] [15-36-325, now repealed] applies to the payment, collection, and distribution of the local government severance tax for oil and natural gas produced and sold after December 31, 1994, and before January 1, 1996.

(d) All taxes collected pursuant to audit or collected after the date the tax is payable under the laws referred to in subsection (3)(a) must be distributed according to the statute governing allocation of the tax in effect on the date when the tax liability was incurred."

1993 Special Session Amendments: Chapter 35 at end of (4), after "20-9-141(1)(b)", deleted "(iii)". Amendment effective July 1, 1994.

Chapter 36 in (5), after "less than", deleted "one or more of the following"; deleted former (5)(b) that read: "(b) any amount received as a general bonus payment under 20-6-401"; and made minor changes in style. Amendment effective July 1, 1994.

Applicability: Section 3, Ch. 35, Sp. L. November 1993, provided that this section applies to school district general fund budgets for the school fiscal year beginning July 1, 1994.

Saving Clause: Section 5, Ch. 36, Sp. L. November 1993, was a saving clause.

1993 Amendment: Chapter 633 in (1), in second sentence after "(5)", substituted "and (6)" for "through (7)"; in (3) substituted "BASE budget levy, the over-BASE budget levy, or the additional" for "permissive levy provided by 20-9-145 or to reduce the voted" and after "20-9-353" inserted exception clause; deleted former (5)(a) providing that limitation is not applicable to "any amount received under Public Law 81-874"; and deleted (7) that read: "(7) For fiscal year 1993, the limitation of subsection (1) does not apply when the amount in excess of the limitation is equal to or less than the amounts identified by a school district as one or more of the following:

(a) any amount received under Public Law 81-874;

(b) the unused balance of any amount received:

(i) in settlement of tax payments protested in a prior school fiscal year;

(ii) in taxes from a prior school fiscal year as a result of a tax audit by the department of revenue or its agents; and

(iii) in delinquent taxes from a prior school fiscal year; or

(c) any amount received as a general bonus payment under 20-6-401." Amendment effective July 1, 1993.

Contingent Effective Date: Section 11, Ch. 633, L. 1993, deleted the version of this section that was effective on occurrence of contingency.

Attorney General's Opinions

Transfer of End-of-the-Year General Fund Balance Required: There is no basis for the conclusion that school district trustees may establish or maintain the compensated absence liability fund only with the positive difference between initially budgeted and actually expended amounts. Rather, school district trustees may transfer any portion of the end-of-the-year general fund balance, as that term is used in this section, into the compensated absence liability fund subject to the limitations in 20-9-512. 45 A.G. Op. 27 (1994).

Case Notes

Approval of Budget Prerequisite to Issuing Warrants: Under former statute, where County Commissioners had refused to approve school district budget on the grounds that the district had not been legally created, which contention was found invalid by the court, although time for action on the budget and levy of taxes had passed, the board was compelled to act by mandamus since approval of the budget was a necessary prerequisite to the issuance of warrants. Because the district was valid and had funds available from other sources, it should be enabled to issue warrants to meet its expenses. State ex rel. School District v. Lensman, 108 M 118, 88 P2d 63 (1939).

Separation of Appropriation Items Required: Under former School District Budget Act, each item in the district's budget constituted an appropriation for a definite and specific purpose and could not be paid out for another, except that a part of an appropriation for one item might be transferred to another when it appears that there was an excess appropriation for the one and a deficiency in the other. Attorney General's Opinions

Appropriations to Community Colleges — Budget Procedure: The budget for community college districts must be approved by the Board of Regents and fit into the Budget Act procedure of 17-7-101, et seq. It is a budget request which may be altered by the chief budget officer and which is ultimately subject to legislative approval. While 65% state funding of community colleges is the goal, the Legislature may or may not appropriate an amount equal to 65% of the districts' proposed budgets. If it does not, an additional levy, which must be approved by the voters in the district, is authorized to make up the deficiency. The General Appropriation Act of 1979 does no more than reflect this entire statutory scheme, especially the requirements of 20-15-301, et seq. The General Appropriation Act of 1979 properly appropriates state funds to the community colleges. 38 A.G. Op. 54 (1979).

If a taxpayer is delinquent in the payment of prior taxes, the county treasurer may offset the delinquency rather than make a refund. A copy of the calculations made in fixing the tax levies under this subsection and calculations of any refunds must be delivered to the legislative auditor, the office of public instruction, and the department of revenue."

Case Notes

Special Tax Levy — Teachers' Retirement: Under the applicable 1974 statutes the Flathead County Board of County Commissioners had authority to levy a special tax to finance the Flathead Valley Community College district's teachers' retirement fund contribution separate from other levies made to finance the general fund, building debt service, and adult education program. Burlington N., Inc. v. Flathead County, 176 M 9, 575 P2d 912 (1978).

Attorney General's Opinions

Levies Designated for Community College District Retirement Costs Limited to Property Within District: The requirement in 20-9-501 that the County Superintendent of Schools determine each district's net retirement fund separately, together with the language in this section requiring Boards of County Commissioners to fix and levy taxes on real and personal property in a district, indicates the Legislature's intent that levies designed for community college district retirement costs be limited to property in the community college district, not all property in the county. Therefore, the Board of County Commissioners of a county in which a community college district is located may not issue a tax levy to fund the teachers' retirement obligations of the community college district against property that is located in the county but outside the community college district. Rather, the levy may be imposed only on property within the community college district. 47 A.G. Op. 17 (1998).

Factoring of "874" Money Into Equalization Formula: A state may factor Pub. L. No. 81-874 revenue into its school finance equalization system only if the system meets the federal definition of an equalized program, subject to the determination of the Secretary of Education. School District v. St., 236 M 44, 769 P2d 684, 46 St. Rep. 169 (1989).

Attorney General's Opinions

PRIOR TO 1993 SCHOOL FINANCE REVISION

Federal Funds to Be Applied to Permissive Levy:

No statutory changes since the issuance of 38 A.G. Op. 97 (1980), have affected the basis that under state law, a school district may deposit Pub. L. No. 81-874 money into any operating budget. However, the conclusion that if that money is allocated to the general fund budget, it must first be applied toward the permissive levy amount is incorrect, at least until Montana is certified under 20 U.S.C. 240(d)(2)(i) as a state that may consider that money in determining the amount of state aid available to a school district. 44 A.G. Op. 41 (1992).

Federal funds received under P.L. 81-874, intended to relieve increased tax burdens due to federal installations or activity, may be allocated by the trustees of a school district to any of its operating budgets that are supported by levies on property in the district. If such funds are allocated to the general fund budget, they must first be applied toward the permissive levy amount. 38 A.G. Op. 97 (1980).

Case Notes

Judgment Debt as Emergency: A judgment secured by a teacher against a school district in December 1932 was not paid, and in August 1933 she instituted mandamus proceedings to compel payment. At that time the district, working under the former statutory budget system, had funds on hand no longer covered by appropriations made under the 1932-33 budget, to pay the claim. The District Court erred in dismissing mandamus proceeding, in that the claim of relatrix constituted an emergency which it was the duty of the board of trustees to meet by payment even though it had in the meantime attempted to utilize such funds in making up the budget for 1933-34. Use of Adult Education and Transportation Funds Prohibited in New School Construction: Under the 2009 version of 20-9-208, the transfer of funds from one budgeted fund to another budgeted fund is restricted, particularly if the funding source is a property tax levy. Property taxes levied to support adult education and transportation funds may be transferred to the school flexibility fund as long as the transfer is within or directly related to the purposes for which the funds were raised, for example, to support adult education or transportation. A transfer of property taxes for any other purpose, such as constructing a new school, is invalid. Transferred funding sources cannot be converted to flex fund revenues or cash balances to cover expenditures authorized for flex fund purposes. A county or school board may demand an accounting to determine how funds were transferred, budgeted, and spent. If liability exists, a county, school board, or citizen with standing may pursue any remedy provided by law. 54 A.G. Op. 6 (2012).

AFTER 1993 SCHOOL FINANCE REVISION

Conditions for Transfer of School District Bus Depreciation Reserve Fund: Resolving an apparent statutory conflict regarding the transfer of a school district bus depreciation reserve fund, a budgeted fund, the Attorney General applied the specific provisions of 20-10-147 over the general provisions of 20-9-208 and this section in holding that before a school district may transfer any money in the district's bus depreciation reserve fund to any other district fund, the school district trustees must have sold all of the district's buses and submitted the proposed fund transfer to the electors of the district. 51 A.G. Op. 6 (2005).

PRIOR TO 1993 SCHOOL FINANCE REVISION

Federal Funds to Be Applied to Permissive Levy:

No statutory changes since the issuance of 38 A.G. Op. 97 (1980), have affected the basis that under state law, a school district may deposit Pub. L. No. 81-874 money into any operating budget. However, the conclusion that if that money is allocated to the general fund budget, it must first be applied toward the permissive levy amount is incorrect, at least until Montana is certified under 20 U.S.C. 240(d)(2)(i) as a state that may consider that money in determining the amount of state aid available to a school district. 44 A.G. Op. 41 (1992).

Federal funds received under P.L. 81-874, intended to relieve increased tax burdens due to federal installations or activity, may be allocated by the trustees of a school district to any of its operating budgets that are supported by levies on property in the district. If such funds are allocated to the general fund budget, they must first be applied toward the permissive levy amount. 38 A.G. Op. 97 (1980).

Use of School Bus Depreciation Fund: The trustees of a school district may pay for the cost of replacement of a bus or radio from a bus depreciation reserve fund established under 20-10-147 if depreciation taken on the bus or radio since its acquisition has been credited to the reserve fund. In replacing any such bus or radio, the trustees are not limited to paying an amount from the fund which equals the accumulated depreciation credited to the fund on account of the replaced vehicle. 37 A.G. Op. 153 (1978).

Effective Date — Applicability: Section 30, Ch. 489, L. 1991, provided: "(1) Except as provided in (2), [this act] is effective July 1, 1992, and applies to the fiscal year ending June 30, 1992.

Case Notes

No Standing to Challenge to Award of Public School Transportation Contract on Statutory Grounds: Plaintiff provided bus service to a school district for about 24 years, but in 2001, the district elected to accept bids for the service. Plaintiff submitted the lowest bid, but the district decided to reject the bid on grounds that plaintiff was not a responsible bidder. The contract was awarded to another bidder, and plaintiff challenged the contract on statutory grounds, claiming that the district violated 18-1-201, 20-10-125, and this section. The Supreme Court declined to address any statutory violations because plaintiff lacked standing to bring the complaint under the criteria in Debcon, Inc. v. Glasgow, 2001 MT 124, 305 M 391, 28 P3d 478 (2001). Hickey v. Baker School District No. 12, 2002 MT 322, 313 M 162, 60 P3d 966 (2002), distinguishing State ex rel. Sletten Constr. Co. v. Great Falls, 163 M 307, 516 P2d 1149 (1973), and E.H. Oftedal & Sons, Inc. v. St., 2002 MT 1, 308 M 50, 40 P3d 349 (2002).

Transportation Contracts Not Within Statute: Section 1016, Rev. Codes 1935 (now repealed), did not require the trustees of a school district to call for bids for transportation of pupils. In re Transportation of School Children, 117 M 618, 161 P2d 901 (1945).

Transportation for Trustee's Child Not Within Statute: Statute was not violated by an agreement between the board of trustees and member thereof, upon closing a school, to furnish his children with transportation to or board, rent, and tuition at the location of the school to which they were transferred. State ex rel. Lien v. School District, 106 M 223, 76 P2d 330 (1938).

County High School Trustees: Section 1016, Rev. Codes of 1935 (now repealed), was inapplicable to county high school trustees. Missoula County Free High School v. Smith, 91 M 419, 8 P2d 800 (1932).

Taxpayer's Action Allowed: A taxpayer may maintain an action in behalf of a school district against its board of trustees to procure the cancellation of a contract for supplies alleged to have been fraudulently let by it. School District v. Richards, 62 M 141, 205 P 206 (1922).

Attorney General's Opinions

Sale and Installation of Carpet in School — Public Contractor's License Required: Title 37, ch. 71, which requires a person performing public construction work to have a public contractor's license, and ARM 8.115.301 (now repealed), which broadly construed the definition of public construction work, apply to persons or firms that contract to sell and install carpeting on school district property when the value of the contract exceeds $5,000. 43 A.G. Op. 67 (1990).

Public School District Trustee as Private School Employee — No Conflict of Interest: There is no direct link between being employed by a private school and acting as a trustee for a public school district. The mere fact that a school trustee is employed by a private school located in the public school district results in no inherent conflict of interest, ethical problem, or breach of fiduciary duty. 42 A.G. Op. 44 (1987).

School Contracts — Trustee's Delegation of Power to Superintendent: A School District Superintendent does not have the inherent power to enter a contract on behalf of the school district. A Superintendent is the executive officer of the board of trustees and in this capacity merely acts to execute policy adopted by the board. A school district board of trustees may delegate a portion of its exclusive power to contract to the Superintendent if the delegated power involves only the performance of administrative nondiscretionary acts. 40 A.G. Op. 41 (1984).

Health Insurance Plan — No Requirement for Bid: A school district is not required by this section to let bids on employer-provided employee health plans. 40 A.G. Op. 37 (1984).

School Trustees — Conflict of Interest: It is unlawful for a corporate business in which a school board trustee is a minor stockholder to furnish supplies for the operation and maintenance of the school. 37 A.G. Op. 78 (1977). See also 34 A.G. Op. 31 (1972).

ARM 10.10.320 Cash and budget transfers between school district funds.

Attorney General's Opinions

Conditions for Transfer of School District Bus Depreciation Reserve Fund: Resolving an apparent statutory conflict regarding the transfer of a school district bus depreciation reserve fund, a budgeted fund, the Attorney General applied the specific provisions of 20-10-147 over the general provisions of 20-9-201 and this section in holding that before a school district may transfer any money in the district's bus depreciation reserve fund to any other district fund, the school district trustees must have sold all of the district's buses and submitted the proposed fund transfer to the electors of the district. 51 A.G. Op. 6 (2005).

Transfer of Funds From General Fund to Debt Service Fund — Use of General Fund Money to Pay Bond Principal and Interest Not Allowed — Repayment: Except for the transfer provided for under 20-9-443 when all bonds and interest have been fully paid, no authority exists for financing the debt service fund from a transfer of money from the general fund or by allocating general fund money for payment of bond principal and interest. Under this section, the transfer of budgeted amounts between funds, unless specifically authorized by law, is prohibited. (See 2001 amendment.) A school district that received more guaranteed tax base aid than that to which it was entitled because of an unauthorized transfer between funds is required to reimburse the state for the overpayment. 44 A.G. Op. 41 (1992).

Activity Bus Expenses: School district trustees must conform their budget to the accounting procedure prescribed by the Superintendent of Public Instruction, which requires itemizing the expenses of activity buses under the general fund rather than the transportation fund. 38 A.G. Op. 86 (1980).

Allowable Expenditures Under Bus Depreciation Reserve Fund: The bus depreciation reserve fund allowed under 20-10-147 merely provides for replacement of transportation and activity buses and does not expand use of the transportation fund budget to pay expenses for operation of activity buses. 38 A.G. Op. 86 (1980).

Warrants Drawn in Anticipation of Revenue — Legislative Intent: Although sections 964 and 1012, Rev. Codes of 1921 (now repealed), authorized school trustees to issue warrants in anticipation of school money from uncollected taxes to the extent of the sum levied, the Legislative Assembly did not extend the privilege of going on the pay-as-you-go plan to school districts, as it did to cities and towns. Part Case Notes

PRIOR TO 1993 SCHOOL FINANCE REVISION

School Funding Lawsuit — District Court Opinion With Appeal Pending: A District Court decision rendered January 13, 1988, held unconstitutional the method of funding Montana's school system. The schools were to continue operating under existing statutes until October 1, 1989, to allow the Legislature time to correct the deficiencies. Helena Elementary School District No. 1 v. State of Montana, Cause No. ADV-85-370, First Judicial District, Lewis and Clark County. On appeal, the Montana Supreme Court affirmed in part the District Court decision, ruling that the state's failure to adequately fund the foundation program forced an excessive reliance on permissive levies and violated Art. X, sec. 1, Mont. Const., by denying equality of educational opportunity to each student. School District No. 1 v. St., 236 M 44, 769 P2d 684, 46 St. Rep. 169 (1989).

Constitutionality: Although enacted in anticipation of constitutional change, 20-9-301 (repealed 1993) did not become effective until after the effective date of the new constitution and is therefore constitutionally valid. State ex rel. Woodahl v. Straub, 164 M 141, 520 P2d 776 (1974); certiorari denied, Straub v. Woodahl, 419 US 845, 42 L Ed 2d 73, 95 S Ct 79 (1974).

Part Attorney General's Opinions

PRIOR TO 1993 SCHOOL FINANCE REVISION

Transfer of Funds From General Fund to Debt Service Fund — Use of General Fund Money to Pay Bond Principal and Interest Not Allowed — Repayment: Except for the transfer provided for under 20-9-443 when all bonds and interest have been fully paid, no authority exists for financing the debt service fund from a transfer of money from the general fund or by allocating general fund money for payment of bond principal and interest. Under 20-9-208, the transfer of budgeted amounts between funds, unless specifically authorized by law, is prohibited. A school district that received more guaranteed tax base aid than that to which it was entitled because of an unauthorized transfer between funds is required to reimburse the state for the overpayment. 44 A.G. Op. 41 (1992).

Budgeting for Seventh and Eighth Grade Students: The amount of general fund budget per ANB for the 7th and 8th grade students in an elementary school should be the same as that computed for the high school district within which the elementary school is located. 37 A.G. Op. 154 (1978).

Obligation to Provide Special Education: School districts are not entitled to deny special education services to children in need thereof who live within the district on the basis of the fact that the legal residence of child's parent or guardian is elsewhere. 37 A.G. Op. 148 (1978), clarifying 37 A.G. Op. 98 (1977).

Special Education — Funding and Services: A school district may not establish a special education policy wholly independent of state funding. A special education program established by a district is not required to serve children in group homes within the district who are not legal residents but may do so cooperatively or by contract. 37 A.G. Op. 98 (1977).

2005 Special Session Amendment — Code Commissioner Clarification: (Version effective July 1, 2006) Chapter 4 in (2) substituted "20-9-311" for "20-9-311(12)". Amendment effective July 1, 2006.

(Former July 1, 2007, version) Inserted (1) defining ANB as the current year ANB; inserted (2) providing that the 3-year average ANB does not apply to special education cost payment calculations; and made minor changes in style.

Because the effect of the amendments to the July 1, 2007, version was to make the section identical to the July 1, 2006, version, the code commissioner has not codified the July 1, 2007, version. The amendments also rendered the termination date provided in sec. 25(2), Ch. 462, L. 2005, ineffective.

Case Notes

Mines Net Proceeds Taxes and Resource Indemnity Trust Taxes Settlement Agreement — Payments Distributed According to Mill Levies in Year Settlement Paid: Under a settlement agreement in 1992, Cyprus paid to Madison County back mines net proceeds taxes and resource indemnity trust taxes for the years 1980-1987. The county brought a summary judgment action to allow it to distribute the payment to certain Madison County taxing districts rather than according to the mill levies in place on the date when the funds were received, including the state university levies and the county and state school equalization aid payments. The county argued that application of school funding equalization taxes to Cyprus's settlement for 1980-1987 taxes was improper retroactive taxation because not all of the equalization laws were in effect in those years. The District Court granted summary judgment to the county. The Supreme Court held that no retroactivity issue existed and that the settlement paid was property tax revenue that must be distributed according to the mills levied in the year that the settlement was paid. Madison County v. St., 1998 MT 285, 291 M 446, 968 P2d 732, 55 St. Rep. 1160 (1998).

Attorney General's Opinions

Allocation of County Share of Taylor Grazing Act Funds: Pursuant to 17-3-222 and this section, a county must allocate its share of funds provided by the federal government to the state under the Taylor Grazing Act, 43 U.S.C. 315i, in the proportion of 50% to the county general fund and 50% to the equalization account of the elementary BASE funding program. 46 A.G. Op. 27 (1996).

Allocation of Justice's Court Fines and Costs: Section 46-18-235 provides a specific use for money collected as fines; therefore, fines and costs collected in Justice's Court and paid to the County Treasurer by the Justice of the Peace should be credited to the county general fund pursuant to 46-18-235 rather than to the equalization of the elementary district foundation programs (renamed 1993) of the county pursuant to the general use provision of 20-9-331. 41 A.G. Op. 39 (1985).

Forfeited Appearance Bonds — Credited to Elementary School District Foundation: Forfeited appearance bonds should be credited by the County Treasurer to the equalization of the county elementary school district foundation programs (renamed 1993) in the same manner as fines are credited under 20-9-331. This is the general method practiced as shown by audits of local government units. 38 A.G. Op. 96 (1980).

Case Notes

Accounting System Allowing Commingling of State Trust Revenue Constitutional: Plaintiff challenged the state's alleged improper commingling of state land trust assets, including rental and bonus payments on certain coal leases, into the general fund, asserting that the accounting system violated the state's duty to obtain full market value for school trust lands. The District Court concluded that plaintiff failed to prove financial harm to the school trust beneficiaries, particularly when the Legislature's appropriation to public schools far exceeded the combined money provided by the interest income and the bonus payments. On appeal, the Supreme Court affirmed. The state satisfied its trust obligations by demonstrating that its accounting system was sufficiently accurate and complete to allow plaintiff to ascertain that all trust revenue goes to benefit public schools, while plaintiff failed to carry its burden of proving that the state withheld either the interest income or the bonus payments or improperly diverted those funds to nontrust purposes. Thus, the state statutory scheme did not breach the state's trustee duty by requiring the deposit of interest income and bonus payments into the general fund. In (2), instead of repeating language on the Montana telecommunications network, reference was made to subsection (1)(b) to maintain the consistency of the subsection.

Coordination Instruction: Section 3, Ch. 729, L. 1991, was a coordination instruction that voided the substantive amendments to this section contained in sec. 1, Ch. 729, L. 1991, and replaced them as reflected in the 1991 amendment note.

Amendments to subsections (1) and (3) through (5) effective July 1, 1990. Amendments to subsection (2), relating to guaranteed tax base aid and state equalization aid, effective August 11, 1989.

1987 Amendments: Chapter 370 at beginning of (3)(c) substituted "the amount provided in 15-35-108" for "10%" (not codified, redundant with Ch. 662 amendment); at end of (3)(g) deleted "shall be paid into the same state special revenue fund"; and at end of (4) deleted "[or may be transferred to the state permissive account if revenues in that fund are insufficient to meet the state's permissive amount obligation]".

Chapter 662 in (1), (3)(a), (3)(b), (3)(d), and (3)(e) changed "moneys" to "money"; in (3)(c) changed "10%" to "100%", after "of the" substituted "money allocated to state equalization" for "moneys received", and after "coal" deleted "under chapter 35 of Title 15"; and in (3)(f) substituted "education trust" for "local impact and education trust".

Chapter 666 in (3)(a) changed "25%" to "31.8%"; and near end of (3)(b), after "corporation license", inserted "and income".

(2) Section 8 is effective July 1, 1987.

(3) Unless otherwise specified or required by a particular section of this act, sections 1 through 7 apply retroactively, within the meaning of 1-2-109, to tax years beginning after December 31, 1986."

Severability: Section 13, Ch. 662, L. 1987, was a severability section.

Void Amendment: The amendment in sec. 1, Ch. 2, L. 1987, was voided by sec. 12, Ch. 662, L. 1987.

1986 Amendment: In (3)(d) increased from 62½% to 100% the portion of oil and gas royalties allocated to state equalization aid.

1983 Amendment: Substituted references to state special revenue fund for references to earmarked revenue fund.

1981 Amendment: Chapter 317 inserted (2) relating to a single biennial appropriation; and inserted (4) relating to use of surplus revenue in the equalization aid account.

Inconsistent Language: Chapter 540, L. 1981, entitled "An Act to simplify utilization of funds available for financing the foundation program and permissive portions of public school budgets; amending sections 20-9-345, 20-9-351, and 20-9-352 [20-9-352 repealed effective July 1, 1990 — sec. 94, Ch. 11, Sp. L. June 1989], MCA" purported to abolish the permissive levy account by deleting all references to that account in the three sections amended. For this reason and because sec. 1 of Ch. 540 deleted from 20-9-345 language requiring that unencumbered funds remaining in the public school equalization earmarked revenue account at the end of the year be transferred to the state permissive school levies earmarked revenue account, the Code Commissioner has placed brackets around similar language in subsection (4), which was added by Ch. 317, L. 1981, to indicate that this language is apparently inconsistent with the elimination of the state permissive account.

Federal Statute: The Mineral Lands Leasing Act, referred to in this section, is compiled in the U.S.C. as Title 30, § 181, et seq.

The amendment made by Ch. 6, Sp. L. July 1992, provides for a schedule of foundation program and guaranteed tax base aid payments. Because the amendment made by Senate Bill No. 1 terminates June 30, 1993, the provision in sec. 14(2), Ch. 6, Sp. L. July 1992, is ineffective.

Retroactive Applicability: Section 15(2), Ch. 6, Sp. L. July 1992, provided that the amendments to this section apply retroactively to revenue collections under 20-9-331 and 20-9-333 for the school fiscal year beginning July 1, 1992.

Amendment effective July 1, 1990.

1986 Amendment: In (2)(a) at end inserted "and in a manner that would most effectively meet the financial needs of districts"; and inserted (4) relating to first state equalization aid payment.

Contingent Effective Date: Section 2, Ch. 18, Sp. L. Chapter 7, Sp. L. June 1986, effective June 30, 1986, reduced such budget schedules. Chapter 18, Sp. L. June 1986, was effective July 10, 1986.

Administrative Rules

Title 10, chapter 23, subchapter 1, ARM Permissive and voted amounts — levies.

Case Notes

No Application to Parochial Schools: School board adopting resolution calling for special tax levy for expending funds for employment of teachers to teach secular subjects in parochial school violated former statutes dealing with special levies since statutes pertained to public schools only. State ex rel. Chambers v. School District, 155 M 422, 472 P2d 1013 (1970).

Attorney General's Opinions

Federal Funds to Be Applied to Permissive Levy:

No statutory changes since the issuance of 38 A.G. Op. 97 (1980), have affected the basis that under state law, a school district may deposit Pub. L. No. 81-874 money into any operating budget. However, the conclusion that if that money is allocated to the general fund budget, it must first be applied toward the permissive levy amount is incorrect, at least until Montana is certified under 20 U.S.C. 240(d)(2)(i) as a state that may consider that money in determining the amount of state aid available to a school district. 44 A.G. Op. 41 (1992).

Federal funds received under P.L. 81-874, intended to relieve increased tax burdens due to federal installations or activity, may be allocated by the trustees of a school district to any of its operating budgets that are supported by levies on property in the district. If such funds are allocated to the general fund budget, they must first be applied toward the permissive levy amount. (See 1985 amendment.) 38 A.G. Op. 97 (1980).

Electorate Approval Not Required: Due to statutory changes in 20-9-353, 28 A.G. Op. 58 (1960) is modified to delete the requirement of electorate approval for the use of P.L. 81-874 funds in excess of the amount that a 15-mill levy would produce. (See 1985 amendment.) 38 A.G. Op. 97 (1980).

Taxation — Levy for Liability Insurance: The levy provided by 2-9-212 does not require an election. The school trustees may authorize the levy upon determining that it is in the best interests of the school district. The annual property tax may be used to fund all policies of insurance required or permitted by law. 37 A.G. Op. 109 (1978), reversing contrary language in 35 A.G. Op. 44 (1973).

Case Notes

Mines Net Proceeds Taxes and Resource Indemnity Trust Taxes Settlement Agreement — Payments Distributed According to Mill Levies in Year Settlement Paid: Under a settlement agreement in 1992, Cyprus paid to Madison County back mines net proceeds taxes and resource indemnity trust taxes for the years 1980-1987. The county brought a summary judgment action to allow it to distribute the payment to certain Madison County taxing districts rather than according to the mill levies in place on the date when the funds were received, including the state university levies and the county and state school equalization aid payments. The county argued that application of school funding equalization taxes to Cyprus's settlement for 1980-1987 taxes was improper retroactive taxation because not all of the equalization laws were in effect in those years. The District Court granted summary judgment to the county. The Supreme Court held that no retroactivity issue existed and that the settlement paid was property tax revenue that must be distributed according to the mills levied in the year that the settlement was paid. Part 4
School Bonds

20-9-401. Applicable laws for school district bonding.

Case Notes

Public Works Law Not Special Legislation: Former section dealing with undertaking of public works program by trustees was not unconstitutional as a deprivation of due process or a special law. Lorang v. High School District, 126 M 204, 247 P2d 477 (1952).

Apportioned Total Debt Not to Exceed Limitations: Chapter 275, L. 1947 (sections 75-4601 through 75-4606, R.C.M. 1947, now repealed), was unconstitutional as decided in the Rankin case only insofar as it purported to authorize the high school district to incur indebtedness to the full amount permitted by the state constitution irrespective of the debts of the common school districts comprising the high school district. Such high school districts had the authority to issue bonds and incur indebtedness so long as such indebtedness, when apportioned among the common school districts in proportion to the assessed valuation of the property in each and this part added to the existing indebtedness of the common school districts respectively, did not bring the debt of any of the latter in excess of the limit prescribed by Art. XIII, sec. 6, 1889 Mont. Const. Wright v. Browning High School District, 125 M 495, 240 P2d 862 (1952).

High School Districts' Public Works Program Subject to Debt Limitation: Chapter 275, L. 1947 (sections 75-4601 through 75-4606, R.C.M. 1947, now repealed), was held unconstitutional as contravening Art. XIII, sec. 6, 1889 Mont. Const., because it was merely an attempt to expand the constitutional limit of indebtedness by pyramiding another tax unit upon the identical property and taxpayers of a school district. Rankin v. Love, 125 M 184, 232 P2d 998 (1951). This case expressly overrules House v. School District, 120 M 319, 184 P2d 285 (1947).

Loans to Repay Void Bonds Held Constitutional: The act of February 18, 1895, authorizing repayment of loans advanced to trustees in reliance upon bonds subsequently declared void, was constitutional. State ex rel. NW. Nat'l Bank v. Dickerman, 16 M 278, 40 P 698 (1895).

1981 Amendment: Increased 29% to 45% wherever it appears.

Effect of 1981 Amendment: The primary purpose of Ch. 614, L. 1981, was to replace the system of taxation of automobiles and light trucks with a fee system. With the adoption of the fee system, automobiles and light trucks are no longer taxable property. The resulting loss of taxable valuation has a direct effect on the amount of indebtedness a political subdivision can incur. Thus it was necessary in Ch. 614 to increase the percentage of taxable valuation used as a limitation on indebtedness to offset the loss of taxable valuation attributable to automobiles and light trucks.

Validation: Section 64, Ch. 614, L. 1981, provided: "Notwithstanding any provisions of this act, any outstanding indebtedness or bond issue on January 1, 1982, of any governmental subdivision is not invalidated because of any changes in the taxable valuation of the subdivision due to removal of automobiles and trucks having a rated capacity of three-quarters of a ton or less from the tax base."

Case Notes

Overlapping Districts Subject to Property Tax Limitations: Under former statute, where a high school district was created which overlapped the common school districts, such high school district could incur indebtedness so long as such indebtedness, when apportioned among the common school districts in proportion to the assessed valuation of the property in each and this part, added to the existing indebtedness of the common school districts, did not bring the debt of any of the latter in excess of the limit prescribed by Art. XIII, sec. 6, 1889 Mont. Const. Wright v. Browning High School District, 125 M 495, 240 P2d 862 (1952), decided prior to 1958 amendment of Art. XIII, sec. 6, 1889 Mont. Const.

High School Districts Added to Existing School District: Under former statute, where a high school district was created and the effect was to divide the powers already exercised by a school district in an attempt to expand the constitutional limit of indebtedness by the pyramiding of another tax unit upon the identical property and taxpayers of the existing school district, an injunction was properly issued restraining the trustees of the district from becoming indebted to a sum greater than the then constitutional limit of 3% of the value of the taxable property, but such injunction was inoperative after date that raise of indebtedness limit to 5% became effective. Rankin v. Love, 125 M 184, 232 P2d 998 (1951), overruling House v. School District, 120 M 319, 184 P2d 285 (1947).

Issuing Less Bonds Than Authorized at Election: Under former statute, issuance of public bonds in a lesser amount than that authorized by the election does not warrant injunction against their issuance. State ex rel. Berthot v. Gallatin County High School District, 102 M 356, 58 P2d 264 (1936).

Case Notes

Rescission of Valid Election Not Authorized: There is no provision of the written law of this state that accords to the electors of a school district the right to petition either the school board or the courts to set aside or rescind a valid bond election simply because some of the electors may desire another election to vote on the question already voted upon, especially where no fraud is either alleged or shown in the conduct of the election already held. Schmiedeskamp v. Bd. of Trustees, 128 M 493, 278 P2d 584 (1955).

Authority to Purchase Site Not Implied in Bond Approval: Under former law, where the only question submitted to the electors of a school district of the second class was whether bonds in a given amount should be authorized for the purpose of erecting a school building, authorization to issue the bonds did not carry with it the implied authority to purchase a site, although question of acquisition might have been submitted as part of same proposition. Nichols v. School District, 87 M 181, 287 P 624 (1930).

Case Notes

No Authority in School Board to Remove Unqualified Voters From List of Registered Voters: Under this section a school board of trustees removed from the certified list of registered voters the names of several persons who the board determined were disqualified to vote. The court held that this section must be read with other statutes governing elections, including 20-20-303, concerning how an elector's qualifications may be challenged; 13-13-301, et seq., concerning how qualifications are determined; and 13-15-101, concerning general canvassing requirements. The court determined the school board had no authority to remove names of unqualified voters. Bischoff v. School District, 230 M 336, 749 P2d 533, 45 St. Rep. 253 (1988).

Failure to Canvass Bond Election: Failure of trustees to canvass vote as required by former statute did not make bonds issued by school district illegal and void. Long v. School District, 149 M 220, 425 P2d 822 (1967).

Attorney General's Opinions

Revision of Voter Registration List by School Trustees Prohibited: Montana law does not permit the exercise of discretion by anyone other than the election administrator to revise the number of names on a voter registration list, pursuant to Title 13, ch. 2, part 4. Therefore, school trustees are not permitted under this section to revise the number of voters on the certified list of registered electors when determining the percentage of voter turnout at a school bond election. 42 A.G. Op. 19 (1987).

Case Notes

Mandamus to Compel Issuance of Bonds — Time Limitation Suspended: Court would not compel board to issue bonds for construction of school where board was making good faith effort to solve financial aspects of building the proposed school. Litigation that was instituted to test validity of bond election suspended the running of 60-day period in the former statute. State ex rel. Tilzey v. School District, 149 M 509, 428 P2d 974 (1967).

Bond Sale Resolution — Minutes Not Incomplete: Under former law, school bond election was not invalid for failure of clerk to set out in full in minute books of board of trustees resolution authorizing sale of bonds, in absence of showing that resolution itself was defective, since minute books need not reflect exact contents of resolution. Elliot v. School District, 149 M 299, 425 P2d 826 (1967).

Delay in Issuance of Bonds — Time Limitations Directory: Delay in the issuance of bonds, occasioned by litigation and negotiations with the federal government in the financing thereof under National Recovery Act, did not affect the legality of original authority voted by the district, the requirement to proceed within 60 days, under the former statute, being directory, not mandatory. State ex rel. Sullivan v. School District, 100 M 468, 50 P2d 252 (1935).

Case Notes

When School Bonds Become Binding: The act of delivery is essential to the very existence of public bonds as obligations binding on their issuers. Therefore, school bonds become binding upon taxpayers on the date the bonds are delivered, not on the date of issuance. 45 A.G. Op. 8 (1993).

Attorney General's Opinions

Transfer of Funds From General Fund to Debt Service Fund — Use of General Fund Money to Pay Bond Principal and Interest Not Allowed — Repayment: Except for the transfer provided for under 20-9-443 when all bonds and interest have been fully paid, no authority exists for financing the debt service fund from a transfer of money from the general fund or by allocating general fund money for payment of bond principal and interest. Under 20-9-208, the transfer of budgeted amounts between funds, unless specifically authorized by law, is prohibited. A school district that received more guaranteed tax base aid than that to which it was entitled because of an unauthorized transfer between funds is required to reimburse the state for the overpayment. 44 A.G. Op. 41 (1992).

Anticipated Tax Delinquencies Includable in Budget: Anticipated delinquencies in tax payments may be included in the computations in preparing a school's debt service fund in the preliminary budget and in setting the levy for the ensuing school fiscal year. 43 A.G. Op. 21 (1989).

Debt Service Fund Deficit to Be Included in Budget: When the debt service fund of a school district contains a deficit from the previous school year, the deficit should be included in the budget and the levy for the ensuing school fiscal year. 43 A.G. Op. 21 (1989).

Increase in Preliminary Budget Limited to Amount of Bonds and Assessments in Treasurer's Statement: A County Superintendent may increase the preliminary budget amount in the debt service fund only to the amount of obligations for bonds and special improvement district assessments contained in the County Treasurer's statement pursuant to 20-9-121. 43 A.G. Op. 21 (1989).

Limited Cash Reserve Not Includable in Debt Service Fund: The limited cash reserve in the debt service fund is made up of a portion of the cash balance of the fund at the end of the fiscal year. Thus, if there is no cash surplus, there can be no limited cash reserve for the next fiscal year. Therefore, trustees are not required to include a limited cash reserve in the debt service fund of the preliminary budget. Even if there is a cash surplus in the debt service fund, trustees are not required to designate a portion for the next fiscal year. 43 A.G. Op. 21 (1989).

Transfer of Funds From General Fund to Debt Service Fund — Use of General Fund Money to Pay Bond Principal and Interest Not Allowed — Repayment: Except for the transfer provided for under this section when all bonds and interest have been fully paid, no authority exists for financing the debt service fund from a transfer of money from the general fund or by allocating general fund money for payment of bond principal and interest. Under 20-9-208, the transfer of budgeted amounts between funds, unless specifically authorized by law, is prohibited. (However, see 2001 amendment to 20-9-208.) A school district that received more guaranteed tax base aid than that to which it was entitled because of an unauthorized transfer between funds is required to reimburse the state for the overpayment. 44 A.G. Op. 41 (1992).

County High School Bonds — Surplus: The money remaining in bond debt service fund after payment of a bond debt incurred for a county high school must be transferred to the county general fund unless the Board of County Commissioners directs that such funds be transferred to another series or issue of county bonds. 37 A.G. ARM 10.10.320 Cash and budget transfers between school district funds.

Part Attorney General's Opinions

Use of Adult Education and Transportation Funds Prohibited in New School Construction: Under the 2009 version of 20-9-208, the transfer of funds from one budgeted fund to another budgeted fund is restricted, particularly if the funding source is a property tax levy. Property taxes levied to support adult education and transportation funds may be transferred to the school flexibility fund as long as the transfer is within or directly related to the purposes for which the funds were raised, for example, to support adult education or transportation. A transfer of property taxes for any other purpose, such as constructing a new school, is invalid. Transferred funding sources cannot be converted to flex fund revenues or cash balances to cover expenditures authorized for flex fund purposes. A county or school board may demand an accounting to determine how funds were transferred, budgeted, and spent. If liability exists, a county, school board, or citizen with standing may pursue any remedy provided by law. 54 A.G. Op. 6 (2012).

Compiler's Comments

2013 Amendment: Chapter 389 in (4)(a)(iv) substituted "20%" for "35%". Amendment effective July 1, 2013.

Preamble: The preamble attached to Ch. 389, L. 2013, provided: "WHEREAS, Article VIII, section 15, of the Montana Constitution requires that "Public retirement systems shall be funded on an actuarially sound basis"; and

WHEREAS, Article VIII, section 15, of the Montana Constitution requires that "Public retirement system assets, including income and actuarially required contributions, shall not be encumbered, diverted, reduced, or terminated and shall be held in trust to provide benefits to participants and their beneficiaries and to defray administrative expenses"; and

WHEREAS, the unprecedented collapse of the financial markets in 2008 through 2009 and the subsequent slow rate of economic recovery has resulted in little or no prospect that current statutory contribution rates together with future market returns will be sufficient to fund the Teachers' Retirement System on an actuarially sound basis, and current contributions remain insufficient to pay the past and future accruals of retirement benefits for members currently in the system; and

WHEREAS, failure to return the system to a position of actuarially sound funding places the benefits to be paid to current system participants in jeopardy and results in collection of employee contributions for which future benefits may not be guaranteed; and

WHEREAS, the current and increasing level of unfunded liabilities has the potential to compromise the credit ratings of the state of Montana and of local government entities, including public school districts; and

WHEREAS, because reasonable increases in employer contributions and reasonable reductions in benefits for future participants alone will not be sufficient to return the system to a position of actuarially sound funding, increased contributions for current and future participants and reduced benefits for future participants are also necessary to return the system to a position of actuarially sound funding; and

WHEREAS, section 19-20-501, MCA, provides that benefits and refunds to eligible recipients are payable pursuant to a contract as contained in statute, and this proposed legislation does not diminish the current or future pension benefits promised to current system participants; and

WHEREAS, during the past two legislative sessions and interims, the Legislature, interim committees, the retirement system board and staff, and the Governor's office have analyzed a range of alternatives for returning the system to a position of actuarially sound funding without raising contract impairment issues for current members, but recent actuarial analysis continues to show that the system remains actuarially unsound; and

WHEREAS, due to significant strains on the Montana economy, state and local government budgets, and taxpayers, a modest supplemental contribution rate increase of 1% applied to current retirement system members, with appropriate mechanisms to reduce or terminate the supplemental contribution rate as system funding improves, in conjunction with additional employer and state contributions, is, pursuant to the language of U.S. Trust Company of New York v. New Jersey, 431 U.S. 1 (1977), concerning contract impairment, reasonable and necessary and is the least impairing alternative available to the Legislature as it seeks to fulfill its constitutional obligation to ensure the retirement system is funded in an actuarially sound manner."

Case Notes

Special Tax Levy — Teachers' Retirement: Under the applicable 1974 statutes the Flathead County Board of County Commissioners had authority to levy a special tax to finance the Flathead Valley Community College district's teachers' retirement fund contribution separate from other levies made to finance the general fund, building debt service, and adult education program. Burlington N., Inc. v. Flathead County, 176 M 9, 575 P2d 912 (1978).

Attorney General's Opinions

Levies Designated for Community College District Retirement Costs Limited to Property Within District: The requirement in this section that the County Superintendent of Schools determine each district's net retirement fund separately, together with the language in 20-9-142 requiring Boards of County Commissioners to fix and levy taxes on real and personal property in a district, indicates the Legislature's intent that levies designed for community college district retirement costs be limited to property in the community college district, not all property in the county. Therefore, the Board of County Commissioners of a county in which a community college district is located may not issue a tax levy to fund the teachers' retirement obligations of the community college district against property that is located in the county but outside the community college district. Rather, the levy may be imposed only on property within the community college district. (See 1999 amendment.) 47 A.G. Op. 17 (1998).

Case Notes

Authority of Board of Trustees to Proceed With School Construction Without Voter Approval — Use of Insurance Proceeds — Contiguous Property: A citizens' group contended that a school district Board of Trustees lacked the authority to construct a new middle school without first getting approval from the voters for the purchase of the property. The District Court correctly found that the Board had authority to proceed with construction: (1) without an election if the cost could be financed without exceeding the maximum-general-fund-budget-without-a-vote amount, as set out in 20-6-603; (2) using insurance proceeds to credit the district building fund under this section; and (3) without a site approval election if the property was contiguous to an existing site that was in use for school purposes under 20-6-621. Attorney General's Opinions

Transfer of End-of-the-Year General Fund Balance Required: There is no basis for the conclusion that school district trustees may establish or maintain the compensated absence liability fund only with the positive difference between initially budgeted and actually expended amounts. Rather, school district trustees may transfer any portion of the end-of-the-year general fund balance, as that term is used in 20-9-104, into the compensated absence liability fund subject to the limitations in this section. 45 A.G. Case Notes

Accounting System Allowing Commingling of State Trust Revenue Constitutional: Plaintiff challenged the state's alleged improper commingling of state land trust assets, including rental and bonus payments on certain coal leases, into the general fund, asserting that the accounting system violated the state's duty to obtain full market value for school trust lands. The District Court concluded that plaintiff failed to prove financial harm to the school trust beneficiaries, particularly when the Legislature's appropriation to public schools far exceeded the combined money provided by the interest income and the bonus payments. On appeal, the Supreme Court affirmed. The state satisfied its trust obligations by demonstrating that its accounting system was sufficiently accurate and complete to allow plaintiff to ascertain that all trust revenue goes to benefit public schools, while plaintiff failed to carry its burden of proving that the state withheld either the interest income or the bonus payments or improperly diverted those funds to nontrust purposes. Thus, the state statutory scheme did not breach the state's trustee duty by requiring the deposit of interest income and bonus payments into the general fund. Case Notes

Accounting System Allowing Commingling of State Trust Revenue Constitutional: Plaintiff challenged the state's alleged improper commingling of state land trust assets, including rental and bonus payments on certain coal leases, into the general fund, asserting that the accounting system violated the state's duty to obtain full market value for school trust lands. The District Court concluded that plaintiff failed to prove financial harm to the school trust beneficiaries, particularly when the Legislature's appropriation to public schools far exceeded the combined money provided by the interest income and the bonus payments. On appeal, the Supreme Court affirmed. The state satisfied its trust obligations by demonstrating that its accounting system was sufficiently accurate and complete to allow plaintiff to ascertain that all trust revenue goes to benefit public schools, while plaintiff failed to carry its burden of proving that the state withheld either the interest income or the bonus payments or improperly diverted those funds to nontrust purposes. Thus, the state statutory scheme did not breach the state's trustee duty by requiring the deposit of interest income and bonus payments into the general fund. 1985 Amendment: Near middle of (1) after "unforeseen emergencies", substituted "as defined in 20-9-802" for "or by reason of any other cause and for which the school district is not entitled to apportionment credit".

Case Notes

Construction With Other Statutes — Conflicts: Provision in 20-1-301, prior to 1983 amendment, that "Any district that fails to provide for at least 180 school days of pupil instruction shall not be entitled to receive any apportionment of the state interest and income funds. Any such forfeited money shall be apportioned by the county superintendent to the other elementary districts of his county" is obviously ambiguous as to whether it applies to high school districts or only to elementary school districts. Since this section provides that for each day short of the minimum school days required by law, for which a district is not entitled to apportionment credit, the equalization apportionment and entitlement of the district for that year shall be reduced by 1/180th, and since the interest and income funds referred to in this section are integrated with the equalization funds, the two sections are so conflicting that they require legislative review and revision; and in the meantime, since they are penal statutes, courts are powerless to apply them. Therefore, a high school that held 18 days less than the required 180-day minimum due to a teacher strike was entitled to its interest and income money regardless of the statutes. Preamble: The preamble attached to Ch. 711, L. 1991, provided: "WHEREAS, the Legislature recognizes its responsibility to develop a more equalized system of funding school transportation. Use of Adult Education and Transportation Funds Prohibited in New School Construction: Under the 2009 version of 20-9-208, the transfer of funds from one budgeted fund to another budgeted fund is restricted, particularly if the funding source is a property tax levy. Property taxes levied to support adult education and transportation funds may be transferred to the school flexibility fund as long as the transfer is within or directly related to the purposes for which the funds were raised, for example, to support adult education or transportation. A transfer of property taxes for any other purpose, such as constructing a new school, is invalid. Transferred funding sources cannot be converted to flex fund revenues or cash balances to cover expenditures authorized for flex fund purposes. A county or school board may demand an accounting to determine how funds were transferred, budgeted, and spent. If liability exists, a county, school board, or citizen with standing may pursue any remedy provided by law. 54 A.G. Op. 6 (2012).

1995 Amendment: Chapter 298 inserted definition of bus route; in definition of eligible transportee, in (a), substituted "reached the age of 21 on or before September 10 of the current school year" for "attained his 21st birthday" and inserted (c)(ii) regarding transportation identified as a related service; inserted definitions of passenger seating position, transportation service area, and weighted ridership; adjusted subsection references; and made minor changes in style. Amendment effective July 1, 1995.

1993 Amendment: Chapter 359 near beginning of (3)(a), after "residence", inserted "or an officially designated bus stop". Amendment effective July 1, 1993.

1991 Amendment: In definition of transportation deleted former (b) that read: "(b) a district's conveyance of a pupil by a school bus between his regular school of attendance and the vocational-technical secondary schools designated by the trustees for his attendance if the secondary school is located in some other school district"; in definition of eligible transportee, in (a) after "birthday", inserted "or who is a preschool child with disabilities between the ages of 3 and 6"; and made minor changes in style. Amendment effective May 15, 1991.

1991 Name Change — Code Commissioner Instruction: Changed term "handicapped child" to "child with disabilities" or "handicapped children" to "children with disabilities", pursuant to sec. 10, Ch. 249, L. 1991, which directed the Code Commissioner to change the terms wherever they appear in Title 20 and in all law enacted by the 52nd Legislature.

Retroactive Applicability: Section 59, Ch. 767, L. 1991, provided that this section applies retroactively, within the meaning of 1-2-109, to the school fiscal year beginning July 1, 1990.

Code Commissioner Correction: The Code Commissioner has substituted the department of justice for the division of motor vehicles in this section, because sec. 14, Ch. 503, L. 1985, repealed 2-15-2002, which had statutorily created the division, and sec. 1, Ch. 503 amended Title 61, Motor Vehicles, to substitute "department" for "division" throughout that title. The apparent intent was to eliminate the statutory status of the division, and therefore the Code Commissioner has changed statutory references accordingly (see 1-11-101(2)(g)).

1983 Amendment: Substituted definition of school bus for former definition that read: "A 'school bus' shall mean any motor vehicle which is owned by a district or other public agency or by a carrier under contract with such a district or public agency and which complies with the bus standards established by the board of public education as determined by the Montana division of motor vehicles' semiannual inspection of school buses and the superintendent of public instruction."

Case Notes

Substantial Evidence of Residency: When respondents left their ranch within the county for the purpose of earning an income and educating their children, returned to the property each summer, intended to maintain the ranch as their residence, and paid county property taxes, there was substantial evidence from which the District Court could conclude that respondents were residents of the county and that therefore their children were "eligible transportees" within the meaning of this section. The meaning of "legal residence" for the purposes of this section is to be determined in accordance with the rules set forth in 1-1-215. School District v. Simonsen, 210 M 100, 683 P2d 471, 41 St. Rep. 944 (1984).

Attorney General's Opinions

Small Transit-Type Bus Considered School Bus — National School Bus Standards Applicable: Under the definition in this section, a small, transit-type bus that is smaller than a Greyhound bus but larger than a nine-passenger van is a school bus and may not be used to transport students to extracurricular activities unless it meets the standards contained in the 1990 National Standards for School Buses, including paint requirements, adopted by the Board of Public Education. 45 A.G. Op. 30 (1994).

"Eligible Transportee" Construed — Permission Required for Attendance Outside District Before Transportation Provided: To be designated an "eligible transportee" for purposes of the school transportation statutes, a pupil must reside more than 3 miles from the closest school, regardless of the school's location inside or outside the resident school district. If an eligible transportee wishes to attend a school outside his district, the pupil must obtain permission from the resident district school board in order to be provided transportation by the resident district. 42 A.G. Op. 115 (1988).

Fourteen-Passenger Van as School Bus: Although a passenger van owned by two school districts for transporting students to and from activity events is the general type of vehicle contemplated by the exclusion in the definition of "school bus", it constitutes a bus under the definition if its passenger capacity exceeds nine. 40 A.G. Op. 53 (1984).

Allowable Expenditures Under Bus Depreciation Reserve Fund: The bus depreciation reserve fund allowed under 20-10-147 merely provides for replacement of transportation and activity buses and does not expand use of the transportation fund budget to pay expenses for operation of activity buses. 38 A.G. Op. 86 (1980).

1989 Amendment: In (4) substituted "form approved by the United States department of transportation or" for "blank provided"; in (5), in two places in first sentence, substituted "basic first aid" for "standard first aid" and near end, before "first aid", inserted "basic"; and made minor changes in grammar. Amendment effective July 1, 1989.

Attorney General's Opinions

Responsibility for Cost of Required Medical Examination: The medical examination for school bus drivers mandated by this section is a requirement of certification established by the Legislature rather than a requirement for employment imposed by the employer school district or school bus contractor. Therefore, under 39-2-301, school bus contractors and school districts which employ school bus drivers are not responsible for paying the costs of the medical examination; rather, the cost is the responsibility of the employee or applicant. 41 A.G. Op. 69 (1986).

Age of School Bus Driver: Article II, sec. 14, Mont. Const., provides that a person 18 years of age or older is an adult for all purposes, and a 1973 amendment to 61-5-112 provided that no person under age 18 may obtain a chauffeur's license to drive a school bus. Since 20-10-103(1) was enacted in 1971 and rules of statutory construction provide that earlier statutes to the extent of any repugnancy are controlled by later statutes, 20-10-103(1) (prior to 1977 amendment) appears to have been repealed by implication and an individual must be 18 years of age or older to qualify as a school bus driver. 35 A.G. Op. 73 (1974).

20-10-104. Penalty for violating law or rules.

Compiler's Comments

1997 Amendment: Chapter 427 inserted (2) providing for forfeiture of transportation reimbursement for an unapproved bus route operated by a district in violation of law or policy; in first sentence in (3), after "district", inserted reference to 20-10-145 and 20-10-146 for all miles traveled, including miles traveled in compliance with and in violation of transportation laws or policies and in second sentence, after "superintendent", substituted "shall pay all reimbursements otherwise payable under 20-10-145 and 20-10-146, including amounts suspended during the violation" for "shall resume paying reimbursements to the district"; and made minor changes in style.

Attorney General's Opinions

"Transportation Law" Construed — Transportation Committee Decisions: A decision of a County Transportation Committee is "a transportation law" within the meaning of this section. 39 A.G. Op. 57 (1982).

Unapproved Bus Routes — Penalty for Following: The penalty for operating school buses in violation of routes approved by the County Transportation Committee is suspension of all reimbursements under 20-10-145 and 20-10-146 until the violation ceases and forfeiture of reimbursement for miles traveled in violation of the approved routes. 39 A.G. 1993 Amendment: Chapter 563 near beginning of second sentence, before "county", deleted "district or" and after "accordance with" substituted "20-5-321 through 20-5-323" for "20-5-301, 20-5-302, or 20-5-311"; and made minor changes in style.

1993 Statement of Intent: The statement of intent attached to Ch. 563, L. 1993, provided: "A statement of intent is required for this bill because [section 4] [20-5-323] of the bill gives the superintendent of public instruction authority to adopt administrative rules regarding a flat tuition rate for each funding category in the foundation program schedules, using statewide district expenditure and revenue data for certain funds."

Effective Date — Applicability: Section 22, Ch. 563, L. 1993, provided: "[This act] is effective for the school fiscal year beginning July 1, 1993, and applies to calculations and payments for tuition for the school fiscal year beginning July 1, 1993."

Case Notes

Governmental Immunity Waived — 1889 Constitution: Prior to adoption of the 1972 Montana Constitution, the statute requiring school districts to carry liability insurance to cover injuries and property damage that might arise in connection with operation and maintenance of school buses constituted waiver of governmental immunity to extent of insurance required to be carried or actually carried. Longpre v. Joint School District, 151 M 345, 443 P2d 1 (1968), distinguished in Murphy v. St., 248 M 82, 809 P2d 16, 48 St. Rep. 335 (1991).

Compiler's Comments

2001 Amendment: Chapter 237 in (1)(a) inserted "and operation"; in (1)(a)(i) at beginning substituted "the recommendations" for "minimum standards" and at end after ";" substituted "and" for "or"; in (1)(a)(ii) substituted "the federal motor vehicle safety standards" for "minimum standards adopted by the national highway traffic safety administration"; deleted former (1)(f) that read: "(f) prescribe other policies for the operation of school buses that are not inconsistent with:

(i) motor vehicle laws;

(ii) minimum standards adopted for school bus operation by the national conference on school transportation;

(iii) highway safety standards; and

(iv) the transportation provisions of this title"; and made minor changes in style. Amendment effective July 1, 2001, and applies to school budgets for the school fiscal years beginning on or after July 1, 2001.

1999 Amendment: Chapter 343 in (1)(a)(i) and (1)(f)(ii) substituted "national conference on school transportation" for "national commission on safety education"; in (1)(a)(ii) substituted "national highway traffic safety administration" for "national highway safety bureau"; and made minor changes in style. Amendment effective July 1, 1999.

Effective Date — Applicability: Section 16, Ch. 343, L. 1999, provided: "[This act] is effective July 1, 1999, and applies to school budgets for school fiscal years beginning on or after July 1, 1999."

1989 Amendment: Deleted former (2) and (3) that read: "(2) The board of public education may grant permission to the trustees of any district to use for transportation a four-wheel drive vehicle capable of transporting eight passengers or less that meets the minimum standards for these vehicles as prescribed by the board of public education if this type of vehicle will not be used to transport more than eight pupils per trip.

(3) Whenever the board of public education grants the trustees of a district permission to use a four-wheel drive vehicle under the provisions of subsection (2), the reimbursement to the district shall be based on the on-schedule rate of 20 cents per mile"; and made minor changes in phraseology. Amendment effective July 1, 1990.

Code Commissioner Correction: The Code Commissioner has substituted the department of justice for the division of motor vehicles in this section, because sec. 14, Ch. 503, L. 1985, repealed 2-15-2002, which had statutorily created the division, and sec. 1, Ch. 503 amended Title 61, Motor Vehicles, to substitute "department" for "division" throughout that title. The apparent intent was to eliminate the statutory status of the division, and therefore the Code Commissioner has changed statutory references accordingly (see 1-11-101(2)(g)).

1981 Amendment: Inserted (2) and (3) relating to use and reimbursement for four-wheel drive vehicles, respectively.

Statement of Intent: The statement of intent attached to HB 662 (Ch. 455, L. 1981) provided: "A statement of intent is required for House Bill 662 because section 1 [20-10-111] delegates rulemaking power to the Board of Public Education.

The Board of Public Education is to promulgate rules prescribing minimum standards for four-wheel drive vehicles that are used as school buses. Case Notes

No Standing to Challenge to Award of Public School Transportation Contract on Statutory Grounds: Plaintiff provided bus service to a school district for about 24 years, but in 2001, the district elected to accept bids for the service. Plaintiff submitted the lowest bid, but the district decided to reject the bid on grounds that plaintiff was not a responsible bidder. The contract was awarded to another bidder, and plaintiff challenged the contract on statutory grounds, claiming that the district violated 18-1-201, 20-9-204, and this section. The Supreme Court declined to address any statutory violations because plaintiff lacked standing to bring the complaint under the criteria in Debcon, Inc. v. Such election shall be conducted in accordance with the school election laws. ARM 10.7.112 Summary of requirements for bus transportation for eligibility for state reimbursement.

Attorney General's Opinions

Unapproved Bus Routes — Penalty for Following: The penalty for operating school buses in violation of routes approved by the County Transportation Committee is suspension of all reimbursements under 20-10-145 and 20-10-146 until the violation ceases and forfeiture of reimbursement for miles traveled in violation of the approved routes. 39 A.G. Op. 57 (1982).

Activity Bus Expenses: School district trustees must conform their budget to the accounting procedure prescribed by the Superintendent of Public Instruction, which requires itemizing the expenses of activity buses under the general fund rather than the transportation fund. 38 A.G. Op. 86 (1980).

Allowable Expenditures Under Bus Depreciation Reserve Fund: The bus depreciation reserve fund allowed under 20-10-147 merely provides for replacement of transportation and activity buses and does not expand use of the transportation fund budget to pay expenses for operation of activity buses. 38 A.G. Op. 86 (1980).

Authority of Transportation Committee to Change Transportation Service Areas and School Bus Routes: After establishment of transportation areas and school routes for the proximate school year, a county transportation committee has continuing authority to consider new facts arising after transportation areas and school routes were established and, based upon such new facts, to change a transportation service area and approve, disapprove, or adjust proposed modifications to school bus routes which are submitted to it by a district board of trustees. (See 1995 amendment.) 37 A.G. Op. 17 (1977).

Transcript: The parties to a controversy before a county school transportation committee may not waive the making of a transcript in the absence of rules providing for appeal without a transcript promulgated by the Superintendent of Public Instruction as a transcript, although not necessarily a verbatim stenographic report, is required by 20-3-107 and 20-10-132 on an appeal to the Superintendent from a decision of a county school transportation committee. 35 A.G. Op. 53 (1973).

20-10-141. Schedule of maximum reimbursement by mileage rates.

Compiler's Comments

2003 Amendment: Chapter 550 in (2)(a) deleted from end of introductory clause "when the weighted ridership assigned to a bus route is not less than one-half of the rated capacity of the school bus"; in (2)(a)(i) increased amount from 85 cents to 95 cents and increased seating from 45 to 49; substituted (2)(a)(ii) through (2)(a)(v) setting mileage for categories of school buses for "when the rated capacity is more than 45 passenger seating positions, an additional 2.13 cents per bus mile for each additional passenger seating position in the rated capacity in excess of 45 must be added to a base rate of 85 cents per bus mile"; inserted (2)(b) relating to reimbursement for nonbus mileage; deleted former (3) and (4) that read: "(3) Reimbursement for nonbus mileage provided for in subsection (1) may not exceed 50% of the maximum reimbursement rate determined under subsection (2).

(4) When the weighted ridership assigned to a bus route is less than one-half of the rated capacity of the school bus, the rate per bus mile traveled must be computed as follows:

(a) determine the weighted ridership assigned to the bus route;

(b) multiply the number determined in subsection (4)(a) by two; and

(c) use the adjusted rated capacity determined in subsection (4)(b) as the rated capacity of the bus to determine the rate per bus mile traveled from the rate schedule in subsection (2)"; and made minor changes in style. Amendment effective July 1, 2003.

Retroactive Applicability: Section 18, Ch. 550, L. 2003, provided: "[This act] applies retroactively, within the meaning of 1-2-109, to actions taken by the trustees of a school district on or after March 27, 2003."

1995 Amendment: Chapter 298 in (2)(a), after "capacity of", deleted "not less than 12 but". Amendment effective March 30, 1995. The Code Commissioner has not codified the temporary version.

Chapter 298 in (2), in introductory clause, substituted "weighted ridership assigned to a bus" for "number of eligible transportees that board a school bus on an approved"; in (2)(a), after "capacity of", deleted "not less than 12 but" and after "45" substituted "passenger seating positions" for "children"; in (2)(b), in two places, substituted "passenger seating positions" for "children"; in (4), in introductory clause, and in (4)(a) substituted reference to weighted ridership for reference to number of eligible transportees; in (4)(b), after "two", deleted "and round off to the nearest whole number"; in (5), in first sentence after "number of", substituted "passenger seating" for "riding" and inserted second sentence regarding reimbursement in cases of bus modification; inserted (6) disallowing the number of pupils to exceed the seating positions; and made minor changes in style. Amendment effective July 1, 1995.

Retroactive Applicability: Section 12(3), Ch. 298, L. 1995, provided: "[Section 5] [version of 20-10-141 effective March 30, 1995, not codified] applies retroactively, within the meaning of 1-2-109, to the school fiscal year beginning July 1, 1994."

Termination: Section 13, Ch. 298, L. 1995, provided: "[Section 5] [version of 20-10-141 effective March 30, 1995, not codified] terminates July 1, 1995."

Case Notes

Payment for Transportation to Elementary School Outside District: Transportation to another elementary school outside the district was paid from a budget of the district under former law. State ex rel. Knaup v. Holland, 132 M 569, 319 P2d 516 (1957).

Transportation for High School Pupils: Transportation for high school pupils was provided at the expense of the state and county and not by the school district under former law. State ex rel. Knaup v. Holland, 132 M 569, 319 P2d 516 (1957).

Attorney General's Opinions

Activity Bus Expenses: School district trustees must conform their budget to the accounting procedure prescribed by the Superintendent of Public Instruction, which requires itemizing the expenses of activity buses under the general fund rather than the transportation fund. 38 A.G. Op. 86 (1980).

Allowable Expenditures Under Bus Depreciation Reserve Fund: The bus depreciation reserve fund allowed under 20-10-147 merely provides for replacement of transportation and activity buses and does not expand use of the transportation fund budget to pay expenses for operation of activity buses. 38 A.G. Op. 86 (1980).

2013 Amendment: Chapter 389 inserted (3) concerning school district disbursements; and made minor changes in style. Amendment effective July 1, 2013.

Preamble: The preamble attached to Ch. 389, L. 2013, provided: "WHEREAS, Article VIII, section 15, of the Montana Constitution requires that "Public retirement systems shall be funded on an actuarially sound basis"; and

WHEREAS, Article VIII, section 15, of the Montana Constitution requires that "Public retirement system assets, including income and actuarially required contributions, shall not be encumbered, diverted, reduced, or terminated and shall be held in trust to provide benefits to participants and their beneficiaries and to defray administrative expenses"; and

WHEREAS, the unprecedented collapse of the financial markets in 2008 through 2009 and the subsequent slow rate of economic recovery has resulted in little or no prospect that current statutory contribution rates together with future market returns will be sufficient to fund the Teachers' Retirement System on an actuarially sound basis, and current contributions remain insufficient to pay the past and future accruals of retirement benefits for members currently in the system; and

WHEREAS, failure to return the system to a position of actuarially sound funding places the benefits to be paid to current system participants in jeopardy and results in collection of employee contributions for which future benefits may not be guaranteed; and

WHEREAS, the current and increasing level of unfunded liabilities has the potential to compromise the credit ratings of the state of Montana and of local government entities, including public school districts; and

WHEREAS, because reasonable increases in employer contributions and reasonable reductions in benefits for future participants alone will not be sufficient to return the system to a position of actuarially sound funding, increased contributions for current and future participants and reduced benefits for future participants are also necessary to return the system to a position of actuarially sound funding; and

WHEREAS, section 19-20-501, MCA, provides that benefits and refunds to eligible recipients are payable pursuant to a contract as contained in statute, and this proposed legislation does not diminish the current or future pension benefits promised to current system participants; and

WHEREAS, during the past two legislative sessions and interims, the Legislature, interim committees, the retirement system board and staff, and the Governor's office have analyzed a range of alternatives for returning the system to a position of actuarially sound funding without raising contract impairment issues for current members, but recent actuarial analysis continues to show that the system remains actuarially unsound; and

WHEREAS, due to significant strains on the Montana economy, state and local government budgets, and taxpayers, a modest supplemental contribution rate increase of 1% applied to current retirement system members, with appropriate mechanisms to reduce or terminate the supplemental contribution rate as system funding improves, in conjunction with additional employer and state contributions, is, pursuant to the language of U.S. Trust Company of New York v. New Jersey, 431 U.S. 1 (1977), concerning contract impairment, reasonable and necessary and is the least impairing alternative available to the Legislature as it seeks to fulfill its constitutional obligation to ensure the retirement system is funded in an actuarially sound manner."

Severability: Section 25, Ch. 389, L. 2013, was a severability clause.

ARM 10.7.118 School transportation forms listed by form number.

Attorney General's Opinions

School Transportation Not Reimbursable During Emergency: The authority of the Governor under 10-3-104 to suspend the provisions of a regulatory statute during an emergency is discretionary. Therefore, when nothing in the Governor's executive order declaring a state of emergency specifically mentioned reimbursement for school transportation under this section, the state was not required to reimburse the costs for school bus transportation for districts closed in accordance with the declaration of emergency. 43 A.G. Op. 29 (1989).

Attorney General's Opinions

Conditions for Transfer of School District Bus Depreciation Reserve Fund: Resolving an apparent statutory conflict regarding the transfer of a school district bus depreciation reserve fund, a budgeted fund, the Attorney General applied the specific provisions of this section over the general provisions of 20-9-201 and 20-9-208 in holding that before a school district may transfer any money in the district's bus depreciation reserve fund to any other district fund, the school district trustees must have sold all of the district's buses and submitted the proposed fund transfer to the electors of the district. 51 A.G. Op. 6 (2005).

Activity Bus Expenses: School district trustees must conform their budget to the accounting procedure prescribed by the Superintendent of Public Instruction, which requires itemizing the expenses of activity buses under the general fund rather than the transportation fund. 38 A.G. Op. 86 (1980).

Allowable Expenditures Under Bus Depreciation Reserve Fund: The bus depreciation reserve fund allowed under 20-10-147 merely provides for replacement of transportation and activity buses and does not expand use of the transportation fund budget to pay expenses for operation of activity buses. 38 A.G. Op. 86 (1980).

Use of School Bus Depreciation Fund: The trustees of a school district may pay for the cost of replacement of a bus or radio from a bus depreciation reserve fund established under 20-10-147 if depreciation taken on the bus or radio since its acquisition has been credited to the reserve fund. In replacing any such bus or radio, the trustees are not limited to paying an amount from the fund which equals the accumulated depreciation credited to the fund on account of the replaced vehicle. 37 A.G. Op. 153 (1978).

Legislative Study of Postsecondary Education: Chapter 632, L. 1989, was a bill entitled: "An act establishing a legislative committee to consider issues related to the governance and funding of postsecondary education; providing an appropriation; and providing an effective date and a termination date." Effective July 1, 1989, and terminates June 30, 1991.

Preamble — Interim Study: The preamble attached to Ch. 632, L. 1989, provided: "WHEREAS, postsecondary education provides opportunities for the citizens of Montana to develop their educational potential; and

WHEREAS, as a result of the work of the University Funding Study Committee during the 1989 biennium, valuable conclusions were reached regarding the reliability and use of peer data and the level of funding for Montana postsecondary education institutions relative to peer institutions; and

WHEREAS, the conclusions reached on peer data have removed a major impediment to working cooperatively on elements of the higher education funding formula and have changed the direction for Montana University System budgeting; and

WHEREAS, the relationship between the Montana University System and the Legislature has been significantly improved by the work of the University Funding Study Committee; and

WHEREAS, further work is needed to more fully develop new budgeting formulas and to complete work on personnel and classroom enrollment systems; and

WHEREAS, the balance from the $150,000 appropriated by the 1987 Legislature to conduct the university funding study may be expended to support the costs of a postsecondary education study committee."

Part 1
General Provisions

20-15-102. Community college districts — name and corporate powers.

Case Notes

Administrative Tenure Not Contemplated: A community college may not grant continuing contract status (tenure) except to those persons specifically authorized to receive such status. Tenure for teachers is unique in public contracts of employment; its basis is academic freedom. It does not apply to an administrative position not requiring teacher certification. Sibert v. Community College, 179 M 188, 587 P2d 26 (1978).

Attorney General's Opinions

Power of Community College Trustees to Acquire and Dispose of Property: This section authorizes community college trustees to acquire and dispose of property in the same way as other types of school districts are statutorily permitted. 41 A.G. Op. 72 (1986).

20-15-103. Supervision and coordination by board of regents.

Case Notes

"Schoolteacher" — Higher Education Faculty Not Included: The plain and ordinary meaning of "schoolteacher" does not encompass higher education faculty, including community college faculty members, especially since community college faculty members are ultimately answerable to the Board of Regents. Community college faculty members are state employees for purposes of entitlement to payment for accumulated sick leave. Rippey v. Bd. of Trustees, 210 M 396, 682 P2d 1363, 41 St. Rep. 1117 (1984), followed, with regard to the fact that "teacher" does not include a community college instructor for tenure purposes, in Talley v. Flathead Valley Community College, 259 M 479, 857 P2d 701, 50 St. Rep. 889 (1993).

20-15-104. Pecuniary interest and letting contracts.

Amendment effective February 27, 2015.

2005 Amendment: Chapter 162 in (2) at beginning inserted exception clause pertaining to certain energy audits and energy performance contracts; and made minor changes in style. Amendment effective April 7, 2005.

20-15-106. Retirement systems for employees, teachers, and administrators.

Compiler's Comments

2009 Amendment: Chapter 282 in (1) at beginning after "Teachers" inserted "and administrators" and at end inserted "pursuant to the provisions of Title 19, chapter 20"; and in (2) at end inserted "pursuant to Title 19, chapters 2 and 3". Amendment effective July 1, 2009.

Attorney General's Opinions

Levies Designated for Community College District Retirement Costs Limited to Property Within District: The requirement in 20-9-501 that the County Superintendent of Schools determine each district's net retirement fund separately, together with the language in 20-9-142 requiring Boards of County Commissioners to fix and levy taxes on real and personal property in a district, indicates the Legislature's intent that levies designed for community college district retirement costs be limited to property in the community college district, not all property in the county. Therefore, the Board of County Commissioners of a county in which a community college district is located may not issue a tax levy to fund the teachers' retirement obligations of the community college district against property that is located in the county but outside the community college district. Rather, the levy may be imposed only on property within the community college district. 47 A.G. Op. 17 (1998).

Part 2
Organization and Trustees

20-15-202. Petition for organization of community college district.

Attorney General's Opinions

Creation of Community College District — Final Approval by Legislature — Ministerial Recommendation by Board of Regents: After local voters approve the creation of a new community college district, creation of the district is finally approved by the Legislature. Following legislative approval, the Board of Regents must make a recommendation, in the form of an organizational order, as to the advisability of creating the new district. 52 A.G. Op. 1 (2007).

20-15-203. Call of community college district organization election — proposition statement.

Compiler's Comments

2015 Amendment: Chapter 49 throughout section substituted references to the county election administrator for references to the regents; in (1) in first sentence inserted "responsible for conducting elections pursuant to 20-15-208" and in second sentence inserted "notify the regents of the petition and"; in (2) substituted "the county election administrator shall notify the regents and" for "the regents shall order the elementary districts encompassed by the proposed community college district to" and substituted "that, pursuant to 13-1-504(4), is not less than 85 days after the order" for "except that an election required by a petition received by the regents less than 60 days before the regular school election day must be held at the regular school election in the following school fiscal year"; in (3) near end substituted "county election administrator" for "Board of Regents at Helena, Montana"; and made minor changes in style. Amendment effective November 4, 2015.

1999 Amendment: Chapter 51 in (3) near end of proposition form after "day of ...." substituted "20..." for "19..."; and made minor changes in style. Amendment effective January 1, 2000.

Attorney General's Opinions

Creation of Community College District — Final Approval by Legislature — Ministerial Recommendation by Board of Regents: After local voters approve the creation of a new community college district, creation of the district is finally approved by the Legislature. Following legislative approval, the Board of Regents must make a recommendation, in the form of an organizational order, as to the advisability of creating the new district. 52 A.G. Op. 1 (2007).

20-15-204. Election of trustees — districts from which elected — terms of office.

Compiler's Comments

2015 Amendment: Chapter 49 in (1) at beginning substituted "Pursuant to 20-15-208, the board of regents shall call and the county election administrator shall conduct" for "The regents shall provide for" and in middle substituted "at the same time as the election to be held" for "at the election held"; in (2) in middle after "part of a high school district" inserted "within the community college district" and near end substituted "the remaining trustees must be elected" for "three trustees"; and made minor changes in style. Amendment effective November 4, 2015.

Attorney General's Opinions

City Judge Not to Hold Office as Community College Trustee: The provisions of Art. VII, sec. 10, Mont. Const., apply to all judges, including City Judges. Because the position of trustee of a community college district is considered an elective public office, a City Judge is constitutionally prohibited from holding office as an elected trustee of a community college district. 44 A.G. Op. 21 (1991).

20-15-207. Notice of organization election.

Compiler's Comments

2015 Amendment: Chapter 49 at end substituted "county election administrator in accordance with 13-1-108" for "regents, by publication in at least one newspaper of general circulation in each county or any portion of a county included in the proposed community college district, once a week for 3 consecutive weeks, the last insertion to be no more than 1 week prior to the date of the election"; and made minor changes in style. Amendment effective November 4, 2015.

20-15-208. Conduct of community college district elections — cost.

Compiler's Comments

2015 Amendment: Chapter 49 in (1) in middle inserted "concurrent" and after "election of trustees" substituted current language concerning conduct and supervision of community college district elections for "for such community college district shall be conducted, in accordance with the school election laws, by the trustees of the elementary districts ordered to call such election"; inserted (2) regarding community college district's board of trustees as governing body for subsequent elections; inserted (3) regarding administration of an election for a district within more than one county; inserted (4) referencing Title 13, chapter 1, part 5; in (5) substituted current language requiring the university system to pay for initial elections for former language that read: "The cost of conducting such election shall be borne by the districts"; and made minor changes in style. Amendment effective November 4, 2015.

20-15-209. Determination of approval or disapproval of proposition — subsequent procedures if approved.

2015 Amendment: Chapter 49 in (1) at end of first sentence deleted "and the coordinator of community college districts, from the results certified and attested", at beginning of second sentence inserted "The county election administrator", in fourth sentence after "the certificate of the" substituted "election" for "coordinator of community college districts", in fifth sentence substituted "county election administrator" for "regents"; and made minor changes in style. Amendment effective November 4, 2015.

2009 Amendment: Chapter 56 made section gender neutral; and made minor changes in style. Amendment effective October 1, 2009.

Composite Section: Section 20-15-209 was amended twice in 1971, once by Ch. 164, sec. 1 (approved March 3, 1971), and once by Ch. 407, sec. 2 (approved March 18, 1971). Neither amendment mentioned the other or included the changes made by the other. Chapter 164 deleted "or part of a county" after "county" in the present first and third sentences of the first paragraph and deleted a third sentence reading: "If the proposition carries in some county or counties or parts of counties but not in all portions of the area sought to be included within the district, the board of education shall determine whether the area in which the proposition carried by a majority vote meets the assessed valuation and high school pupil enrollment requirements for the organization of a community college district, and if so, shall establish the boundaries and make an order declaring the community college district organized in the area in which the proposition has carried by a majority vote."

Although Ch. 407 substituted "regents" for "board of education" in the above quoted sentence, perhaps indicating an intent that the sentence be left in the section, and did not delete "or part of the county" where deleted by Ch. 164, the compiler has made a composite section incorporating the changes made by both amendments since 20-15-201 requires that the proposed area of a district coincide with the boundaries of one or more counties and the changes made by Ch. 164 appear to make this section consistent with those requirements.

Chapter 407 also inserted the second sentence of the first paragraph, substituted "may" for "shall" in the third sentence shown in the text, and substituted "co-ordinator of community college districts" for "superintendent of public instruction" and "regents" for "board of education" throughout the section.

Part 3
Finance

Part Attorney General's Opinions

Appropriations to Community Colleges — Budget Procedure: The budget for community college districts must be approved by the Board of Regents and fit into the Budget Act procedure of 17-7-101, et seq. It is a budget request that may be altered by the chief budget officer and which is ultimately subject to legislative approval. While 65% state funding of community colleges is the goal, the Legislature may or may not appropriate an amount equal to 65% of the districts' proposed budgets. If it does not, an additional levy, which must be approved by the voters in the district, is authorized to make up the deficiency. The General Appropriation Act of 1979 does no more than reflect this entire statutory scheme, especially the requirements of this part. The General Appropriation Act of 1979 properly appropriates state funds to the community colleges. 38 A.G. Op. 54 (1979).

Community College District Statutory Borrowing Authority: A community college district may enter into an agreement with a city whereby the city would loan the district the proceeds from the sale of an industrial development revenue bond and the district would repay the loan from college revenues. A district may also enter into a promissory note loan agreement with a private lender whereby the district would repay the loan from college revenues. A college district election is not required to approve these construction project financing arrangements; however, a city is required to hold a public hearing prior to issuing industrial development revenue bonds. A district is subject to the election requirement in 20-6-603 when acquiring or constructing sites or buildings. 42 A.G. Op. 78 (1988).

County Revenue Bonds to Finance Community College District Construction: Flathead Valley Community College District may use funds that Flathead County raised by issuing revenue bonds for school construction either by borrowing the funds from the county or by leasing the buildings constructed by the county, subject to applicable school law. 42 A.G. Attorney General's Opinions

Levies Designated for Community College District Retirement Costs Limited to Property Within District: The requirement in 20-9-501 that the County Superintendent of Schools determine each district's net retirement fund separately, together with the language in 20-9-142 requiring Boards of County Commissioners to fix and levy taxes on real and personal property in a district, indicates the Legislature's intent that levies designed for community college district retirement costs be limited to property in the community college district, not all property in the county. Therefore, the Board of County Commissioners of a county in which a community college district is located may not issue a tax levy to fund the teachers' retirement obligations of the community college district against property that is located in the county but outside the community college district. Rather, the levy may be imposed only on property within the community college district. 47 A.G. Op. 17 (1998).

The difference shall be obtained by a mandatory levy"; in (1)(c) inserted reference to subsection (a) of subsection (1) and inserted reference to revenue from tuition and fee schedules and other unrestricted income; deleted former (1)(g) that read: "(g) If revenues to the unrestricted budget exceed estimates, the excess shall be used to reduce the mandatory levy in the subsequent year"; and made minor changes in phraseology. Case Notes

Petitions to Rescind Valid Bond Elections: There is no provision of the written law of this state that accords to the electors of a school district the right to petition either the school board or the courts to set aside or rescind a valid bond election simply because some of the electors may desire another election to vote on the question already favorably voted upon, especially where no fraud is either alleged or shown in the conduct of the election already held. Case Notes

Notice and Ballot Not Misleading: Under former law, where the notice of an election incident to a high school bond issue and the form of the ballot indicated that the exact details of the project would be subject to further consideration, leaving for future decision the question as to whether a new building would be erected or the old one repaired, depending upon the extent of federal aid, etc., objections to issuance of the bonds on grounds of doubtful purpose and having misled the voters were not meritorious. State ex rel. Berthot v. Gallatin County High School District, 102 M 356, 58 P2d 264 (1936).

Actual Notice of Election Held to Be Sufficient: Under the rule that failure to give the statutory notice of an election is immaterial where actual notice was given and the electors participated generally in the election, where it appeared that the clerk of the district had mailed circular letters to the taxpaying freeholders of the district stating the time and place of holding the election, that the only newspaper in the district published a news item with relation thereto, that handbills referring to the election were distributed throughout the district, that the election was discussed generally by the people residing in the district, and that a larger number of votes was cast than at any previous election, failure to give the statutory notice by giving only 9 days' instead of 10 days' notice required by former statute did not render the election void and did not justify an injunction against collection of the tax, particularly where no proof was offered that any elector was deprived of the right to vote by reason of insufficient notice. Buckhouse v. Joint School District, 85 M 141, 277 P 961 (1929).

Both amendatory acts made similar changes in the language of subsections (2) and (3). In the original enactment by sec. 146, Ch. 5, L. 1971, these provisions read: "(2) He is twenty-one (21) years of age or older;

(3) He has resided in the state one (1) year and in the district thirty (30) days immediately preceding the election at which he offers to vote; and". The effective dates of the amendatory acts, Ch. 83 and Ch. 118, are February 27 and March 1, respectively. The language set forth above is that of Ch. 118, sec. 1.

Attorney General's Opinions

Eligibility as Trustee — Registered Voter: A person must be registered to vote in the school district to be eligible for the office of school trustee. "Eligibility", as used in 20-3-305, refers to the qualifications required of a school trustee to hold the office, not the qualifications to be elected. 37 A.G. Op. 145 (1978). (See also 35 A.G. Op. 91 (1974).)

Elector Residency Qualifications: An elector in a school election may be challenged on election day by any registered elector of the district and may be disqualified from voting by the election judges if he is not a resident of the school district in which the election is held. 35 A.G. No Authority in School Board to Remove Unqualified Voters From List of Registered Voters: Under 20-9-428 a school board of trustees removed from the certified list of registered voters the names of several persons who the board determined were disqualified to vote. The court held that 20-9-428 must be read with other statutes governing elections, including this section, concerning how an elector's qualifications may be challenged; 13-13-301, et seq., concerning how qualifications are determined; and 13-15-101, concerning general canvassing requirements. The court determined the school board had no authority to remove names of unqualified voters. Bischoff v. School District, 230 M 336, 749 P2d 533, 45 St. Rep. 253 (1988).

Part Compiler's Comments

Preamble: The preamble attached to Ch. 414, L. 2003, provided: "WHEREAS, the U.S. Supreme Court in Bush v. Gore, 531 U.S. 98 (2000), found that the lack of uniform procedures for determining voter intent in Florida during the 2000 presidential election led to a violation of the U.S. Constitution's Equal Protection Clause of the 14th Amendment; and

WHEREAS, at the request of the 57th Legislature, the State Administration and Veterans' Affairs Interim Committee devoted much of the 2001-2002 interim to a review of Montana election laws with respect to voting systems and counting processes in light of Bush v. Gore; and

WHEREAS, the interim study found that Montana's statutory provisions relating to ballots, voting systems, and vote counting processes needed to be updated, clarified, and in some instances revised to better define uniform standards and procedures to provide equal protection for votes cast by Montana voters; and

WHEREAS, the Subcommittee on Voting Systems of the State Administration and Veterans' Affairs Interim Committee agreed that statutory changes should be made with an eye on future technology but should also standardize current practices to the greatest extent possible.

THEREFORE, this legislation will enable the Secretary of State to adopt a statewide benchmark performance measure that voting systems must meet before they can be approved for use in the state; allow local election administrators to continue to choose which of the approved voting systems should be used locally; require the Secretary of State to adopt uniform statewide rules regarding ballot form, votes and vote counts, and other operational procedures specific to each voting system and to provide training to local election administrators; and require all counting boards to use the uniform counting procedures specified."

WHEREAS, the Postsecondary Education Study Committee recognizes the need for ongoing communication between the Legislative and Executive Branches and the Board of Regents; and

WHEREAS, at present, there is no effective mechanism for these parties to communicate on a regular basis; and

WHEREAS, the Legislature recognizes not only the need to be regularly informed of the long-range plans and short-range goals developed by the Board of Regents for the Montana University System, the community colleges, and the vocational-technical center system but also the need to be informed of the success or failure in attaining those plans and goals; and

WHEREAS, the Legislature recognizes the need to develop a link between planning and funding in postsecondary education; and

WHEREAS, the Legislature endorses the concept of outcome assessment as an accountability tool in postsecondary education; and

WHEREAS, the Legislature acknowledges that the Montana Constitution gives the Board of Regents full power, responsibility, and authority to supervise, coordinate, manage, and control the Montana University System and to supervise and coordinate other public educational institutions assigned by law; and

WHEREAS, the Board of Regents has indicated its desire to work cooperatively with the Legislature for the benefit of the Montana University System and the State of Montana; and

Board of Regents Created — Cases Still Applicable: Following the adoption of the 1972 Montana Constitution, the control of the Montana University System passed from the State Board of Education to the Board of Regents of Higher Education, created by Art. X, sec. 9, Mont. Const. Because some or all of the reported cases dealing with the power and authority of the Board of Education over the Montana University System under the 1889 Constitution may be applicable to the Board of Regents, all of those cases have been included below.

DECISIONS UNDER 1972 CONSTITUTION

Open Public Meeting Laws Liberally Construed — University System Policy Committee Meetings Open to Public: Plaintiff media organizations sued the Commissioner of Higher Education, alleging that policy meetings between the Commissioner and other University System senior employees were subject to state open meeting laws. The District Court concluded that the meetings should be open to the public, and on appeal, the Supreme Court concurred. The Legislature created open meeting laws with the intent that deliberations of state agencies be conducted openly, and to that end, the open meeting laws are liberally construed. In the context of 2-3-203, public or governmental bodies means a group of individuals organized for a governmental or public purpose. Although the university policy committee was not formally created by a government entity to accomplish a specific function, the committee brought together public officials for an undeniably public purpose. The committee was not merely a staff meeting or factfinding body, nor was it an ad hoc group that came together to consider a specific matter or to gather facts on a particular issue. Rather, the group met to deliberate on matters of substance that were the public's business and thus was considered a public body within the meaning of Art. II, sec. 9, Mont. Const., whose meetings were required to be open to the public. The Commissioner argued that: (1) even if the committee was considered a public body, it did not hold meetings as contemplated in the open meeting laws; (2) because the committee's membership was not fixed, no number of members were required to attend to constitute a quorum; and (3) neither direct action nor votes were taken at committee meetings. The Supreme Court disagreed. A quorum of any body of an indefinite number consists of the members who attend a meeting. All that is required under 2-3-202 is that a quorum of the membership convene to conduct public business, not that the meeting produces some particular result or action or that a vote be taken. The constitution protects the public's right to observe the deliberations of public bodies, and the policy committee meetings were required to be open to the public. Assoc. Press v. Crofts, 2004 MT 120, 321 M 193, 89 P3d 971 (2004).

Uniformity Doctrine of 1889 Constitution Embodied in Equal Protection Clause of 1972 Constitution: Plaintiffs challenged the constitutionality of 20-25-439, asserting that the tax levy for vocational-technical schools resulted in an unequal tax burden on five counties where the schools are located, even though the schools are part of the statewide University System. The state contended that the levy is not unconstitutional because it is rationally related to a legitimate government purpose. The 1889 Montana Constitution contained a uniformity doctrine that required a tax to be levied by a general law that is uniform within the same class of subjects within the territorial limits of the authority levying the tax; however, that uniformity doctrine does not appear in the plain language of the 1972 Montana Constitution. Nevertheless, plaintiffs asserted that the uniformity doctrine is still a constitutional requirement apart from equal protection guarantees. The state argued that because the uniformity doctrine is not part of the 1972 Montana Constitution, the levy could not be violative of the doctrine. The District Court agreed with the state and plaintiffs appealed. The Supreme Court agreed that the statement defining the uniformity doctrine in Hilger v. Moore, 56 M 146, 182 P 477 (1919), was subsequently applied in post-1972 cases, but disagreed that the definition supports any stricter limitation on taxation than that imposed by equal protection. The framers of the 1972 Montana Constitution intended to preserve the uniformity doctrine only as it is equivalent to equal protection requirements. Thus, the uniformity doctrine as interpreted under the 1889 Montana Constitution, which provided for equal protection in the area of taxation, is still embodied in the 1972 Montana Constitution in the equal protection clause. Analysis of the constitutionality of the levy in question was therefore conducted under the equal protection clause. Kottel v. St., 2002 MT 278, 312 M 387, 60 P3d 403 (2002).

Failure to Obtain Degree — University's Discretion — Summary Judgment Upheld: The University was entitled to summary judgment against plaintiff's claim of bad faith and breach of contract when plaintiff failed to fulfill his duties under the contract he alleged. The discretion vested in the University is the core substantive principle entitling it to summary judgment. The University did not abuse its discretion. Bindrim v. Univ. of Mont., 235 M 199, 766 P2d 861, 45 St. Rep. 2316 (1988).

Letter Removing Chairman of English Department Privileged Publication: Small brought suit alleging that he had been libeled when he was removed as chairman of the English Department at Eastern Montana College (now Montana State University-Billings). The basis of the libel charge was the letter informing him that he was being removed and detailing the reasons for the removal. The court found that McRae had the authority to remove Small and that the letter was a privileged publication because it was made in the proper discharge of an official duty. Since the letter was within the proper discharge of an official duty, it enjoyed an absolute privilege and could therefore not be the subject of libel action. Small v. McRae, 200 M 497, 651 P2d 982, 39 St. Rep. 1896 (1982).

Nontenured Professor — Acceptance of Termination Contract: Because of alleged personal misconduct, a nontenured professor was offered a contract to teach one more year and then be terminated. He requested but was denied a formal hearing on the matter. The professor's subsequent demand for a tenured contract did not, as he contends, amount to acceptance of the termination contract that he was offered. Leland v. Heywood, 197 M 491, 643 P2d 578, 39 St. Rep. 704 (1982).

Discrimination Regarding Teacher Tenure — State Action Violating Equal Protection: The Montana university tenure system is maintained under authority of state statutes by the Board of Regents and the presidents of the Montana University System's institutions. Therefore, any action by the Board or a president in regard to tenure is state action, and a discriminatory application of the tenure process would be a denial of equal protection. Akhtar v. Van De Wetering, 197 M 205, 642 P2d 149, 39 St. Rep. 470 (1982).

Teacher Tenure Standards — Use of Single Factor as Basis for Equal Protection Violation Claim: Differences in treatment of persons in regard to promotions do not all constitute deprivation of either due process or equal protection, particularly where the difference is one of evaluating facts rather than in resolving them. Where college evaluated tenure candidates in three basic areas and balanced all the factors and appellant teacher who was denied tenure claimed discrimination in that he had published an article and two candidates granted tenure had published no articles, publication being one of the factors, there was no equal protection violation. Akhtar v. Van De Wetering, 197 M 205, 642 P2d 149, 39 St. Rep. 470 (1982).

Property Interest in Teacher Tenure — Proof — School's Codification of Tenure Matters: College's codification of rank and tenure matters, specifically drafted to clarify the faculty contract and a college handbook issued to the faculty, approved by a committee as not in conflict with the contract or with the handbook, stated to be an operating manual for the college rank and tenure committee, limited to reference and informational use, and subject to future contract negotiations, was by its nature a pseudoextension of the faculty contract but was not a part of the contract. Therefore, the codification could not be the source for a property interest in teacher tenure to which due process protection would attach. Akhtar v. Van De Wetering, 197 M 205, 642 P2d 149, 39 St. Rep. 470 (1982).

Denial of Teacher Tenure — Due Process Property Right — Burden of Proof: The question of whether due process protections of teacher denied tenure were violated would not be considered unless he established the existence of a property right or liberty interest that is accorded due process protection. That tenure was denied would not benefit teacher in his pursuit of other employment, but it did not place such a stigma on him as to deprive him of a liberty interest. A vested property right protected by due process did not accrue to teacher upon his meeting the eligibility for tenure standards of requisite number of years of teaching and the rank of assistant professor, for beyond that, teacher was required by college policy to present evidence showing excellence in teaching, research, and public service. Akhtar v. Van De Wetering, 197 M 205, 642 P2d 149, 39 St. Rep. 470 (1982).

Teacher Contracts — Procedures Not Constituting Breach — Time and Proper Party for Dean's Recommendation: College's codification of teacher tenure matters stated that with respect to the procedure to determine whether tenure would be granted, the rank and tenure committee was to request the teacher's dean to examine the teacher's package and make a written recommendation. Assuming the codification to be part of the teacher's contract, it was not a breach of the contract for the dean to send his recommendation to the academic vice-president rather than to give it to the rank and tenure committee first. Akhtar v. Van De Wetering, 197 M 205, 642 P2d 149, 39 St. Rep. 470 (1982).

Teacher Tenure Actions — Admissibility of Evidence — Decisions as to Other Teachers:

Teachers' union member who was denied tenure offered evidence, in suit arising from the denial, that union member who had resigned from the teachers' negotiating team shortly before he applied for tenure was granted tenure. The offered evidence was refused as irrelevant. On appeal, the Supreme Court stated that the evidence was relevant but affirmed the ruling below, saying that the evidence would only have shown that a teacher who resigned from the bargaining team was thereafter granted tenure and that one union member was granted tenure and another was not. Akhtar v. Van De Wetering, 197 M 205, 642 P2d 149, 39 St. Rep. 470 (1982).

Whether college's academic vice-president acted impermissibly in the tenure application process of a different individual under a different contract in a different academic year was not relevant to vice-president's actions in appellant's tenure evaluation, and it was proper to refuse, for lack of relevance, to admit exhibit and testimony on it relating to a report on the tenure evaluation of another person. Akhtar v. Van De Wetering, 197 M 205, 642 P2d 149, 39 St. Rep. 470 (1982).

Continuous Tenure Defined: The District Court's conclusion that a director of a department within the Montana University System, who was tenured as to professional rank and salary under the terms of her previous contract, could nevertheless be paid at a reduced rate in the following year because her duties were diminished from director to professor must be overturned. Reversal is required because of the nature of continuous tenure, which connotes "freedom and economic security", and because of the fact that the respondent university had it completely within its power to describe tenured rights otherwise. Keiser v. Bd. of Regents, 193 M 35, 630 P2d 194, 38 St. Rep. 674 (1981).

Employment Relationship of Regents With Faculty: Since Board of Regents is competent body for determining priorities in higher education and an important priority is hiring and keeping competent personnel, appropriations bill which controlled salaries of university employees denied the Board power to function effectively by setting its own personnel policies and determining its own priorities and was unconstitutional. Bd. of Regents of Higher Educ. v. Judge, 168 M 433, 543 P2d 1323 (1975).

DECISIONS UNDER 1889 CONSTITUTION

Delegation of Powers: The State Board of Education is restricted from delegating to college officials its power to select teachers or instructors. Brown v. St. Bd. of Educ., 142 M 547, 385 P2d 643 (1963).

Actions Against State Board of Education: The State Board of Education may be sued for a breach of contract without the consent of the state to the action. Meens v. St. Bd. of Educ., 127 M 515, 267 P2d 981 (1954).

Employment Relationship With Faculty: The relationship between the State Board of Education and a professor of the state university is that of employer and employee, contractual in character. State ex rel. Phillips v. Ford, 116 M 190, 151 P2d 171 (1944).

Resignation of Faculty Member — Report Required: A provision of the rules of the State Board of Education that the president of the state university shall report appointments and resignations of members of the faculty and other employees did not authorize the president to accept the resignation of a professor of the institution but merely required him to report it to the State Board. State ex rel. Phillips v. Ford, 116 M 190, 151 P2d 171 (1944).

Vested Right Created by Regulation: A regulation of the State Board of Education providing that reappointment of a professor after 3 years of service shall be deemed a permanent appointment, under which the Board had functioned for some 21 years, was valid and clearly within its authority under Art. XI, sec. 11, 1889 Mont. Const. (now Art. X, sec. 9, Mont. Const.), and this section. Reappointment of a professor after such years of service was a permanent appointment, and his status was not changed by the Board's striking the regulation from its rules and regulations printed on the back of the sixth contract because he came within the regulation upon execution of his fourth annual contract. State ex rel. Keeney v. Ayers, 108 M 547, 92 P2d 306 (1939), distinguished in Eastman v. School District, 120 M 63, 180 P2d 472 (1947).

Implied Authority to Construct Building: The State Board of Education, proceeding under Ch. 24, Ex. L. 1933-34 (an emergency measure), continued in force until July 1, 1937, by Ch. 135, L. 1935, and under chapters 79 through 83, R.C.M. 1935, had implied authority to authorize the construction of a chemistry-pharmacy building at the state university with funds granted by the federal government in addition to those to be secured by a bond issue. State ex rel. Dragstedt v. St. Bd. of Educ., 103 M 336, 62 P2d 330 (1936).

Pledge of Land-Grant Income Allowed: Under the facts presented and under prior decisions, a pledging of a portion of the income and interest from the land grant is permissible. State ex rel. Dragstedt v. St. Bd. of Educ., 103 M 336, 62 P2d 330 (1936). See also State ex rel. Wilson v. St. Bd. of Educ., 102 M 165, 56 P2d 1079 (1936).

Exclusive Control of Funds Derived From Land Grant: The State Board of Education was vested with exclusive power to receive and control the funds derived from lands granted the state for the use of its institutions of learning, among them the state normal school, and therefore was free from the limitations and restrictions of the state constitution as to the expenditures of the ordinary revenues of the state, namely, only on appropriations made by the Legislature and on warrants drawn by the State Auditor. Implied Powers: The power expressly granted to the State Board of Education to manage and control the business and finances of the state education institutions carried with it the implied power to do all things necessary and proper to the exercise of its general powers. Attorney General's Opinions

Legislative Appropriation of University System "Excess" Revenue: The Attorney General concluded in an advisory opinion (in answer to question concerning hypothetical legislative action) that the Legislature may not appropriate revenue generated from sources pledged to cover university system revenue bond requirements when the revenue obtained from these sources exceeds the bond requirements. The law grants the Board of Regents authority to use pledged revenue in a variety of ways to discharge its statutory duties. Any legislative appropriation of those "excess" revenues would interfere with or prevent the discharge of those duties. 40 A.G. Op. 67 (1984).

Status of Mandatory Student Fees — Expenditures: Since the authority to impose mandatory student fees is vested in the Board of Regents, a division of state government, and ultimate control and supervision of these funds rest with the regents, mandatory student fees are public funds. Whether a student committee can expend these funds to remove an elected public officer requires a decision by the regents or their delegated agents that such expenditure is a public purpose. Electing a political officeholder would not be an expenditure for a public purpose. 35 A.G. Op. 74 (1974).

Authority to Regulate Alcoholic Beverages: The regents of the Montana University System have the authority to allow or prohibit the possession and consumption of alcoholic beverages in a student's room in a residence hall on a campus of a unit of the Montana University System. 34 A.G. Op. 42 (1972).

Case Notes

Leasing of University Facilities to Private Persons Consistent With Established "Academic Purposes": The Duck Inn filed an action seeking an injunction against Montana State University-Northern (Northern), alleging that Northern's decision to lease its facilities to private persons and organizations placed Northern in direct competition with the Duck Inn's business, in violation of state statutes and the Montana Constitution. The District Court dismissed the Duck Inn's complaint, ruling that Northern's leasing activities under this section did not violate Art. VIII, sec. 1, Mont. Const. On appeal, the Supreme Court affirmed, ruling that this section is not an unconstitutional delegation of legislative authority to the Board of Regents. Northern's leasing activities under this section appear to have "public purposes" as that term is used in Art. VIII, sec. 1, Mont. Const. Duck Inn, Inc. v. Mont. St. Univ.-N., 285 M 519, 949 P2d 1179, 54 St. Rep. 1295 (1997).

DUI Arrest on Street Contiguous to University Campus Proper Under Jurisdiction Agreement Between University, City, and County: O'Neill was arrested for DUI by a University of Montana security officer on a street contiguous to but outside the boundaries of the university campus. O'Neill moved for dismissal on grounds that the arrest was unlawful because the offense occurred outside the geographic boundaries of the officer's jurisdiction. However, in 1993, the university entered an agreement with the city and county of Missoula under 20-25-322 that expanded the jurisdiction of campus security officers to make arrests for parking and moving violations on streets and alleys contiguous to the campus. The officer was patrolling the campus when he observed O'Neill's vehicle, and as a result, the streets contiguous to the campus were within the officer's jurisdiction. Thus, denial of O'Neill's motion to dismiss on jurisdictional grounds was proper. Missoula v. O'Neill, 2004 MT 328, 324 M 124, 102 P3d 21 (2004).

Off-Campus Stop Following On-Campus Traffic Violation — Extension of Campus Security Officer's Jurisdiction: Howard ran a red light at 2:30 a.m. on the University of Montana campus. However, despite pursuit by a campus security officer, Howard did not stop his vehicle until he was about 1 mile off campus. Following arrest and conviction for a traffic violation and felony DUI, Howard asserted that the officer did not have jurisdiction to make a traffic stop off campus and that because the violation occurred at a time when there was little traffic on the road, the offense did not pose an imminent threat to public safety. The Supreme Court disagreed with both arguments and affirmed. The offense occurred within the officer's jurisdiction, and campus police had authority under a joint university-city agreement to enforce, within city limits, traffic and criminal offenses that occurred on campus in the officer's presence and that posed an imminent threat to public safety. Despite light traffic, Howard's conduct did pose a threat to public safety, and the officer did not lose jurisdiction simply because Howard failed to stop until he was beyond campus parameters. Extension of Termination Date: Section 1, Ch. 381, L. 1995, amended sec. 11, Ch. 387, L. 1993, by extending the termination date imposed by that chapter. Effective April 12, 1995.

Preamble: The preamble attached to Ch. 431, L. 1995, provided: "WHEREAS, seven tribally controlled community colleges exist in the State of Montana; and

WHEREAS, the tribal community colleges provide a quality, low-cost, and accessible college program to Indian and non-Indian students each year; and

WHEREAS, approximately 450 of these students are nonbeneficiary students who do not qualify for financial support through the Bureau of Indian Affairs or under the Tribally Controlled Community College Assistance Act of 1978; and

WHEREAS, the tribal community colleges currently subsidize the costs of providing services to nonbeneficiary students, allowing them to continue their educations at a lower cost to the state; and

WHEREAS, without support, tribal community colleges will not be able to serve nonbeneficiary students without increasing student fees, which may result in students dropping out of college."

Appropriation: Section 1, Ch. 431, L. 1995, provided: "(1) There is appropriated from the general fund to the board of regents $1.4 million for the biennium ending June 30, 1997, to provide financial assistance to tribally controlled community colleges for enrolled nonbeneficiary students.

(2) Each tribal community college shall apply for this assistance to the board of regents. Except as provided in subsection (6), the money appropriated in subsection (1) must be distributed on a prorated basis according to the resident nonbeneficiary student enrollment in each tribal community college during the previous year. To qualify, a resident nonbeneficiary student must meet the residency requirements as prescribed for the Montana university system by the board of regents. The distribution to any student is limited to a maximum of $1,500 each year per full-time equivalent student. Any remaining balance in this appropriation on June 30, 1997, must revert to the general fund and may not be diverted to other purposes.

(3) An expenditure from this appropriation is contingent upon the tribal community college:

(a) being accredited or being a candidate for accreditation by the northwest association of schools and colleges;

(b) entering into a contract or a state-tribal cooperative agreement, pursuant to Title 18, chapter 11, with the board of regents to provide the board with information relating to eligibility of nonbeneficiary students and documentation on the curriculum to ensure that the content and quality of courses offered by the tribal community college are consistent with the standards adopted by the Montana university system; and

(c) filing with the board of regents evidence that the college's enrollment of Indian students is at least 51% as required by the Tribally Controlled Community College Assistance Act of 1978, 25 U.S.C. 1804.

(4) It is the intent of the legislature that the appropriation in subsection (1) be considered an amount in addition to the Montana university system budget appropriation for the biennium ending June 30, 1997.

(5) All funds appropriated under subsection (1) that are unspent revert to the general fund.

(6) Prior to receiving money pursuant to subsection (1), each tribal community college shall:

(a) grant to resident nonbeneficiary students who meet the residency requirements, as prescribed for the Montana university system by the board of regents, fee waivers in the same percentage as the number of Indian students who are receiving fee waivers to attend a unit of the university system bears to the total enrollment in the university system; and to any unit of the University of Montana" ["Montana university system" in Ch. 231 and 286] and redesignated subsections (2) and (3) as (1) and (2). Chapter 432 rewrote subsection (2)(a), which read: "prescribe tuition rates for students enrolled in the law school or for extra studies, and for nonresident students; and". In subsection (2)(b), Ch. 231 added . . . "except . . . mineral engineering education"; Ch. 286 substituted "full-time . . . year" for "total number of students enrolled at that unit"; and Ch. 432 substituted "their" for "its" before "discretion".

(b) subtract the costs of nonbeneficiary fee waivers granted under subsection (6)(a) from the total amount of prorated money to be distributed." Effective April 13, 1995.

Attorney General's Opinions

Status of Mandatory Student Fees — Expenditures: Since the authority to impose mandatory student fees is vested in the Board of Regents, a division of state government, and ultimate control and supervision of these funds rest with the regents, mandatory student fees are public funds. Whether a student committee can expend these funds to remove an elected public officer requires a decision by the regents or their delegated agents that such expenditure is a public purpose. Electing a political officeholder would not be an expenditure for a public purpose. 35 A.G. Op. 74 (1974).

Case Notes

Equal Protection Analysis of Vocational-Technical School Levy — Rational Basis Test Applied: Plaintiffs challenged the constitutionality of this section, asserting that the tax levy for vocational-technical schools resulted in an unequal tax burden on five counties where the schools are located, even though the schools are part of the statewide University System. The state contended that the levy is not unconstitutional because it is rationally related to a legitimate government purpose. The District Court found that the levy is constitutional because it is rationally related to the legitimate government interest of supporting the schools, in that the schools provide specific benefits to their individual counties. The Supreme Court agreed that the rational basis analysis applied. The constitutional tax provisions in Art. VIII, sec. 1 and 3, Mont. Const., are broad directives whose specifics are left to the Legislature, so no constitutionally significant interests are implicated that require greater than a rational basis analysis. A tax classification under the rational basis test will be upheld if it is reasonable and not arbitrary and if it applies equally to all who fall within the same classification. A classification is not reasonable if it confers particular privileges or imposes particular disabilities on a class of persons arbitrarily selected from a larger number of persons, all of whom stand in the same relation to privileges conferred or disabilities imposed. Neither the uniformity doctrine nor equal protection prevent the state from making classifications that result in different state taxes among the various counties as long as the classifications are rationally related to a legitimate government purpose. Simply because other state taxes for education funding are assessed in every county does not mean that the Legislature is prohibited from creating subclasses for tax purposes. Attendance at vocational-technical schools by local residents and course offerings related to local interests serve as a rational basis for putting the five counties in a separate class for purposes of the levy. Counties with vocational-technical schools are not arbitrarily selected from the rest of the state because those counties do not stand in the same relation to the greater privileges conferred on those counties by the schools than the rest of the state, so the disability of the levy is rationally imposed. The constitutionality of this section was affirmed. Kottel v. St., 2002 MT 278, 312 M 387, 60 P3d 403 (2002), following Leuthold v. Brandjord, 100 M 96, 47 P2d 41 (1935), and distinguishing State ex rel. Woodahl v. Straub, 164 M 141, 520 P2d 776 (1974), Allegheny Pittsburgh Coal Co. v. County Comm'rs of Webster County, W. Va., 488 US 336 (1989), and Roosevelt v. Dept. of Revenue, 1999 MT 30, 293 M 240, 975 P2d 295 (1999).

Uniformity Doctrine of 1889 Constitution Embodied in Equal Protection Clause of 1972 Constitution: Plaintiffs challenged the constitutionality of this section, asserting that the tax levy for vocational-technical schools resulted in an unequal tax burden on five counties where the schools are located, even though the schools are part of the statewide University System. The state contended that the levy is not unconstitutional because it is rationally related to a legitimate government purpose. The 1889 Montana Constitution contained a uniformity doctrine that required a tax to be levied by a general law that is uniform within the same class of subjects within the territorial limits of the authority levying the tax; however, that uniformity doctrine does not appear in the plain language of the 1972 Montana Constitution. Nevertheless, plaintiffs asserted that the uniformity doctrine is still a constitutional requirement apart from equal protection guarantees. The state argued that because the uniformity doctrine is not part of the 1972 Montana Constitution, the levy could not be violative of the doctrine. The District Court agreed with the state and plaintiffs appealed. The Supreme Court agreed that the statement defining the uniformity doctrine in Hilger v. Moore, 56 M 146, 182 P 477 (1919), was subsequently applied in post-1972 cases, but disagreed that the definition supports any stricter limitation on taxation than that imposed by equal protection. The framers of the 1972 Montana Constitution intended to preserve the uniformity doctrine only as it is equivalent to equal protection requirements. Thus, the uniformity doctrine as interpreted under the 1889 Montana Constitution, which provided for equal protection in the area of taxation, is still embodied in the 1972 Montana Constitution in the equal protection clause. Analysis of the constitutionality of the levy in question was therefore conducted under the equal protection clause. Kottel v. St., 2002 MT 278, 312 M 387, 60 P3d 403 (2002).

1983 Amendment: In (1) and (2), substituted language establishing commission and providing for its membership for "A commission is hereby created to be known as the state library commission. This commission shall consist of the librarian of the university of Montana, the state superintendent of public instruction, ex officio member, and the three members to be appointed by the governor, who shall serve 1, 2, and 3 years respectively. Attorney General's Opinions

Authority to Classify Positions of State Librarian and Director of Montana Historical Society: Although repeals by implication are not favored, it would frustrate the purpose of the classification and pay plan law to hold that the positions of state librarian and Director of the Montana Historical Society are exempt from classification when the Legislature has not expressly approved such exemption in 2-18-103. Thus, the provisions of 22-3-107 and 22-1-102, which authorize the Board of Trustees of the historical society and the State Library Commission to set salary, are superseded by the classification and pay plan law, Title 2, ch. 18, parts 1 through 3. The Board and the Commission retain the authority to hire and to assign duties and responsibilities. 40 A.G. Op. 68 (1984).

Refusal to Order Libraries Created as De Facto Public Corporations or to Estop Denial of Their Creation: The record supported a conclusion that County Commissioners agreed and contracted to help provide towns with libraries and assisted in funding, but there was no persuasive evidence that the Commissioners intended to create county libraries under the library statutes then in effect or that the Commissioners complied with the statutory requirements for the establishment of county libraries. Therefore, the town libraries did not meet the requirements for creation of de facto public corporations, and the court would not order the county to continue funding them in the face of a county decision to cease the funding. The court would not apply public policy estoppel theory to prevent the county from challenging the existence of the libraries as county libraries. There never were county libraries or purported county libraries. Each town provided its own library facilities and ran its own library. The county only helped with funding, an insufficient basis to apply estoppel to the county. Choteau Library Bd. of Trustees v. Attorney General's Opinions

City Property — Exemption from County Library Tax Levy: When a city and county have entered into an agreement under which the city provides a building and services for a branch of the county library, the city's withdrawal from the agreement alone does not allow the city to exempt city property from the county library tax levy pursuant to 22-1-313. Instead, the city must create or have its own existing "tax-supported public library" and must notify the county of its desire to not participate in the county library system. 53 A.G. Op. 5 (2010).

Power of County to Contract With Municipal Libraries: A county that has established a county free library pursuant to this section may contract directly with the board of trustees of the free public library of any incorporated city to assume all county library functions and to pay the sum agreed upon out of the county free library fund. 46 A.G. Op. 19 (1996).

Tax Freeze Limitations Applicable to Pre-1986 Library Services: A county that offered library services prior to 1986 may not form a new taxing unit to avoid the limitations on property taxes imposed under Initiative Measure No. 105 by establishing a public library pursuant to this section or by forming a multijurisdictional service district to provide library services pursuant to 7-11-1105 (now repealed). 46 A.G. 2005 Amendment: Chapter 453 deleted former (3) that read: "(3) The municipal tax authorized in this section is in addition to all other taxes authorized by law and is not within the all-purpose mill levy established by 7-6-4451 and 7-6-4453"; and made minor changes in style. Amendment effective July 1, 2005.

2001 Amendments — Composite Section: Chapter 495 in (1) in three places substituted "tax" for "special tax" and in second and third sentences substituted "on the taxable valuation of" for "on the dollar on" (amendment in second and third sentences rendered void by Ch. 574 amendment); in (2)(a) in first sentence substituted "imposing a tax levy" for "exceeding the maximum tax levy provided in subsection (1)" and substituted "an election as provided in 15-10-425" for "the next appropriate election or at a special election as provided in Title 13"; in (2)(b) in first sentence after "for the purpose of" substituted "imposing a" for "exceeding the maximum", substituted "15-10-425" for "Title 13", and substituted "imposing the mill levy" for "exceeding the maximum mill levy"; deleted (2)(c) through (2)(e) that read: "(c) The question must be submitted by ballots upon which the words "FOR exceeding the ... mill maximum levy and authorizing an additional ... mill(s) for the library" and "AGAINST exceeding the ... mill maximum library levy" must appear, with a square before each proposition and a direction to insert an "X" mark in the square before one or the other of the propositions.

(d) The ballots must also specify the amount of time during which the proposed increase exceeding the maximum mill levy is to be in effect.

(e) The votes cast for the adoption or rejection of the question must be canvassed, and:

(i) if a majority of the voters voting on the question vote to exceed the maximum mill levy, the governing body shall levy the additional tax for the time specified on the ballot; or

(ii) if a majority of the voters voting on the question vote to not exceed the maximum mill levy, the maximum mill levy may not be exceeded"; and made minor changes in style. Amendment effective October 1, 2001.

Chapter 574 in (1) deleted former last two sentences that read: "The special tax levy that may be levied by the governing body of a county may not exceed 5 mills on the dollar on all property in the county. The special tax that may be levied by the governing body of a city may not exceed 7 mills on the dollar on all property in the city"; in (2)(a) at end of first sentence substituted "question of imposing a tax levy to a vote of the qualified electors at an election as provided in 15-10-425" for "question of exceeding the maximum tax levy provided in subsection (1) to a vote of the qualified electors at the next appropriate election or at a special election as provided for in Title 13"; in (2)(b) in first sentence near beginning after "purpose of" substituted "imposing a mill levy" for "exceeding the maximum mill levy" and at end substituted "provided in 15-10-425 the question of imposing the mill levy" for "provided for in Title 13 the question of exceeding the maximum mill levy"; deleted former (2)(c) through (2)(e) that read: "(c) The question must be submitted by ballots upon which the words "FOR exceeding the ... mill maximum levy and authorizing an additional ... mill(s) for the library" and "AGAINST exceeding the ... mill maximum library levy" must appear, with a square before each proposition and a direction to insert an "X" mark in the square before one or the other of the propositions.

(ii) if a majority of the voters voting on the question vote to not exceed the maximum mill levy, the maximum mill levy may not be exceeded"; near end of (3) deleted reference to 7-6-4452; and made minor changes in style. Amendment effective July 1, 2001.

1999 Amendments — Composite Section: Chapter 333 in (2)(a) and (2)(b) in first sentence after "election" inserted "or at a special election as provided for in Title 13" and in second sentence before "election" deleted "general"; inserted (2)(d) requiring ballots to specify time proposed increase exceeding maximum mill levy is to be in effect; in (2)(e)(i) at end substituted "time specified on the ballot" for "year in which the vote was taken"; in (6) substituted present language listing the uses for which bonds may be issued for former language that read: "(6) Bonds may be issued by the governing body in the manner prescribed by law for the erection and equipment of public library buildings and the purchase of land therefor"; and made minor changes in style. Amendment effective October 1, 1999.

Allocation of Costs — Permitted: A city has general authority in financing the construction of city vehicle repair shop complex and has implied power to allocate the proportionate share of costs among various city departments using the facility. Attorney General's Opinions

Library Board Alone Has Authority to Spend Its Reserve Funds — Library's Proposed Budget Subject to Approval by Local Governing Body — Local Governing Body Has Sole Discretion to Levy Mills in Support of Library: Prior to 2001, a library board had complete control over its budget. While a library board still has the sole discretion to determine how to use the library's unspent funds under 22-1-309, its budget must be approved by the local governing body. Moreover, the local governing body, not the library board, determines the number of mills to levy in support of the library. Finally, the local governing body has no obligation to continue to levy any certain number of mills for the library in perpetuity. 54 A.G. Op. 7 (2012).

Power of County Commissioners to Regulate Library Funded by County General Fund — Limitations as if Funded by Five-Mill Levy: The fact that Big Horn County funds its library through the county general fund does not allow the County Commissioners to usurp the library trustees' statutory authority for setting the library's budget and compensation for the library staff. If the County Commissioners fund the library's budget through the county general fund, the power to decide the library staff compensation still rests with the library trustees. The Commissioners may limit the overall funding of the library budget to 5 mills, as if the library were being funded pursuant to the 5-mill tax levy authorized by this section (see 2001 amendment). To hold otherwise would allow the library trustees to adopt a budget that could assume the entire county general fund levy. 48 A.G. Op. 3 (1999). See also 54 A.G. Op. 7 (2012).

Joint City-County Library — County Taxes Levied on City Property: A city and county may join to establish and maintain a joint city-county library. Other than maximum mill levies, no parameters have been set by the Legislature with regard to funding a joint library enterprise. Expenses of the joint city-county library may be apportioned between the city and county pursuant to the contract establishing the joint library, and the entities have broad discretion in negotiating the apportionment of expenses and funding for the provision of library services. Under 22-1-316, both the city and county may levy taxes as provided in this section, and there is no statutory exemption from the county levy for property located in the city. 47 A.G. Op. 6 (1997).

Power of County to Contract With Municipal Libraries: A county that has established a county free library pursuant to 22-1-303 may contract directly with the board of trustees of the free public library of any incorporated city to assume all county library functions and to pay the sum agreed upon out of the county free library fund. 46 A.G. Op. 19 (1996).

Authority of Library Trustees — Obligation of County Commissioners to Levy Property Taxes: County library trustees have direct responsibility for administering county libraries in a manner largely independent of city or county control. Even though library employees may be considered city or county employees for certain purposes, the library trustees' express authority to fix such employees' compensation prohibits County Commissioners from establishing a different wage level. A Board of County Commissioners may not modify the decision of county library trustees concerning wage and salary amounts for library employees, may not modify an annual library budget adopted by the county library trustees, and may not refuse, within statutory millage limits, to levy some or all of the property taxes necessary to satisfy an annual budget adopted by the county library trustees. 41 A.G. Op. 91 (1986). See also 48 A.G. Op. 3 (1999). However, see 54 A.G. Op. 7 (2012), which concluded that the local governing body alone has the authority to determine the number of mills to levy in support of the library.

Powers of Board of Trustees — Limitations: While the Board of Trustees is not a "public employer" for the purposes of the Collective Bargaining for Public Employees Act, there is no inconsistency between the Library Systems Act and the collective bargaining law since the Board of Trustees is given independent powers to manage and operate the library under the Library Systems Act. Local 2390 v. Billings, 171 M 20, 555 P2d 507 (1976).

Allocation of Costs — Permitted: A city has general authority in financing the construction of city vehicle repair shop complex and has implied power to allocate the proportionate share of costs among various city departments using the facility. Moreover, the local governing body, not the library board, determines the number of mills to levy in support of the library. Finally, the local governing body has no obligation to continue to levy any certain number of mills for the library in perpetuity. 54 A.G. Op. 7 (2012).

County Commission Generally Obligated to Fund Library Budget — County Allowed to Bind Itself to Fund Library Budget Through Interlocal Agreement: The Board of County Commissioners is generally obligated to fund the county library budget, as submitted by the library board pursuant to this section, within the limits set in 15-10-420. The 2001 statutory changes did not delete a library board's authority to determine the amount of financial support required by the library, nor did the changes confer on the Board of County Commissioners the authority to modify a library budget submitted by the library board. Further, nothing in the 2001 tax and budget amendments prevents a county from voluntarily entering an interlocal agreement to provide that the county would accept a library board's budget proposal and levy the necessary mills to fund it. 49 A.G. Op. 16 (2002). See also 41 A.G. Op. 91 (1986), and 48 A.G. Op. 3 (1999). However, see 54 A.G. Op. 7 (2012), which concluded that the local governing body alone has the authority to determine the number of mills to levy in support of the library.

Power of County Commissioners to Regulate Library Funded by County General Fund — Limitations as if Funded by Five-Mill Levy: The fact that Big Horn County funds its library through the county general fund does not allow the County Commissioners to usurp the library trustees' statutory authority for setting the library's budget and compensation for the library staff. If the County Commissioners fund the library's budget through the county general fund, the power to decide the library staff compensation still rests with the library trustees. The Commissioners may limit the overall funding of the library budget to 5 mills, as if the library were being funded pursuant to the 5-mill tax levy authorized by 22-1-304. (See 2001 amendment to 22-1-304.) To hold otherwise would allow the library trustees to adopt a budget that could assume the entire county general fund levy. 48 A.G. Op. 3 (1999). See also 54 A.G. Op. 7 (2012).

City Library Board Decision to Retain Property Not Subject to City Commission Override: A city commission did not have authority to overrule a decision by the city library board of trustees not to sell or lease a parking lot held in the name of the city and purchased to serve the library's parking needs. 42 A.G. Op. 98 (1988). See also 48 A.G. Op. 3 (1999).

Authority of Library Trustees — Obligation of County Commissioners to Levy Property Taxes: County library trustees have direct responsibility for administering county libraries in a manner largely independent of city or county control. Even though library employees may be considered city or county employees for certain purposes, the library trustees' express authority to fix such employees' compensation prohibits County Commissioners from establishing a different wage level. A Board of County Commissioners may not modify the decision of county library trustees concerning wage and salary amounts for library employees, may not modify an annual library budget adopted by the county library trustees, and may not refuse, within statutory millage limits, to levy some or all of the property taxes necessary to satisfy an annual budget adopted by the county library trustees. 41 A.G. Op. 91 (1986). See also 48 A.G. Op. 3 (1999). However, see 54 A.G. Op. 7 (2012), which concluded that the local governing body alone has the authority to determine the number of mills to levy in support of the library.

Case Notes

Authority of Board of Trustees to Determine Compensation of Public Library Employees: The plain language of 22-1-310 grants a public library board of trustees, not the county, the authority to determine the salaries and compensation of library employees. Bd. of Trustees, Butte-Silver Bow Public Library v. Butte-Silver Bow County, 2009 MT 389, 353 M 326, 221 P3d 1175 (2009).

Trustees as "Public Employer" of Library Employees — Discharge of Employee: The local governing body and not the Board of Trustees is the "public employer" for the purposes of the Collective Bargaining for Public Employees Act, and the trustees may not discharge an employee because that Act is subject to the agreement. Local 2390 v. Billings, 171 M 20, 555 P2d 507 (1976).

22-1-313. Existing tax-supported libraries — notification — exemption from county taxes.

Attorney General's Opinions

City Property — Exemption from County Library Tax Levy: When a city and county have entered into an agreement under which the city provides a building and services for a branch of the county library, the city's withdrawal from the agreement alone does not allow the city to exempt city property from the county library tax levy pursuant to 22-1-313. Instead, the city must create or have its own existing "tax-supported public library" and must notify the county of its desire to not participate in the county library system. 53 A.G. Op. 5 (2010).

22-1-315. City library may assume functions of county library.

Attorney General's Opinions

Formation of Multijurisdictional Library Service Districts — Statutory Requirements — Equalization of Tax Burden Among Users: A city and a county may form a multijurisdictional library service district if they meet the statutory requirements of Title 7, ch. 11, part 11, and Title 15, ch. 10, part 4, and if any existing contract for providing library services involving residents of one or more of the participating jurisdictions has expired. A multijurisdictional service district may not be formed for the sole purpose of equalizing the tax burden among those currently using the service; however, one increased service of the district may be to equalize the tax burden among users as long as the district provides services in the manner required by 7-11-1101 (now repealed). 46 A.G. Op. 23 (1996), distinguishing 44 A.G. Op. 11 (1991).

Power of County to Contract With Municipal Libraries: A county that has established a county free library pursuant to 22-1-303 may contract directly with the board of trustees of the free public library of any incorporated city to assume all county library functions and to pay the sum agreed upon out of the county free library fund. 46 A.G. Op. 19 (1996).

Attorney General's Opinions

Joint City-County Library — County Taxes Levied on City Property: A city and county may join to establish and maintain a joint city-county library. Other than maximum mill levies, no parameters have been set by the Legislature with regard to funding a joint library enterprise. Expenses of the joint city-county library may be apportioned between the city and county pursuant to the contract establishing the joint library, and the entities have broad discretion in negotiating the apportionment of expenses and funding for the provision of library services. Under this section, both the city and county may levy taxes as provided in 22-1-304, and there is no statutory exemption from the county levy for property located in the city. 47 A.G. Op. 6 (1997). However, see 53 A.G. Op. 5 (2010), which held that when a city and county have entered into an agreement under which the city provides a building and services for a branch of the county library, the city's withdrawal from the agreement alone does not allow the city to exempt city property from the county library tax levy pursuant to 22-1-313. Instead, the city must create or have its own existing "tax-supported public library" and must notify the county of its desire to not participate in the county library system.

Creation of Multijurisdictional Service District Within Existing Library District to Increase Allowable Mill Levy Improper: A multijurisdictional service district within an existing service district may not be created for the purpose of increasing the total mill levy within the existing district when the proposed service district would not increase the existing service area, serve people not currently receiving the service, or equalize the tax burden among those who would use the service. 44 A.G. Op. 11 (1991).

Statement of Intent: The statement of intent attached to SB 88 (Ch. 373, L. 1981) provided: "A statement of intent is required for this bill because it provides for rulemaking in section 2 [22-1-413]. When the provisions being amended by this bill were adopted, it was intended that the formula for allocating appropriations to library federations would be used. The formula proved to be unworkable and has not been in use. Therefore, there is a need for rules to provide guidance for the allocation of funding, to establish funding formulas, and to determine what type of grant programs should be implemented. The rules authorized by this bill should address the preceding concerns and should incorporate flexibility because the needs change and the funding should accommodate the varying needs."

1985 Amendment: Inserted (2) requiring arts council to adopt rules to implement three sections.

1985 Statement of Intent: The statement of intent attached to Ch. 732, L. 1985, provided: "A statement of intent is required for this bill because section 22-2-303, MCA, is amended to include rulemaking by the Montana arts council to implement sections 1 and 2 of the bill [22-2-308 and 22-2-309].

The rules should address specific criteria that the Montana arts council intends to employ in determining whether local support is being given to public and private facilities and, if so, how much support is involved.

The rules must also address the requirements for matching funds, for both capital grants and challenge grants. Involved in these rules should be a method for an applicant to determine what constitutes donated goods and services, and what time periods for the receipt of gifts are involved to qualify for matching funds.

The rules should address the incremental disbursements of grants. Grantees must be able to conform their cash flow upon reliance of receipt of regular grant disbursements, and to this end the Montana arts council should in the rules provide explanations of proper allowable costs and proper unexpended prior grant balances it will examine prior to making further disbursements."

1983 Statement of Intent: The statement of intent attached to HB 110 (Ch. 99, L. 1983) read: "A statement of intent is required for this bill because it grants rulemaking authority to the Montana Historical Society and the Montana Arts Council for the purpose of specifying the criteria the advisory committee shall use when evaluating and making recommendation on cultural and aesthetic grant proposals submitted to the legislature.

It is contemplated that the Montana Historical Society and the Montana Arts Council will adopt rules that specify the following general criteria that the advisory committee will consider in making recommendations:

(1) Quality - ability/experience of project staff; excellence of performers.

(2) Cultural impact - how important is the project to the cultural development of the state? Will the project stimulate a large number of people or a number of communities?

(3) Project diversity - a variety of different interests and disciplines should be served.

(4) Geographical diversity - to the extent possible, the grants should assist the entire state.

(5) Project costs - if grant funds are limited, some preference should be given to projects requiring smaller grants.

(6) Seed money requests - will a grant enable the project or its sponsors to generate other funds or otherwise to make the project self-supporting?

(7) Availability/appropriateness - have applicants attempted to procure other funds? Are there other sources that are appropriate?

(8) Self-help - does the applicant seek full funding from coal tax funds, or has he arranged alternate financing to the extent possible?

(9) Creativity - is the project so innovative, beneficial, and practical that by example it will stimulate other projects?"

Authority to Classify Positions of State Librarian and Director of Montana Historical Society: Although repeals by implication are not favored, it would frustrate the purpose of the classification and pay plan law to hold that the positions of state librarian and Director of the Montana Historical Society are exempt from classification when the Legislature has not expressly approved such exemption in 2-18-103. Thus, the provisions of 22-3-107 and 22-1-102, which authorize the Board of Trustees of the historical society and the State Library Commission to set salary, are superseded by the classification and pay plan law, Title 2, ch. 18, parts 1

Severability: Section 15, Ch. 563, L. 1979, was a severability clause.

Statement of Intent: The statement of intent attached to HB 785 (Ch. 563, L. 1979) provided in part: "HB 785 formally establishes the Historic Preservation Office and identifies its duties and responsibilities. This bill is not creating a new office, but simply renames the old one to conform with the accepted title shared by similar offices in states throughout the country. The duties and responsibilities are also the same and are those established by federal rules and regulations for Historic Preservation offices in all states and trust territories. Such duties and responsibilities are necessary for the state to qualify for historic preservation grant monies appropriated by Congress each year.

HB 785 requires that the State Historic Preservation Office maintain the required staffing to assure that federal funds will continue to come into Montana. As written, the committee is assured that the State Historic Preservation Office must meet the requirements, even if changes should be made when the legislature is not in session.

The proposed bill departs from the current Antiquities Act in the establishment of a Preservation Review Board, in concert with the federal designation.

The proposed Review Board will be increased to nine members, of which a majority are professionals trained in fields relating to historic preservation and archaeology. The bill mandates that one member will be the State Liaison Officer for the federal Land and Water Conservation Fund, and although it is not a federal requirement, the inclusion of the Liaison Officer is particularly important in Montana. The Liaison Officer is the Parks Director at the Department of Fish and Game [now the Department of Fish, Wildlife, and Parks], and since many of the state parks and monuments are established around historic sites, participation of the Liaison Officer on the Review Board is crucial in coordinating efforts in the state.

The proposed legislation continues the Antiquities Permit section as exists in the current Antiquities Act, but this bill will clarify provisions for who qualifies for a permit and the permit system is expanded to include all state lands rather than only registered properties.

HB 785 will substitute the National Register of Historic Places for the little-known state register as the official listing of important historic or heritage properties. The adoption of the National Register designation will simplify the registering system and avoid needless duplication of efforts.

The proposed bill continues the penalties sections but increases protection for private landowners and allows prosecution for violation on private lands.

Most importantly, the bill provides for state agency participation in the protection of heritage properties through a coordinated effort with the Historic Preservation Office. Coordination and cooperation is essential in assuring adequate consideration of heritage properties and paleontological remains in the everyday affairs of state government."

Responsibility for Identification of Potential Heritage Property: The historic preservation officer is required by 22-3-423 and 22-3-424 to share with state agencies the responsibility for identification of potential heritage properties on state-owned lands, and that responsibility may not be limited by an agency policy which restricts or abolishes the historic preservation officer's identification authority. 41 A.G. 1983 Amendment: Inserted (9) authorizing historic preservation officer to adopt rules outlining procedures for agencies without rules to consider state-owned heritage properties or paleontological remains and avoid actions altering such properties.

1983 Statement of Intent: The statement of intent attached to SB 246 (Ch. 351, L. 1983) provided: "The primary purpose of the bill is to ensure that systematic consideration of heritage properties on state-owned land occurs in state agency planning and actions. The bill provides that agencies that do not choose to prepare their own regulations to afford systematic consideration to heritage properties on state lands adhere to general rules prepared by the Historical Society.

The rules promulgated pursuant to this bill should ensure that:

(a) the decision on whether to undertake a professional cultural resources inventory or site evaluation prior to a potentially harmful action is made by the agency in consultation with the Society;

(b) any heritage properties identified on state land are afforded direct consideration in an agency's decision on whether or how to undertake an action; and

(c) when feasible, damage to heritage properties is avoided or subject to an appropriate form of mitigation.

The rules are not intended to require a single course of action by the agency or absolute protection of all identified heritage properties.

The rules promulgated by either state agencies or the Historical Society should have as common elements:

(a) a requirement that prior to taking an action affecting state land or property, state agencies will check with the Historical Society to determine the presence or absence of previously identified historic or prehistoric resources, the relative value of any previously identified sites or buildings, and whether a field inventory or further site evaluation needs to occur to determine whether heritage properties might be impacted;

(b) a requirement that the Historical Society provide the information requested within a specified time and in a precise format;

(c) a requirement that each state agency have a system for making and documenting decisions on whether heritage properties identified as being affected by an agency decision or action can be afforded protection, avoidance, reuse, rehabilitation, or recording prior to impact and that the system adopted permits the Historical Society [to] comment to the agency on their decision; [and]

(d) a method for adjudicating differences in instances where the value of jeopardized sites appears to be high.

This bill would be applicable to state agencies in two separate contexts: decisions on remodeling or demolition of historic state-owned buildings and decisions made by state land managing agencies relative to leases, easements, access, [and] development.

In the case of the Montana University System, "rule" means procedures included in the Montana University System Policies and Procedures Manual through the formal and public process used by the Regents for that purpose."

1979 Statement of Intent: The statement of intent attached to HB 785 (Ch. 563, L. 1979) provided in part: "Section 6 [22-3-423] authorizes the historic preservation officer to carry out and enforce the provisions of sections 3 through 16 [2-15-1512(part), all sections in this part, repealer, and severability clause]. This may be done by rule."
